THE PREFACE

O R,

AN ENQUIRY into the right Way of fitting the Book of PSALMS for Christian Worship.

H O' the Psalms of David are a Work of admirable and divine Composure, tho' they contain the noblest Sentiments of Piety, and breathe a most exalted Spirit of Devotion, yet when the best of Christians attempt to sing many of them in our common Translations, that Spirit of Devotion vanishes and is lost, the Psalm dies upon their Lips, and they feel scarce any thing of the holy Pleasure.

I F I were to render the Reasons of it, I would give this for one of the chief, (viz.) that the Royal Psalmist here expresses his own
Concerns in Words exactly suited to his own

Thoughts, agreeable to his own personal Character, and in the Language of his own Religion : This keeps all the Springs of pious Passion awake, when every Line and Syllable so nearly affects himself : This naturally raises in a devout Mind a more transporting and sublime Worship. But when we sing the same Lines, we express nothing but the Character, the Concerns, and the Religion of the Jewish King, while our own Circumstances and our own Religion (which are so widely different from his) have little to do in the sacred Song ; and our Affections want something of Property or Interest in the Words, to awaken them at first, and to keep them lively.

I F this Attempt of mine, thro' the divine Blessing, become so happy as to remove this great Inconvenience, and to introduce warm Devotion into this Part of divine Worship, I shall esteem it an honourable Service done to the Church of Christ.

'T IS necessary therefore that I should here inform my Readers at large what the Title Page expresseth in a shorter Way, and assure them that they are not to expect in this Book an exact Translation of the Psalms of David ; for if I had not conceived a different Design from all that have gone before me in this Work, I had never attempted a Service so full of Labour, tho' I must confess it has not wanted its Pleasure too.

I N order to give a plain Account of my present Undertaking I shall first represent the Methods that my Predecessors have followed, lowed in their Versions: In the next place I hope to make it evident that those Methods can never attain the noblest and highest Ends of Christian Psalmody; and then describe the Course that I have taken, different from them all, together with some brief Hints of the Reasons that induced me to it.

First, I will represent the Methods that my Predecessors have followed. I have seen above twenty Versions of the Psalter by Persons of richer and meaner Talents; and how various soever their Professions and their Prefaces are, yet in the Performance they all seem to aim at this one Point, (viz.) to make the Hebrew Psalmist only speak English, and keep all his own Characters still. Wheresoever the Psalm introduces him as a Soldier or a Prophet, as a Shepherd or a great Musician, as a King on the Throne or as a Fugitive in the Wilderness, the Translators ever represent him in the same Circumstances: Some of them lead an Assembly of common Christians to worship God as near as possible in those very Words; and they generally agree also to perform and repeat that Worship in the ancient Jewish Forms, wherever the Psalmist uses them.

THERE are several Psalms indeed which have scarce any thing in them personal or peculiar to David or the Jews, such as Psf. i. xix. xxv. xxxvii. lxvii. c. &c. and these if translated into the plain national Language are very proper Materials for Psalmody in all Times and Places ; but there are but a few of this Kind in Comparison of the great Number which have something of Personal Concerns, Prophetical Darknesses, Hebraisms, or Jewish Affairs mingled with them.

I confess Mr. Milbourn and Mr. Darby in very different Verse have now and then given an Evangelic Turn to the Hebrew Sense ; and Dr. Patrick hath gone much beyond them in this Respect, that he hath made use of the present Language of Christians in several Psalms, and left out many of the Judaisms. This is the Thing that hath introduced him into the Favour of so many religious Assemblies. Even those very Persons that have an Aversion to sing any thing in Worship but David's Psalms have been led insensibly to fall in with Dr. Patrick's Performance by a Relish of pious Pleasure ; never considering that his Work is by no means a just Translation, but a Paraphrase ; and there are scarce any that have departed farther from the inspired Words of Scripture than he hath often done, in order to suit his Thoughts to the State and Worship of Christianity. This I esteem his peculiar Excellency in those Psalms wherein he has practis'd it. This I have made my chief Care and Business in every Psalm, and have attempted at least to exceed him in this as well as in the Art of Verse ; and yet I have often kept nearer to the Text.

BUT

BUT after all, this good Man hath suffer'd himself so far to be carried away by Custom, as to make all the other personal Characters and Circumstances of David appear strong and plain, except that of a Jew; and many of them he has represented in stronger and plainer Terms than the Original. This will appear to any one that compares these following Texts in Dr. Patrick with the Bible, (viz.) Psal. iv. 2. and ix. 4, 5. and xviii. 43. and li. 4. and lx. 6, 7. and ci. 1. and cxli. 6. and cxliii. 3. and several others: So that 'tis hard to find even in his Version six or eight Stanza's together in any Psalm (that has personal or national Affairs in it) fit to be assumed by a vulgar Christian, or proper to be sung by a whole Congregation. This renders the due Performance of Psalmody every where difficult to him that appoints the Verses: But 'tis extremely troublesome in those Assemblies where the Psalm is sung without reading it Line by Line, which yet is, beyond all Exception, the truest and the best Method; for here there can be no Omision of a Verse, tho' it be never so improper; but the whole Church must run down to the next Division of the Psalm, and sing all that comes next to their Lips, till the Clerk puts them to Silence. Or to remedy this Inconvenience, if a wise Man leads the Song, he dwells always upon four or five and twenty Pieces of some select Psalms, tho' the whole 150 lie before him; and he is forced to run that narrow Round still for want of larger Provision suited to our present Circumstances.

I might here also remark to what a hard Shift the Minister is put to find proper Hymns at the Celebration of the Lord's-Supper, where the People will sing nothing but out of David's Psalm-Book: How perpetually do they repeat some part of the xxiii^d or the cxviiith Psalm? And confine all the glorious Joy and Melody of that Ordinance to a few obscure Lines, because the Translators have not indulg'd an Evangelical Turn to the Words of David; no not in those very Places where the Jewish Psalmist seems to mean the Gospel; but he was not able to speak it plain by reason of the Infancy of that Dispensation, and longs for the Aid of a Christian Poet. Tho', to speak my own Sense freely, I do not think David ever wrote a Psalm of sufficient Glory and Sweetness to represent the Blessings of this holy Institution of Christ, even tho' it were explain'd by a copious Commentator; therefore 'tis my Opinion, that other Spiritual Songs should sometimes be us'd to render Christian Psalmody compleat. But this is not my present Business, and I have written on this Subject elsewhere.

To proceed to the Second Part of my Preface, which is to shew how insufficient a strict Translation of the Psalms is to attain the design'd End.

THERE are several Songs of this Royal Author that seem improper for any Person besides himself; so that I cannot believe that the Whole Book of Psalms (even in the Original) was appointed by God for the ordinary and constant Worship of the Jewish Sanctuary or the Synagogues, tho' several of them might be often sung; much less are they all proper for a Christian Church: Yet the Way of a close Translation of this whole Book of Hebrew Psalms for English Psalmody has generally obtain'd among us.
the

SOME pretend, 'tis but a just Respect to the holy Scriptures; for they have imbib'd a fond Opinion from their very Childhood, that nothing is to be sung at Church but the inspir'd Writings, how different soever the Sense is from our present State. But this Opinion has been taken upon Trust by the most part of its Advocates, and borrow'd chiefly from Education, Custom, and the Authority of others; which, if duly examin'd, will appear to have been built upon too slight and feeble Foundations; the Weakness of it I shall shew more at large in another Place: but it appears of itself more eminently inconsistent in those Persons that scruple to address God in Prose in any precompos'd Forms whatsoever, and they give this Reason, Because they cannot be fitted to all our Occasions; and yet in Verse they confine their Addresses to such Forms as were fitted chiefly for Jewish Worshippers, and for the special Occasions of David the King.

OTHERS maintain that a strict and scrupulous Confinement to the Sense of the Original is necessary to do Justice to the Royal Author; but in my Judgment the Royal Author is most honour'd when he is made most intelligible ; and when his admirable Compositions are copy'd in such Language as gives Light and Joy to the Saints that live two thousand Years after him ; whereas such a meer Translation of all his Verse into English to be sung in our Worship seems to darken our Religion, to damp our Delight, and forbid the Christian Worshipper to pursue the Song. How can we assume all his Words in our personal or publick Addresses to God, when our Condition of Life, our Time, Place and Religion are so vastly different from those of David ?

I grant 'tis necessary and proper, that in translating every Part of Scripture for our Reading or Hearing, the Sense of the Original should be exactly and faithfully represented ; for there we learn what God says to us in his Word : But in Singing for the most part the Case is alter'd : For as the greatest Number of the Psalms are devotional, and there the Psalmists express their own personal or national Concerns ; so we are taught by their Example what is the chief Design of Psalmody, (viz.) that we should represent our own sense of things in Singing, and address ourselves to God expressing our own Case ; therefore the Words should be so far adapted to the general State of the Worshippers, as that we might seldom sing those Expressions in which we have no Concern : Or at least our Translators of the Psalms should observe this Rule, that when the peculiar Circumstances of antient Saints are

are form'd into a Song for our present and publick Use, they should be related in an historical Manner; and not retain the personal Pronouns I and We, where the Transactions cannot belong to any of us, nor be apply'd to our Persons, Churches or Nation.

Moses, Deborah and the Princes of Israel, David, Asaph and Habakkuk, and all the Saints under the Jewish State, sung their own Joys and Victories, their own Hopes and Fears and Deliverances, as I hinted before; and why must we under the Gospel sing nothing else but the Joys, Hopes and Fears of Asaph and David? Why must Christians be forbid all other Melody, but what arises from the Victories and Deliverances of the Jews? David would have thought it very hard to have been confin'd to the Words of Moses, and sung nothing else on all his Rejoycing-days but the Drowning of Pharaoh in the Fifteenth of Exodus. He might have suppos'd it a little unreasonable when he had peculiar Occasions of mournfull Musick, if he had been forced to keep close to Moses's Prayer in the Ninetieth Psalm, and always sung over the Shortness of human Life, especially if he were not permitted the Liberty of a Paraphrase; and yet the special Concerns of David and Moses were much more akin to each other than ours are to either of them, and they were both of the same Religion, but ours is very different.

It is true, that David has left us a richer Variety of holy Songs than all that went before him; but rich as it is, 'tis still far short

short of the glorious Things that we Christians have to sing before the Lord. We and our Churches have our own special Affairs as well as they: Now if by a little Turn of their Words, or by the Change of a short Sentence we may express our own Meditations, Joys and Desires in the Verse of those antient Psalmists, why should we be forbid this sweet Priviledge? Why should we be ty'd up to Forms more than the Jews themselves were, and such as are much more improper for our Age and State too? Let us remember that the very Power of Singing was given to human Nature chiefly for this purpose, that our warmest Affections of Soul might break out into natural or divine Melody, and the Tongue of the Worshipper express his own Heart.

I confess 'tis not unlawful nor absurd for a Person of Knowledge and Skill in divine Things to sing any Part of the Jewish Psalm-Book, and consider it meerly as the Word of God; from which by wise Meditation he may draw some pious Inferences for his own Use: For Instruction is allow'd to be one End of Psalmody. But where the Words are obscure Hebraisms, or personate a Jew, a Soldier, or a King speaking to himself or to God, this Mode of Instruction in a Song seems not so natural or easy even to the most skillfull Christian, and 'tis almost impracticable to the greatest Part of Mankind: And both the Wise and the Weak must confess this, that it does by no means raise their own Devotion so well as if they were speaking

ing in their own Persons and expressing their own Sense: Besides that, the weaker Christian is ready to chime in with the Words he sings, and use them as his own, tho' they are never so foreign to his Purpose.

Now tho' it cannot be, that a large Book of lively Devotions should be so framed as to have every Line perfectly suited to all the Circumstances of every Worshipper, but after the Writer's utmost Care there will still be room for Christian Wisdom to exercise the Thoughts aright in Singing when the Words seem improper to our particular Case; yet as far as possible every Difficulty of this Kind should be removed, and such Sentences should by no Means be chosen which can scarce be used in their proper Sense by any that are present.

I could never persuade myself that the best Way to raise a devout Frame in plain Christians was to bring a King or a Captain into their Churches, and let him lead and dictate the Worship in his own Style of Royalty, or in the Language of a Field of Battel. Does every menial Servant in the Assembly know how to use these Words devoutly, (viz.) When I receive the Congregation I will judge uprightly, Psalm lxxv. 2. A Bow of Steel is broken by mine Arms, ---- As soon as they hear of me they shall obey me, Psalm xviii. 34, 44. Would I encourage a Parish-Clerk to stand up in the midst of a Country Church, and bid all the People joyn with his Words and say, I will praise thee upon a Psaltery; or, I will open my dark
Saying

Saying upon the Harp; when even our Cathedrals sing only to the Sound of an Organ, most of the meaner Churches can have no Music but the Voice, and others will have none besides? Why then must all that will sing a Psalm at Church use such Words as if they were to play upon Harp and Psaltery, when Thousands never saw such an Instrument, and know nothing of the Art? You will tell me, perhaps, that when you take these Expressions upon your Lips, you mean only, That you will worship God according to his Appointment now, even as David worshipped him in his Day according to God's Appointment then. But why will ye confine yourselves to speak one thing and mean another? Why must we be bound up to such Words as can never be address'd to God in their own Sense? And since the Heart of a Christian cannot joyn herein with his Lips, Why may not his Lips be led to speak his Heart? Experience itself has often shewn that it interrupts the holy Melody and spoils the Devotion of many a sincere Good Man or Woman, when in the midst of the Song some Speeches of David have been almost impos'd upon their Tongues, where he relates his own Troubles, his Banishment, or peculiar Deliverances; where he speaks like a Prince, a Musician, or a Prophet; or where the Sense is so obscure that it cannot be understood without a learned Commentator.

HERE I may with Courage address myself to the Heart and Conscience of many pious

pious and observing Christians, and ask them, Whether they have not found a most divine Pleasure in Singing, when the Words of the Psalm have happily express'd their Frame of Soul? Have you not felt a new Joy spring within you when you could speak your own Desires and Hopes, your own Faith, Love and Zeal in the Language of the holy Psalmist? Have not your Spirits taken Wing, and mounted up near to God and Glory with the Song of David on your Tongue? But on a sudden the Clerk has proposed the next Line to your Lips with dark Sayings and Prophecies, with Burnt-Offerings or Hyssop, with New-Moons, and Trumpets and Timbrels in it, with Confession of Sins which you never committed, with Complaints of Sorrows such as you never felt, curfing such Enemies as you never had, giving Thanks for such Victories as you never obtained, or leading you to speak in your own Persons of Things, Places and Actions, that you never knew. And how have all your Souls been discomposed at once, and the Strings of Harmony all untuned! You could not proceed in the Song with your Hearts, and your Lips have sunk their Joy and faltered in the Tune; you have been baulked and ashamed, and knew not whether it were best to be silent or to follow on with the Clerk and the Multitude, and sing with cold Devotion, and perhaps in Darkness too, without Thought or Meaning.

LET it be reply'd here, That to prevent this Inconvenience, such Psalms or Sentences may

may be always omitted by him that leads the Song, or may have a more usefull Turn given in the Mind of those that sing. But I answer, Since such Psalms or Sentences are not to be sung, they may be as well omitted by the Translator, or may have a more usefull Turn given in the Verse than it is possible for all the Singers to give on a sudden: And this is all that I contend for.

I come therefore to the Third thing I proposed, and that is to explain my own Design; which in short is this; (viz.) To accommodate the Book of Psalms to Christian Worship: And in order to this 'tis necessary to divest David and Asaph, &c. of every other Character but that of a Psalmist and a Saint, and to make them always speak the common Sense and Language of a Christian.

ATTEMPTING the Work with this View I have entirely omitted several whole Psalms, and large Pieces of many others; and have chosen out of all of them such Parts only as might easily and naturally be accommodated to the various Occasions of the Christian Life, or at least might afford us some beautifull Allusion to Christian Affairs: These I have copied and explained in the general Style of the Gospel; nor have I confined my Expressions to any particular Party or Opinion; that in Words prepared for public Worship and for the Lips of Multitudes, there might not be a Syllable offensive to sincere Christians whose Judgments may differ in the lesser Matters of Religion.

WHERE the Psalmist uses sharp Invectives against his personal Enemies, I have endeavoured to turn the Edge of them against our spiritual Adversaries, Sin, Satan and Temptation. Where the Flights of his Faith and Love are sublime, I have often sunk the Expressions within the reach of an ordinary Christian. Where the Words imply some peculiar Wants or Distresses, Joys or Blessings, I have used Words of greater Latitude and Comprehension suited to the general Circumstances of Men.

WHERE the Original runs in the Form of Prophecy concerning Christ and his Salvation, I have given an Historical Turn to the Sense: There is no necessity that we should always sing in the obscure and doubtful Style of Prediction, when the Things foretold are brought into open Light by a full Accomplishment. Where the Writers of the New Testament have cited or alluded to any part of the Psalms, I have often indulged the Liberty of Paraphrase according to the Words of Christ or his Apostles. And surely this may be esteemed the Word of God still, tho' borrowed from several parts of the Holy Scripture. Where the Psalmist describes Religion by the Fear of God, I have often joyn'd Faith and Love to it. Where he speaks of the Pardon of Sin thro' the Mercies of God, I have added the Merits of a Saviour. Where he talks of sacrificing Goats or Bullocks, I rather chuse to mention the Sacrifice of Christ the Lamb of God. When he attends the Ark with Shouting

Shouting into Zion, I sing the Ascension of my Saviour into Heaven, or his Presence in his Church on Earth. Where he promises abundance of Wealth, Honour and long Life, I have changed some of these typical Blessings for Grace, Glory and Life Eternal, which are brought to Light by the Gospel, and promised in the New Testament: And I am fully satisfied that more Honour is done to our blessed Saviour by speaking his Name, his Graces and Actions in his own Language, according to the brighter Discoveries he hath now made, than by going back again to the Jewish Forms of Worship, and the Language of Types and Figures.

ALL Men will confess this is just and necessary in Preaching and Praying; and I cannot find a Reason why we should not sing Praises also in a manner agreeable to the present and more glorious Dispensation. No Man can be persuaded, that to read a Sermon of the Royal Preacher out of the Book of Ecclesiastes, or a Prayer out of Ezra or Daniel is so edifying to a Christian Church (tho' they were inspired) as a well-compos'd Prayer or Sermon deliver'd in the usual Language of the Gospel of Christ. And why should the very Words of the Sweet-Singer of Israel be esteem'd so necessary to Christian Psalmody, and the Jewish Style so much preferable to the Evangelical in our religious Songs of Praise?

Now since it appears so plain that the Hebrew Psalter is very improper to be the precise Matter and Style of our Songs in a
Christian

Christian Church; and since there is very good Reason to believe that it is left us not only as a most valuable Part of the Word of God for our Faith and Practice, but as an admirable and divine Pattern of spiritual Songs and Hymns under the Gospel, I have chosen rather to imitate than to translate; and thus to compose a Psalms-book for Christians after the Manner of the Jewish Psalter.

IF I could be perswaded that nothing ought to be sung in worship but what was of immediate Inspiration from God, surely I would recommend Anthems only, (viz.) the Psalms themselves as we read them in the Bible, set to Musick as they are sung by Choristers in our Cathedral Churches: For these are nearest to the Words of Inspiration; and we must depart far from those Words if we turn them into Rhyme and Metre of any Sort. And upon the foot of this Argument even The Scotch Version which has been so much commended for its Approach to the Original, would be unlawful as well as others.

BUT since I believe that any Divine Sentence or Christian Verse agreeable to Scripture may be sung, tho' it be composed by Men uninspired, I have not been so curious and exact in striving every where to express the antient Sense and Meaning of David, but have rather expressed myself as I may suppose David would have done, had he lived in the Days of Christianity. And by this means perhaps I have sometimes hit upon the true Intent of the Spirit of God in those Verses, farther

farther and clearer than David himself could ever discover, as St. Peter encourages me to hope. 1 Pet. i. 11, 12. In several other Places I hope my Reader will find a natural Exposition of many a dark and doubtfull Text, and some new Beauties and Connexions of Thought discovered in the Jewish Poet, tho' not in the Language of a Jew. In all Places I have kept my grand Design in View, and that is to teach my Author to speak like a Christian. For why should I now address God my Saviour in a Song with burnt Sacrifices of Fatlings and with the Incense of Rams? Why should I pray to be sprinkled with Hyssop, or recur to the Blood of Bullocks and Goats? Why should I bind my Sacrifice with Cords to the Horns of an Altar, or sing the Praises of God to high sounding Cymbals, when the Gospel has shewn me a nobler Atonement for Sin, and appointed a purer and more spiritual Worship? Why must I joyn with David in his Legal or Prophetic Language to curse my Enemies, when my Saviour in his Sermons has taught me to love and bless them? Why may not a Christian omit all those Passages of the Jewish Psalmist that tend to fill the Mind with overwhelming Sorrows, despairing Thoughts, or bitter personal Resentments, none of which are well suited to the Spirit of Christianity, which is a Dispensation of Hope and Joy and Love? What need is there that I should wrap up the shining Honours of my Redeemer in the dark and shadowy Language of a Religion that

that is now for ever abolished; especially when Christians are so vehemently warned in the Epistles of St. Paul against a Judaizing Spirit in their Worship as well as Doctrine? And what Fault can there be in enlarging a little on the more usefull Subjects in the Style of the Gospel, where the Psalm gives any Occasion, since the Whole Religion of the Jews is censur'd often in the New Testament as a defective and imperfect Thing?

T H O' I have aimed to provide for a Variety of Affairs in the Christian Life by the different Metres, Paraphrases, and Divisions of the Psalms, (of which I shall speak particularly) yet after all, there are a great many Circumstances that attend Common Christians, which cannot be agreeably exprest by any Paraphrase on the Words of David; and for these I have endeavoured to provide in my Book of Hymns, that Christians might have something to sing in Divine Worship answerable to most or all their Occasions: In the Preface to that Book I have shewn the Insufficiency of the common Versions of the Psalms, and given further Reasons for my present Attempt.

I am not so vain as to expect that the few short Hints I have mentioned in that Preface or in this should be sufficient to justify my Performances in the Judgment of all Men, nor to convince and satisfy those who have long maintained different Sentiments. All the Favour therefore that I desire of my Readers is this, that they would

would not censure this Work till they have read my Discourse of Psalmody, which I hope will shortly be publish'd ; but let them read it with serious Attention, and bring with them a generous and sincere Soul, ready to be convinced and to receive Truth where soever it can be found. In that Treatise I have given a large and particular Account how the Psalms of Jewish Composure ought to be translated for Christian Worship, and justify'd the Rules I lay down by such Reasons as seem to carry in them most plentiful Evidence and a fair Conviction.

I F I might presume so much, I would entreat them also to forget their younger Prejudices for a Season, so far as to make a few Experiments of these Songs ; and try whether they are not suited thro' Divine Grace to kindle in them a Fire of Zeal and Love, and to exalt the willing Soul to an Evangelic Temper of Joy and Praise. And if they shall find by sweet Experience any devout Affections raised, and a holy Frame of Mind awakened within them by these Attempts of Christian Psalmistry, I persuade myself that I shall receive their Thanks, and be assisted by their Prayers towards the Recovery of my Health and my publick Labours in the Church of Christ. Whatsoever Sentiments they had formerly entertain'd, yet surely they will not suffer their old and doubtful Opinions to prevail against their own inward Sensations of Piety and religious Joy.

BEFORE I conclude I must add a few Things concerning my Division of the Psalms and my Manner of Versifying.

Of the Division of the Psalms.

IN many of these sacred Songs it is evident that the Psalmist had several distinct Cases in View at the same time. As Psalm lxxv. the first four or five Verses describe the Temple Worship of Prayer and Praise: The following Verses represent the Providence of God in the Seasons of the Year. So in Psalm lxxviii. the first six Verses declare the Majesty and Mercy of God, and from the 7th Verse to the 16th Israel is brought from Egypt to fix divine Worship at Jerusalem. The 17th and 18th are a Prophecy of the Ascension of Christ. Verse 24, &c. describes a Religious Procession, &c. The like may be observed in many other Psalms; especially such as represent some complicated Sorrows or Joys of the Psalmist. Now it is not to be supposed that Christians should have all the same distinct Occasions of Meditation, Complaint or Praise; much less all at the same time to be mentioned before God. Therefore I have divided many Psalms into several Parts, and disposed them into distinct Hymns on those various Subjects that may be proper Matter for Christian Psalmody.

BESIDES, that excessive long Tone of Voice that stretches out every Syllable in our publick Singing allows us neither Time nor Spirits to sing above six or eight Stanza's at once ; and sometimes we make use of but three or four : Therefore I have reduced almost all the Work into Hymns of such a Length as may suit the usual Custom of the Churches ; that they may not sing broken Fragments of Sense, as is too often done, and spoil the Beauty of this Worship ; but may finish a whole Song and Subject at once.

FOR this End I have been forced to transpose some of the Verses ; and by this means (some will object) that I have left out some usefull and significant Lines. Perhaps so. But if I had not, the Clerk would have left 'em out, to save the Time for other Parts of Worship : And I desire but the same Liberty which he has to chuse which Verses shall be sung. Yet I think it will be seldom found that I have omitted any usefull Psalm or Verse whose Sense is not abundantly repeated in other Parts of the Book ; and what I have left out in one Metre I have often inserted in another.

WHEN the Occasion or Subject are much the same throughout a long Psalm, I have either abridged the Verses, or divided the Psalm by Pauses after the French Manner, (where the Sense would admit an Interruption) that the Worship may not be tiresome.

Of the Verse.

I resign to Sir John Denham the Honour of the best Poet, if he had given his Genius but a just Liberty; yet his Work will ever shine brightest among those that have confined themselves to a meer Translation. But that close Confinement has often forbid the Freedom and Glory of Verse, and by cramping his Sense has render'd it sometimes too obscure for a plain Reader and the publick Worship, even tho' we lived in the Days of David and Judaism. These Inconveniences he himself suspects and fears in the Preface.

I am content to yield to Mr. Milbourne the Preference of his Poesy in many Parts of his Psalms, and to Mr. Tate and Dr. Brady in some of theirs. But in those very Places their Turns of Thought and Language are too much raised above a vulgar Audience, and fit only for Persons of an higher Education.

I have not refused in some few Psalms to borrow a single Line or two from these three Authors; yet I have taken the most Freedom of that sort with Dr. Patrick, for his Style best agrees with my Design, tho' his Verse be generally of a lower Strain. But where I have used three or four Lines together of any Author, I have acknowledged it in the Notes.

IN some of the more elevated Psalms I have given a little Indulgence to my Genius; and if it should appear that I have aimed at the Sublime, yet I have generally kept within the Reach of an unlearned Reader: I never thought the Art of sublime Writing consisted in flying out of Sight; nor am I of the Mind of the Italian, who said, Obscurity begets Greatness. I have always avoided the Language of the Poets where it did not suit the Language of the Gospel.

IN many of these Composures I have just permitted my Verse to rise above a Flat and indolent Style; yet I hope it is every where supported above the just Contempt of the Criticks; tho' I am sensible that I have often subdu'd it below their Esteem; because I would neither indulge any bold Metaphors, nor admit of hard Words, nor tempt an ignorant Worshipper to sing without his Understanding.

THO' I have attempted to imitate the sacred Beauties of my Author in some of the sprightly Psalms, such as Psal. 45, 46, 49, 65, 72, 90, 91, 104, 114, 115, 139, &c. yet if my youthfull Readers complain that they expected to find here more elegant and beautiful Descriptions with which the sacred Original abounds, let them consider that some of those Pieces of descriptive Poesy are the flowry Elegancies peculiar to Eastern Nations and antique Ages, and are much too large also to be brought into such short Christian Sonnets as are used in our present Worship; almost all those Psalms I have contracted and fitted to more spiritual Devotion, as Psf. 18, 68, 73, 78, 105, 106, 109, &c.

Of the Metre and Rhyme.

I have formed my Verse in the three most usual Metres to which our Psalm-Tunes are fitted, (viz) The Common Metre, the Metre of the old 25th Psalm which I call Short Metre, and that of the old 100th Psalm which I call Long Metre.

Metre. Besides these I have done some few Psalms in Stanza's of six, eight, or twelve Lines, to the best of the old Tunes. Many of them I have also cast into two or three Metres, not by leaving out or adding two Syllables in a Line, whereby others have cramped or stretched their Verse to the Destruction of all Poesy; but I have made an intire new Song, and oftentimes in the different Metres I have indulged those different Senses in which Commentators have explained the inspired Author: And if in one Metre I have given the Loose to a Paraphrase, I have confin'd myself to my Text in the other.

IF I am charged by the Criticks for repeating the same Rhymes too often, let them consider, that the Words which continually recur in divine Poesy admit exceeding few Rhymes to them fit for sacred Use; these are, God, World, Flesh, Soul, Life, Death, Faith, Hope, Heaven, Earth, &c. which I think will make sufficient Apology; especially since I have coupled all my Lines by Rhymes much more than either Mr. Tate or Dr. Patrick have done, which is certainly most musical and agreeable to the Ear where Rhyme is used at all.

I must confess I have never yet seen any Version or Paraphrase of the Psalms, in their own Jewish Sense, so perfect as to discourage all further Attempts. But whoever undertakes the noble Work, let him bring with him a Soul devoted to Piety, an exalted Genius, and withal a studious Application. For David's Harp abhors a prophane Finger, and disdains to answer to an unskillfull or a careless Touch. A meaner Pen may imitate at a Distance, but a compleat Translation or a just Paraphrase demands a rich Treasury of Diction, an exalted Fancy, a quick Taste of devout Passion, together with a Judgment strict and severe to retrench every luxuriant Line, and to maintain a religious Sovereignty over the whole Work. Thus the Psalmist of Israel might arise in Great Britain in all his Hebrew Glory, and entertain the more knowing and polite Christians of our Age. But still I am bold to maintain the great Principle on which my present Work is founded; and that is, 'That if the brightest Genius on Earth or an Angel from Heaven should translate David, and keep close to the Sense and Style of the inspired Author, we should only obtain thereby a bright or heavenly Copy of the Devotions of the Jewish King; but it could never make the fittest Psalm-Book for a Christian People.

It was not my Design to exalt myself to the Rank and Glory of Poets; but I was ambitious to be a Servant to the Churches, and a Helper to the Joy of the meanest Christian. 'Tho' there are many gone before me that have taught the Hebrew Psalmist to speak English, yet I think I may assume this Pleasure of being the First who have brought down the Royal Author into the common Affairs of the Christian Life, and led the Psalmist of Israel into the Church of Christ, without any thing of a Jew about him. And whensoever there shall appear any Paraphrase of the Book of Psalms that hath more of the Savour of Piety, more of the Style and Spirit of the Gospel, with a superior rior Dignity of Verse, and yet the Lines as easy and flowing, and the Sense and Language as level to the lowest Capacity, I shall congratulate the World, and consent to say, Let this Attempt of mine be buried in Silence.

TILL such a Work arise, I must attend these Evangelic Songs (which have been the Labour of so many Years) with a devout Wish.

MAY that God who has favour'd me with Life and Capacity to finish this Work for the Service of his Churches after so many Years of tiresome Sickness and Confinement, accept this humble Offering from a thankfull Heart. May the Lord who dwelt of old amidst the Praises of Israel encourage and bless this Essay to assist Christians in the Work of Praise! And may his Churches exalt him here on Earth in the Language of his Gospel and his Grace, till they shall be called up to Heaven and the noble Society above! There David and Asaph have chang'd their antient Style, and the Song of Moses and of the Lamb are one: There the Jews joyn with the Nations to exalt their God and Redeemer in the Language of Angels and in Strains of compleat Glory. Amen.

Advertisement to the READERS.

THE chief Design of this Work was to improve Psalmody or Religious Singing, and to encourage the frequent Practice of it in public Assemblies and private Families with more Honour and Delight; yet the Author hopes the Reading of it may also entertain the Parlour and the Closet with devout Pleasure and and holy Meditations. Therefore he would request his Readers at proper Seasons to peruse it, thro'; and among 340 sacred Hymns, they may find out several that suit their own Case and Temper, or the Circumstances of their Families and Friends; they may teach their Children such as are proper for their Age, and by treasuring them in their Memory they may be furnish'd for pious Retirement, or may entertain their Friends with holy Melody.

Of chusing or finding the Psalm.

The Perusal of the whole Book will acquaint every Reader with the Author's Method, and by consulting the Index or Table of Contents at the End he may find Hymns very proper for many Occasions of the Christian Life and Worship, tho' no Copy of David's Psalter can provide for all.

Or if he remember the first Line of any Psalm, the Table of the first Lines will direct where to find it.

Or if any shall think it best to sing all the Psalms in order in Churches or Families, it may be done with profit; provided those Psalms be omitted that refer to special Occurrences of Nations, Churches or single Christians.

Of naming the Psalms.

Let the Number of the Psalm be named distinctly, together with the particular Metre, and particular Part of it: As for Instance; Let us sing the 33d Psalm, 2d Part. Common Metre; or, Let us sing the 91st Psalm, 1st Part, beginning at the Pause, or ending at the Pause; or, Let us sing the 84th Psalm as the 148th Psalm, &c. And then read over the first Stanza before you begin to sing, that the People may find it in their Books, whether you sing with or without reading Line by Line.
the

Of Dividing the Psalm.

If the Psalm be too long for the Time or Custom of Singing, there are Pauses in many of 'em at which you may properly rest: Or you may leave out those Verses which are included in Crotchets [] without disturbing the Sense: Or in some Places you may begin to sing at a Pause.

Do not always confine your selves to six Stanza's, but sing seven or eight, rather than confound the Sense and abuse the Psalm in solemn Worship.

Of the Manner of Singing.

It were to be wish'd that all Congregations and private Families would sing as they do in foreign Protestant Countries without reading Line by Line. Tho' the Author has done what he could to make the Sense compleat in every Line or two, yet many Inconveniencies will always attend this unhappy Manner of Singing: But where it cannot be alter'd, these two things may give some Relief.

First, Let as many as can do it bring Psalm-books with them, and look on the Words while they sing so far as to make the Sense compleat.

Secondly, Let the Clerk read the whole Psalm over aloud before he begins to parcel out the Lines, that the People may have some Notion of what they sing; and not be forced to drag on heavily thro' eight tedious Syllables without any Meaning, till the next Line come to give the Sense of them. It

It were to be wish'd also that we might not dwell so long upon every single Note, and produce the Syllables to such a tiresome Extent with a constant Uniformity of Time; which disgraces the Musick and puts the Congregation quite out of Breath in singing five or six Stanza's: whereas if the Method of Singing were but reformed to a greater Speed of Promunciation, we might often enjoy the Pleasure of a longer Psalm with less Expence of Time and Breath; and our Psalmody would be more agreeable to that of the antient Churches, more intelligible to others, and more delightfull to our selves.

The various Measures of the Verse are fitted to the Tunes of the Old PSALM-BOOK.

To the Common Tunes sing all entitled Common Metre.

To the Tunes of the 100th Psalm sing all entitled Long Metre.

To the Tune of the 25th Ps. sing Short Metre.

To the 50th Ps. sing one Metre of the 50th, 93d.

To the 112th or 127th Psalm sing one Metre of the 104th and 148th.

To the 113th Psalm sing one Metre of the 19th, 33d, 58th, 89th, last Part, 96th, 112th, 113th.

To the 122d Psalm sing one of the Metres of the 93d, 122d and 133d.

To the 148th Psalm sing one Metre of the 84th, 121st, 136th and 148th.

To a New Tune sing one Metre of the 50th and 115th.

Appoints his Saints a Place.

VII.

His Eye beholds the Path they tread,
His Heart approves it well;
But crooked Ways of Sinners lead
Down to the Gates of Hell.

In this Work I have often borrowed a Line or two from the New Testament; that the excellent and inspired Compositions of the Jewish Psalmist may be brighten'd by the clearer Discoveries of the Gospel.

 Blessings attend thy People here,
 And reach beyond the Grave.

In this Psalm I have changed David's personal Enemies into the spiritual Enemies of every Christian, (viz.) Sin, Satan. &c. and have mentioned the Serpent, the Tempter, the Guilt of Sin, and the Sting of Death, which are Words well known in the New Testament.

P S A L M III. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8. Long Metre.

A Morning Psalm.

I.

O LORD, how many are my Foes
 In this weak state of Flesh and Blood !
 My Peace they daily discompose,
 But my Defence and Hope is God.

II.

Tir'd with the Burdens of the Day
 To thee I rais'd an Evening Cry :
 'Thou heard'st when I began to pray,
 And thine Almighty Help was nigh.

III.

 I laid me down and slept secure :
 Not Death should make my Heart afraid
 Tho' I should wake and rise no more.

IV.

But God sustain'd me all the Night ;
 Salvation doth to God belong ;

He

He rais'd my Head to see the Light,
And make his Praise my Morning-Song.

In the 3d and 4th Psalm, there is a Verse or two that shew the one to be writ in the Morning, the other in the Evening, wherefore I have chesen out those Parts that seem most easily applicable, and have turn'd them into a Morning and Evening Song.

P S A L M IV. 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7. Long Metre.

Hearing of Prayer ; or, God our Portion, and Christ our Hope.

I.

O GOD of Grace and Righteousness,
Hear and attend when I complain:
Thou hast enlarg'd me in Distress,
Bow down a gracious Ear again.

II.

Ye Sons of Men, in vain ye try
To turn my Glory into Shame ;
How long will Scoffers love to lie,
And dare reproach my Saviour's Name ?

III.

Know that the Lord divides his Saints
From all the Tribes of Men beside ;
He hears the Cry of Penitents
For the dear Sake of Christ that dy'd.

IV.

When our obedient Hands have done
A Thousand Works of Righteousness,
We put our Trust in God alone,
And glory in his pard'ning Grace.

V.

Let the unthinking Many say,
"Who will bestow some Earthly Good?"
 But, Lord, thy Light and Love we pray;
 Our Souls desire this Heav'nly Food,

VI.

Then shall my chearful Powers rejoice,
 At Grace and Favour so divine,
 Nor will I change my happy Choice
 For all their Corn, and all their Wine.

Tho' this Psalm may not directly intend the Messiah, yet I have taken occasion to apply some Expressions in it to Christ and his Gospel, I hope with some Advantage, and without Offence.

An Evening Psalm.

I.

LORD, thou wilt hear me when I pray;

 From Cares and Business free,
 'Tis sweet conversing on my Bed
 With my own Heart and Thee.

III.

I pay this Evening Sacrifice;
 And when my Work is done,
 Great God, my Faith and Hope relies
 Upon thy Grace alone.

 I'll give mine Eyes to sleep; (Peace,
 Thy Hand in Safety keeps my Days,
 And will my Slumbers keep.

 Sinners shall ne'er be thy Delight,
 Nor dwell at thy Right-hand.

IV.

But to thy House will I resort
 To taste thy Mercies there;
 I will frequent thine holy Court,
 And worship in thy Fear.

 While those that in thy Mercy trust
 For ever shout for Joy.

VIII.

The Men that love and fear thy Name
 Shall see their Hopes fulfill'd ;
 The mighty God will compass them
 With Favour as a Shield.

This Psalm begins with the mention of Morning Prayer, and proceeds to the Worship of God in his Temple, which inclin'd me to entitle it, for a Lord's Day Morning.

St. 2. and 3. Where any just Occasion is given to make mention of Christ and the holy Spirit, I refuse it not ; and I am persuaded David would not have refused it, had he lived under the Gospel ; nor St. Paul, had he written a Psalm-Book.

Sorrow and Pain wear out my Days;
I waste the Night with Cries,
Counting the Minutes as they pass,
Till the slow Morning rise.

Nor is he known in Death.

Vexation by personal Enemies is not a constant Attendant of Sickness, therefore in this Version I have omitted it as a peculiar Circumstance of David's. In the next Version I have changed these Enemies for Temptations and despairing Thoughts.

The 5th Verse of this Psalm, which is a Plea in the Prayer, may be naturally transposed to the end, as a Ground of Praise.

When shall thine Hour of Grace return?
When shall I make thy Grace my Song?

How rich thy Bounties are!
And wond'rous are thy Ways :
Of Dust and Worms thy Power can frame
A Monument of Praise.

VII.

[Out of the Mouths of Babes
And Sucklings thou canst draw
Surprizing Honours to thy Name,
And strike the World with Awe.

VIII.

O Lord, our heavenly King,
Thy Name is all Divine :
Thy Glories round the Earth are spread,
And o'er the Heavens they shine.]

St. 7. The transposing of the 2^d Verse of this Psalm toward the End will not appear offensive, since the Connexion of it, with the other parts of the Psalm, appears so much more visible.

PSALM VIII. Common Metre.

*Christ's Condescension and Glorification; or,
God made Man.*

O LORD, our Lord, how wondrous great
Is thine exalted Name!
The Glories of thy heavenly State
Let Men and Babes proclaim.

II.

When I behold thy Works on high,
The Moon that rules the Night,
And Stars that well adorn the Sky,
Those moving Worlds of Light.

III.

Lord, what is Man or all his Race
Who dwells so far below,
That thou should'st visit him with Grace
And love his Nature so?

IV.

That thine Eternal Son should bear
To take a Mortal Form,
Made lower than his Angels are,
To save a dying Worm?

V.

Yet while he liv'd on Earth unknown
And Men would not adore,
Th' obedient Seas and Fishes own
His Godhead and his Power.

VI.

The Waves lay spread beneath his Feet;
 And Fish at his Command
 Bring their large Shoals to Peter's Net,
 Bring Tribute to his Hand.

VII.

These lesser Glories of the Son
 Shone thro' the fleshly Cloud;
 Now we behold him on his Throne,
 And Men confess him God.]

VIII.

Let him be crown'd with Majesty
 Who bow'd his Head to Death;
 And be his Honours sounded high,
 By all things that have Breath.

IX.

Jesus, our Lord, how wondrous great
 Is thine exalted Name!
 The Glories of thy Heavenly State
 Let the whole Earth proclaim.

St. 4. If the Citation of part of this Psalm by the Apostle, Heb. 2. 5. &c. be but a meer Allusion, yet it affords Ground enough for the Turn I have given it in this Version, and the Application of it to Christ.

St. 6. l. 1. Jesus went to them walking on the Sea, Matt. 14. 25.

Line. 2. He said to Simon, Launch out, &c. and they enclosed a great Multitude of Fishes, Luke 5. 4. 6.

Lin. 4. Cast an Hook and take up the Fish ----- thou shalt find a Piece of Money, &c. Matt. 17. 27.

PSALM VIII. Verse 1, 2. Paraphras'd.

The First Part. Long Metre.

The Hosanna of the Children; or, Infants, praising God.

I.

ALMIGHTY Ruler of the Skies,
Thro' the wide Earth thy Name is
And thine Eternal Glories rise (spread,
O'er all the Heavens thy Hands have made.

II.

To thee the Voices of the Young
A Monument of Honour raise;
And Babes with uninstructed Tongue
Declare the Wonders of thy Praise.

III.

Thy Power assists their tender Age
To bring proud Rebels to the Ground,
To still the bold Blasphemer's Rage,
And all their Policies confound.

IV.

Children amidst thy Temple throng
To see their great Redeemer's Face;
The Son of David is their Song,
And young Hosanna's fill the Place.

V.

The frowning Scribes and angry Priests
In vain their impious Cavils bring;
Revenge sits silent in their Breasts,
While Jewish Babes proclaim their King.

The two first Verses are here Paraphras'd and explained by the History of the Children crying Hosanna to Christ, Matt. 21, 15, 16, where our Saviour cites and applies those Words of the Psalmist.

PSALM VIII. Verse 3, &c. Paraphras'd.
The Second Part. Long Metre.

Adam and Christ, Lords of the Old and the New Creation.

I.

LORD what was Man, when made at first,
Adam the Offspring of the Dust,
 That thou should'st set him and his Race
 But just below an Angel's Place?

II.

That thou should'st raise his Nature so,
 And make him Lord of all below,
 Make every Beast and Bird submit,
 And lay the Fishes at his Feet?

III.

But O what brighter Glories wait
 To crown the second Adam's State?
 What Honours shall thy Son adorn
 Who condescended to be born?

IV.

See him below his Angels made;
 See him in Dust amongst the Dead,
 To save a ruin'd World from Sin:
 But he shall reign with Pow'r divine.

V.

The World to come Redeem'd from all
 The Miseries that attend the Fall,
 New-made, and glorious, shall submit
 To our exalted Saviour's Feet.

*I am persuaded the true Meaning of the Apostle in citing the Words of this Psalm, and applying them to our Saviour,
 Heb. 2. 5, &c. is to shew that Christ, the second Adam, must have Dominion over the new World, as Adam the first Man had over*

over the Old; and that he is truly and really Man, because the first Adam is the Figure and Type of him in this his Dominion.

PSALM IX. The First Part.

Wrath and Mercy from the Judgment-Seat.

I.

WITH my whole Heart I'll raise my

Thy Wonders I'll proclaim,
Thou Sovereign Judge of Right and Wilt put my Foes to shame. (Wrong

II.

I'll sing thy Majesty and Grace;
My God prepares his Throne
To judge the World in Righteousness,
And make his Vengeance known.

III.

Then shall the Lord a Refuge prove
For all the poor oppress'd;
To save the People of his Love,
And give the weary Rest.

IV.

The Men that know thy Name will trust
In thy abundant Grace;
For thou hast ne'er forsok the Just,
Who humbly seek thy Face.

V.

Sing Praises to the Righteous Lord
Who dwells on Zion's Hill,
Who executes his threat'ning Word,
And doth his Grace fulfill.

PSALM IX. Verse 12. The Second Part.
The Wisdom and Equity of Providence.

I.

WHEN the great Judge Supreme and (Just,
 Shall once enquire for Blood,
 The humble Souls that mourn in Dust
 Shall find a faithful God.

II.

He from the dreadful Gates of Death
 Does his own Children raise:
 In Zion's Gates with cheerful Breath
 They sing their Father's Praise.

III.

His Foes shall fall with heedless Feet
 Into the Pit they made;
 And Sinners perish in the Net
 That their own Hands had spread.

IV.

Thus by thy Judgments, mighty God,
 Are thy deep Counsels known;
 When Men of Mischief are destroy'd,
 The Snare must be their own.

Nor shall their Hopes be vain.

VII.

[Rise, great Redeemer from thy Seat
To judge and save the Poor;
Let Nations tremble at thy Feet,

For a Humiliation Day.

I.

WH Y doth the Lord stand off so far?
And why conceal his Face,
When great Calamities appear;
And Times of deep distress?

II.

Lord, shall the Wicked still deride
Thy Justice and thy Power?
Shall they advance their Heads in Pride,
And still thy Saints devour?

III.

They put thy Judgments from their sight,
And then insult the Poor;
They boast in their exalted Height,
That they shall fall no more.

IV.

Arise, O God, lift up thine Hand;
 Attend our humble Cry;
 No Enemy shall dare to stand
 When God ascends on high.

P A U S E.

V.

Why do the Men of Malice rage,
 And say with foolish Pride,
 “ The God of Heaven will ne’er engage
 “ To fight on Zion’s Side?

VI.

But thou for ever art our Lord;
 And powerful is thine Hand,
 As when the Heathens felt thy Sword,
 And perish’d from thy Land.

VII.

Thou wilt prepare our Hearts to pray,
 And cause thine Ear to hear;
 He hearkens what his Children say,
 And puts the World in Fear.

VIII.

Proud Tyrants shall no more oppress,
 No more despise the Just;
 And mighty Sinners shall confess
 They are but Earth and Dust.

P S A L M XI.

God loves the Righteous, and hates the

If Government be all destroy'd,
(That firm Foundation of our Peace)
And Violence make Justice void,
Where shall the Righteous seek Redrefs?

III.

The Lord in Heaven has fixt his Throne,
His Eye surveys the World below ;
To him all mortal Things are known,
His Eye-lids search our Spirits thro'.

IV.

If he afflicts his Saints so far
To prove their Love, and try their Grace,
What may the bold Transgressors fear ?
His very Soul abhors their Ways.

V.

On impious Wretches he shall rain
Tempests of Brimstone, Fire and Death,
Such as he kindled on the Plain
Of Sodom with his angry Breath.

 Thro' Ages shall endure ;
 The Men that in thy Truth confide
 Shall find the Promise sure.

St. 4. The last Verse of this Psalm may naturally be inserted here.

St. 5. The Signs of Christ's coming mention'd in the New Testament, Matt. 24. 12. Luke 18. 8. are abounding Iniquity, Love waxing cold, and Faith scarce to be found, and seem very much a-kin to the Sense of this Psalm.

Thou wilt display that Sovereign Grace
Where all my Hopes have hung;
I shall employ my Lips in Praise,
And Victory shall be sung.

PSALM XIV. First Part.
By Nature all Men are Sinners.

I.

Fools in their Heart believe and say
“ That all Religion’s vain,
“ There is no God that reigns on high,
“ Or minds th’ affairs of Men.

II.

From Thoughts so dreadfully profane
Corrupt Discourse proceeds ;
And in their impious Hands are found
Abominable Deeds.

III.

The Lord from his Celestial Throne
Look’t down on things below,
To find the Man that sought his Grace,
Or did his Justice know.

IV.

By Nature all are gone astray,
Their Practise all the same ;
There’s None that fears his Maker’s Hand,
There’s None that loves his Name.

V.

Their Tongues are us’d to speak Deceit,
Their Slanders never cease ;
How swift to Mischief are their Feet,
Nor know the Paths of Peace!

VI.

Such Seeds of Sin (that Bitter Root)
In every Heart are found :
Nor can they bear Diviner Fruit,
Till Grace refine the Ground.

Several Verses of this Psalm are cited by the Apostle, Romans 3. 10, &c. to shew the universal Corruption of human Nature, wherefore I have brought more of the Apostle's Words there used into the 4th and 5th Stanza's here, and concluded this part of the Psalm agreeably to St. Paul's Design.

Note the 2d. part of this Psalm speaks only of Persecutors and the Enemies of the Church, therefore I have divided it from the former.

P S A L M XIV. The Second Part.

The Folly of Persecutors.

That they the Saints devour?
And never worship at thy Throne,
Nor fear thine awful Power?

Let them no more thy Wrath despise,
Nor turn our Hope to shame.

III.

Dost thou not dwell among the Just,
And yet our Foes deride,

Sinners of State he can despise,
But Saints are honour'd in his Eyes.]

Sweet Charity attends his Door.]

VI.

He loves his Enemies and prays
 For those that curse him to his Face :
 And doth to all Men still the same
 That he would hope or wish from them.

VII.

Yet when his holiest Works are done,
 His Soul depends on Grace alone :
 This is the Man thy Face shall see,
 And dwell for ever, Lord, with Thee.

Since our blessed Saviour in the New Testament has so much explain'd the Duties of the Law and publish'd the Gospel, I could not pass over this Psalm of the Characters of the Jewish Saint, without inserting some brighter Articles that must belong to the Christian: such as, Alms and Charity to the Poor, Love to Enemies, Blessing those that curse us, Doing to others as we would have them do to us, and Hope of Acceptance only thro' Divine Grace.

I thought it necessary also to leave out the Mention of Usury, v. 5. which tho' politically forbidden to the Jews among themselves, was never unlawful to the Gentiles, nor to any Christians since the Jewish Polity expired.

You may read thus, To dwell for ever there. And then the 3 first Stanza's may be sung alone and apply'd to every Christian.

The Sense of a great part of this Psalm occurs so often in the book of Psalms, that I thought it necessary to translate no more than these few verses of it (viz.) v. 3. Thou hast proved my heart, thou hast tried me, and shalt find nothing. v. 13. The wicked are thy Sword. v. 14. The men of the World have their portion in this Life, whose

whose Belly thou fillest: They leave the rest of their substance to their Babes. v. 15. I shall behold thy face in righteousness, I shall be satisfied when I awake with thy likeness.

I confess I have indulged a large Exposition here, but I could not forbear to give my Thoughts a loose upon this Divine Description of compleat Blessedness in the 15th verse; This bright Abridgment of Heaven.

From the Word Awake, I have taken occasion to represent the departing Soul's Awakening into the World of Spirits, as well as the Body's Awakening from the Grave.

The Blast of his Almighty Breath;
He sent Salvation from on high,
And drew me from the Deeps of Death.]

But Christ, my Lord, is Conqueror still
In all the Wars that Devils wage.

VIII.

My Song for ever shall record
That terrible, that joyful Hour;
And give the Glory to the Lord
Due to his Mercy and his Power.

I have divided this long Psalm into Three Parts, and accommodated the several Verses of it to our Spiritual Warfare and Victory through Grace, as being of more frequent and general Use to Christians: Yet there are so noble Expressions of Triumph in God and Thanks for Victory over temporal Enemies scattered up and down, that perswaded me to form them afterwards in Common Metre also agreeable to their original Design.

What fore Temptations broke my Rest!
 What Wars and Strugglings in my Breast!
 But thro' thy Grace that reigns within
 I guard against my darling Sin.

IV.

That Sin that close besets me still,
 That works and strives against my Will;
 When shall thy Spirits sovereign Power
 Destroy it, that it rise no more!

Great Rock of my secure Abode:
Who is a God beside the Lord?
Or where's a Refuge like our God?

II.

'Tis He that Girds me with his Might,
Gives me his holy Sword to wield;
And while with Sin and Hell I fight,
Spreads his Salvation for my Shield.

III.

He lives, (and blessed be my Rock,)
The God of my Salvation lives,
The dark Designs of Hell are broke;
Sweet is the Peace my Father gives.

IV.

Before the Scoffers of the Age
I will exalt my Father's Name,
Nor tremble at their mighty Rage,
But meet Reproach, and bear the Shame.

VIII.

While of thy Works I sing
Thy Glory to proclaim,
Accept the Praise, my God, my King
In my Redeemer's Name.]

The Psalmist here and in other Psalms uses the Word Law to express the five Books of Moses, or all the Divine Revelation that he had in his time; Yet Christ and the Apostles so frequently distinguish the Law and the Gospel, that I have chosen to imitate their Language, and have often introduced the Words Gospel, Truth and Promise instead of Statutes, Testimonies, &c. as being more agreeable to the Style of the New Testament.

St. 1. I have here inserted the last Verse of the Psa'm with an Evangelical Turn, as a proper Conclusion of this first Part: The whole being too long to be sung at once according to our present Custom.

God's Word most excellent; or, Sincerity and Watchfulness.

For a Lord's Day Morning.

BEHOLD the Morning Sun
Begins his glorious Way;
His Beams thro' all the Nations run,
And Life and Light convey.

II.

But where the Gospel comes
It spreads diviner Light,
It calls dead Sinners from their Tombs,
And gives the Blind their Sight.

III.

How perfect is thy Word!
And all thy Judgments just!
For ever sure thy Promise, Lord,
And Men securely trust.

Are thy Directions given!
O may I never read in vain,
But find the Path to Heaven!

I would not dare transgress.

VII.

Warn me of every Sin,
Forgive my secret Faults,
And cleanse this guilty Soul of mine
Whose Crimes exceed my Thoughts.

VIII.

While with my Heart and Tongue
I spread thy Praise abroad,
Accept the Worship and the Song,

The Books of Nature and of Scripture compar'd; or, The Glory and Success of the Gospel.

I.

THE Heavens declare thy Glory, Lord,
In every Star thy Wisdom shines:
But when our Eyes behold thy Word,
We read thy Name in fairer Lines.

II.

'The rolling Sun, the changing Light,
And Nights and Days thy Power confess:
But the blest Volume thou hast writ
Reveals thy Justice and thy Grace.

III.

Sun, Moon and Stars convey thy Praise
Round the whole Earth, and never stand:
So when thy Truth begun its Race,
It touch'd and glanc'd on every Land.

IV.

IV.

Nor shall thy spreading Gospel rest
Till thro' the World thy Truth has run;
Till Christ has all the Nations blest
That see the Light, or feel the Sun.

V.

Great Sun of Righteousness, arise,
Bless the dark World with heavenly Light;
Thy Gospel makes the Simple Wise;
Thy Laws are pure, thy Judgments right.

VI.

Thy noblest Wonders here we view
In Souls renew'd and Sins forgiven:
Lord, cleanse my sins, my Soul renew,
And make thy Word my Guide to Heav'n.

Tho' the plain design of the Psalmist is to shew the Excellency of the Book of Scripture above the Book of Nature, in order to convert and save a Sinner, yet the Apostle Paul in Rom. 10. 18. applies or accommodates the 4th v. to the spreading of the Gospel over the Roman Empire, which is called the whole World in the New Testament; and in this Version I have endeavoured to imitate him.

PSALM XIX. To the Tune of the 113. Ps.

The Book of Nature and Scripture.

I.

(Frame

GREAT God, the Heavens well-order'd
Declares the Glories of thy Name;
There thy rich Works of wonder shine:
A thousand starry Beauties there,
A thousand radiant Marks appear
Of boundless Power and skill Divine.

II.

From Night to Day, from Day to Night
 The dawning and the dying Light
 Lectures of heavenly Wisdom read ;
 With silent Eloquence they raise
 Our Thoughts to our Creator's Praise,
 And neither Sound nor Language need.

III.

Yet their Divine Instructions run
 Far as the Journeys of the Sun,
 And every Nation knows their Voice :
 The Sun like some young Bridegroom drest
 Breaks from the Chambers of the East,
 Rolls round, & makes the Earth rejoice.

IV.

Where e're he spreads his Beams abroad
 He smiles, and speaks his Maker God ;
 All Nature joyns to shew thy Praise :
 Thus God in every Creature shines ;
 Fair are the Book of Nature's Lines,
 But fairer is thy Book of Grace.

V.

I love the Volumes of thy Word ;
 What Light and Joy those Leaves afford
 To Souls benighted and distressed !
 Thy Precepts guide my doubtful Way,
 Thy Fear forbids my feet to stray,
 Thy Promise leads my Heart to rest.

VI.

From the Discoveries of thy Law
 The perfect Rules of Life I draw ;
 These are my Study and Delight ;

Not

Not Honey so invites the Taste,
Nor Gold that hath the furnace past
Appears so pleasing to the Sight.

VII.

(Eyes,

Thy Threatnings wake my slumbring
And warn me where my Danger lies;
But 'tis thy blessed Gospel, Lord,
That makes my guilty Conscience clean,
Converts my Soul, Subdues my Sin,
And gives a free but large Reward.

VIII.

Who knows the Errors of his Thoughts?
My God, forgive my Secret Faults,
And from Presumptuous Sins restrain:
Accept my poor attempts of Praise
That I have read thy Book of Grace
And Book of Nature not in vain.

He opens Heaven's eternal Door,
To give his Saints a blest Abode
Near their Redeemer and their God.

If this Psalm was written at the ascent of the Ark of God into Zion the city of David, It is not unnatural to apply it to the presence of Christ with his Church in worship, as in the Common Metre; or, to the ascension of Christ to Heaven as in this Metre. In this and other parts of the Psalm I have endeavour'd to make the Connexion plain and Easie, which is very obscure in the Text.

IV.

I love thy Habitation, Lord,
The Temple where thine Honours dwell;
E 2 There

There shall I hear thine holy Word,
And there thy Works of wonder tell.

V.

Let not my Soul be join'd at last
With Men of Treachery and Blood,
Since I my Days on Earth have past
Among the Saints and near my God.

P S A L M. XXVII. 1—6. The First Part.

The Church is our Delight and Safety.

I.

THE Lord of Glory is my Light,
And my Salvation too;
God is my strength; nor will I fear
What all my Foes can do.

II.

One Priviledge my Heart desires;
O grant me an Abode
Among the Churches of thy Saints,
The Temples of my God!

III.

There shall I offer my requests,
And see thy Beauty still,
Shall hear thy Messages of Love,
And there enquire thy Will.

IV.

When Troubles rise and Storms appear
There may his Children hide;
God has a strong Pavilion where
He makes my Soul abide.

V.

Now shall my Head be lifted high
Above my Foes around,

And

And Songs of Joy and Victory
Within thy Temple found.

PSALM XXVII. v. 8, 9, 13, 14. Second Part.
Prayer and Hope.

I.

Soon as I heard my Father say,
“ Ye Children seek my Grace,
My Heart reply’d without Delay, “ T’ll seek my Fathers Face.

II.

Let not thy Face be hid from me,
Nor frown my Soul away ;
God of my Life, I fly to Thee
In a Distressing Day.

III.

Should Friends and Kindred near and dear
Leave me to want or die,
My God would make my Life his Care,
And all my need supply.

IV.

My fainting Flesh had dy’d with Grief
Had not my Soul believ’d
To see thy Grace provide Relief,
Nor was my Hope deceiv’d.

V.

Wait on the Lord, Ye trembling Saints,
And keep your Courage up ;
He’ll raise your Spirit when it faints,
And far exceed your Hope.

PSALM

The 28th. Psalm has scarce any thing new, but what is repeated in other Psalms.

P S A L M. XXIX.

Storm and Thunder.

I.

GIVE to the Lord, ye Sons of Fame,
Give to the Lord renown and Power,
Ascribe due Honours to his Name,
And his Eternal Might adore.

II.

The Lord proclaims his Power aloud
Over the Ocean and the Land;
His Voice divides the Watry Cloud,
And Lightnings blaze at his Command.

III.

He speaks, and Tempest, Hail and Wind
Lay the wide Forests bare around;
'The fearful Hart, and frighted Hind
Leap at the Terror of the sound.

IV.

To Lebanon he turns his Voice,
And Lo, the stately Cedars break;
The Mountains tremble at the Noise,
'The Valleys roar, the Desarts quake.

V.

The Lord sets Sovereign on the Flood,
'The Thunder reigns for ever King;
But makes his Church his blest abode,
Where we his awful Glories sing.

VI.

In gentler Language there the Lord
'The Counsels of his Grace imparts;
Amidst the raging Storm his Word
Speaks Peace and Courage to our Hearts.

P S A L M.

PSALM. XXX. The First Part.
Sickness heal'd, and Sorrow remov'd.

I.

I will extol thee, Lord, on high,
 At thy Command Diseases fly;
 Who but a God can speak, and save
 From the dark Borders of the Grave?

II.

Sing to the Lord, ye Saints of his,
 And tell how large his Goodness is;
 Let all your Powers rejoice and bless,
 While you record his Holiness.

III.

His Anger but a Moment stays;
 His Love is Life and Length of Days;
 Tho' Grief and Tears the Night Employ,
 The Morning-Star restores the Joy.

PSALM XXX. v. 6, The Second Part.
Health, Sickness and Recovery.

I.

(bright,

FIRM was my Health, my Day was
 And I presum'd it would ne'er be night
 Fondly I said within my Heart,
 "Pleasure and Peace shall ne'er depart.

II.

But I forgot thine Arm was strong
 Which made my Mountain stand so long;
 Soon as thy Face began to hide,
 My Health was gone, my comforts dy'd.

III.

I cry'd aloud to thee, my God;
 "What can'st thou profit by my Blood?

E 4

"Deep

“ Deep in the Dust can I declare
 “ Thy Truth, or sing thy Goodness there ?

IV.

“ Hear me, O God of Grace, I said,
 “ And bring me from among the Dead ;
 Thy Word rebuk'd the Pains I felt,
 Thy pardoning Love remov'd my Guilt.

V.

My Groans, and Tears, and Forms of woe
 Are turn'd to Joy and Praises now ;
 I throw my Sack-Cloth on the Ground,
 And Ease and Gladness gird me round.

VI.

My Tongue, the Glory of my Frame,
 Shall ne'er be silent of thy Name ;
 Thy Praise shall sound through Earth and
 For sickness heal'd, and sins forgiv'n. (Heav'n
 PSALM XXXI. 5, 13—19, 22, 23. First Part.

Deliverance from Death.

I.

I NTO thine Hand, O God of Truth,
 My Spirit I commit ;
 Thou hast redeem'd my Soul from Death,
 And sav'd me from the Pit.

II.

The Passions of my Hope and Fear
 Maintain'd a doubtful Strife,
 While Sorrow, Pain and Sin conspir'd
 To take away my Life.

III.

“ My Times are in thine Hand, I cry'd,
 “ Tho' I draw near the Dust ;

Thou

Thou art the Refuge where I hide,
The God in whom I trust,

IV.

O make thy reconciled Face
Upon thy Servant shine,
And save me for thy Mercy sake;
For I'm intirely thine.

P A U S E.

V.

['Twas in my Haste, my Spirit said,
" I must despair and dye,
" I am cut off before thine Eyes;
But thou hast heard my Cry.]

VI.

Thy Goodness how divinely free!
How wondrous is thy Grace,
To those that fear thy Majesty,
And trust thy Promises!

VII.

O Love the Lord, all ye his Saints,
And sing his Praises loud ;
He'll bend his Ear to your Complaints,
And recompence the Proud.

P S A L M XXXI. 7-13, 18-21. 2d. Part.
Deliverance from Slander and Reproach.

I.

MY Heart rejoices in thy Name,
My God, my Help, my Trust ;
Thou hast preserv'd my Face from Shame,
Mine Honour from the Dust.

II.

“ My Life is spent with Grief, I cry’d,
 “ My Years consum’d in Groans,
 “ My strength decays, mine Eyes are dry’d,
 “ And Sorrow wafts my Bones.

III.

Among mine Enemies my Name
 Was a mere Proverb grown,
 While to my Neighbours I became
 Forgotten and unknown.

IV.

Slander and Fear on every side
 Seiz’d and beset me round ;
 I to the Throne of Grace apply’d,
 And speedy Rescue found.

P A U S E.

V.

How great Deliverance thou hast wrought
 Before the Sons of Men !
 ‘The lying Lips to silence brought,
 And made their Boastings vain !

VI.

‘Thy Children from the strife of Tongues
 Shall thy Pavilion hide,
 Guard them from Infamy and Wrongs,
 And crush the Sons of Pride.

VII.

Within thy secret Presence, Lord,
 Let me for ever dwell ;
 No fenced City wall’d and barr’d
 Secures a Saint so well.

I have much transposed the Parts of this Psalm, that I might unite the Verses of the same sence and Subject nearer together, and contract them into two Divine Hymns.

P S A L M XXXII. Short Metre.

Forgiveness of Sins upon Confession.

I.

O blessed Souls are they
Whose Sins are cover'd o'er!
Divinely blest, to whom the Lord
Imputes their Guilt no more!

II.

They mourn their Follies past,
And keep their Hearts with care;
Their Lips and Lives without Deceit
Shall prove their Faith sincere.

III.

While I conceal'd my Guilt,
I felt the festering Wound,
Till I confess'd my Sins to thee,
And ready Pardon found.

IV.

Let Sinners learn to pray,
Let Saints keep near the Throne;
Our Help in Times of deep Distress
Is found in God alone.

P S A L M XXXII. Common Metre.

Free Pardon, and sincere Obedience; or, Confession and Forgiveness.

I.

HAPPY the Man to whom his God
No more imputes his Sin,
But wash'd in the Redeemer's Blood
Hath made his Garments clean!

II.

Happy beyond Expression He,
 Whose Debts are thus discharg'd;
 And from the guilty Bondage free
 He feels his Soul enlarg'd.

III.

His Spirit hates Deceit and Lies,
 His Words are all sincere;
 He guards his Heart, he guards his Eyes,
 To keep his Conscience clear.

IV.

While I my inward Guilt suppress
 No Quiet could I find;
 Thy Wrath lay burning in my Breast,
 And rack't my tortur'd Mind.

V.

Then I confess'd my troubled Thoughts,
 My secret Sins reveal'd;
 Thy pardoning Grace forgave my Fault
 Thy Grace my Pardon seal'd.

VI.

'This shall invite thy Saints to pray,
 When like a raging Flood
 Temptations rise, our Strength and Stay
 Is a forgiving God.

PSALM. XXXII. First Part. Long Metre.

Repentance and Free Pardon; or Justification and Sanctification.

I.

BLEST is the Man, forever blest,
 Whose Guilt is pardon'd by his God,
 Whose Sins with Sorrow are confess'd,
 And cover'd with his Saviour's Blood. II.

II.

Blest is the Man to whom the Lord
Imputes not his Iniquities,
He pleads no Merit of Reward,
And not on Works, but Grace relies.

III.

From Guile his Heart and Lips are free,
His humble Joy, his holy Fear
With deep Repentance well agree,
And join to prove his Faith sincere.

IV.

How Glorious is that Righteousness
That hides and cancels all his Sins!
While a bright Evidence of Grace
Thro' his whole Life appears and Shines.

These two first verses of this Psalm being cited by the Apostle in the 4th. chap. Rom. to shew the freedom of our Pardon and Justification by Grace without Works, I have in this Version of it enlarged the sense by mention of the Blood of Christ, and Faith and Repentance; and because the Psalmist adds a Spirit in which is no guile, I have inserted that Sincere Obedience which is a Scriptural evidence of our Faith and Justification.

PSALM. XXXII. Second Part. Long Metre.
A Guilty Conscience eas'd by Confession and Pardon.

I.

WHILE I keep Silence and conceal
My heavy Guilt within my Heart,
What Torments doth my Conscience feel!
What Agonies of Inward smart!

II.

I spread my Sins before the Lord,
And all my secret Faults confess;

Thy

Thy Gospel speaks a pard'ning Word,
'Thine holy Spirit seals the Grace.

III.

For this shall every humble Soul
Make swift addresſes to thy Seat;
When Floods of huge Temptations roll,
'There shall they find a bleſt Retreat.

IV.

How ſafe beneath thy Wings I lye,
When Days grow dark and Storms appear!
And when I walk, thy watchful Eye
Shall guide me ſafe from every Snare.

PSALM XXXIII. First Part. Com. Metre.

Works of Creation and Providence.

I.

REJOICE, ye Righteous, in the Lord,
This Work belongs to you:
Sing of his Name, his Ways, his Word,
How holy, juſt and true!

II.

His Mercy and his Rightcouſneſs
Let Heaven and Earth proclaim;
His Works of Nature and of Grace
Reveal his wondrous Name.

III.

His Wiſdom and Almighty Word
The Heavenly Arches ſpread;
And by the Spirit of the Lord
'Their ſhining Hoſts were made.

IV.

He bid the Liquid Waters flow
To there appointed Deep;

The

The flowing Seas their limits know,
And their own station keep.

V.

Ye Tenants of the spacious Earth,
With fear before him stand;
He spake; and Nature took it's Birth,
And rests on his Command.

VI.

He Scorns the angry Nations rage,
And breaks their vain designs;
His counsel stands thro' every age,
And in full Glory shines.

PSALM XXXIII. Second Part. Com. Met.
Creatures vain, and God All-sufficient.

I.

BLEST is the Nation where the Lord
Hath fixt his gracious Throne;
Where he reveals his heavenly Word,
And calls their Tribes his own.

II.

His Eye with Infinite Survey
Does the whole world behold;
He form'd us all of equal Clay
And knows our feeble Mould.

III.

Kings are not rescu'd by the force
Of Armies from the Grave;
Nor Speed nor Courage of an Horse
Can the bold Rider save.

IV.

Vain is the strength of Beasts or Men
To hope for safety thence;

But

But holy Souls from God obtain
A strong and sure Defence.

V.

God is their Fear, and God their Trust;
When Plagues or Famine spread,
His watchful Eye secures the Just Among ten thousand Dead.

VI.

Lord, let our hearts in thee rejoice,
And bless us from thy Throne;
For we have made thy Word our Choice,
And Trust thy Grace alone.

PSALM. XXXIII. as the 113. Ps. First Part.
Works of Creation and Providence.

I.

YE holy Souls in God rejoice, (voice;
Your Maker's Praise becomes your Great is your Theme, your songs be new:
Sing of his Name, his Word, his Ways,
His Works of Nature and of Grace,
How wise and holy, just and true!

II.

Justice and Truth he ever loves,
And the whole Earth his Goodness proves,
His Word the heavenly Arches spread;
How wide they shine from North to South!
And by the Spirit of his Mouth
Were all the Starry Armies made.

III.

He gathers the wide flowing Seas,
Those watry Treasures know their place
In the vast Store-House of the Deep.
He

He spake, and gave all Nature birth;
 And Fires, & Seas, & Heaven, & Earth
 His everlasting Orders keep.

IV.

Let Mortals tremble and adore
 A God of such resistless Power,
 Nor dare indulge their feeble Rage:
 Vain are your Thoughts, and weak your
 But his eternal Counsel stands, (Hands;
 And rules the World from age to age.

PSALM. XXXIII. as the 113 Ps. 2d. Part.

Creatures vain, and God All-sufficient.

I.

O happy Nation, where the Lord
 Reveals the Treasure of his word
 And builds his Church, his Earthly Throne!
 His Eye the Heathen world surveys,
 He form'd their hearts, he knows their ways
 But God their Maker is unknown.

II.

Let Kings rely upon their Host,
 And of his strength the Champion boast;
 In vain they boast, in vain rely;
 In vain we trust the brutal Force,
 Or speed, or Courage of a Horse,
 To guard his Rider or to fly.

III.

The Eye of thy Compassion, Lord,
 Doth more secure Defence afford
 When Deaths or Dangers threatening stand
 Thy

Thy watchful Eye preserves the Just
 Who make thy Name their fear and trust,
 When Wars or Famine waste the Land.

IV.

In Sickness or the bloody Field,
 Thou our Physician, Thou our Shield,
 Send us Salvation from thy Throne;
 We wait to see thy Goodness shine;
 Let us rejoice in help Divine,
 For all our Hope is God alone.

PSALM XXXIV. First Part. Long Metre.
God's Care of the Saints; or, Deliverance by Prayer.

LORD, I will bless thee all my Days,
 Thy Praise shall dwell upon my
 My Soul shall glory in thy Grace, (Tongue
 While Saints rejoyce to hear the Song.

II.

Come, magnify the Lord with me,
 Come, let us all exalt his Name;
 I sought th' Eternal God, and He
 Has not expos'd my Hope to shame.

III.

I told him all my secret Grief,
 My secret Groaning reach'd his Ears;
 He gave my inward Pains relief,
 And calm'd the Tumult of my fears.

IV.

To him the Poor lift up their Eyes,
 Their Faces feel the Heavenly shine;
 A Beam of Mercy from the Skies
 Fills them with Light and joy Divine.

V.

His holy Angels pitch their Tents
 Around the Men that serve the Lord.
 O fear and love him, all his Saints,
 Taste of his Grace and trust his Word.

VI.

The wild young Lions pinch'd with Pain
 And Hunger roar thro' all the Wood,
 But none shall seek the Lord in vain,
 Nor want Supplies of real Good.

P S A L M XXXIV. 11-22. Second Part.

Long Metre.

Religious Education ; or, Instructions of Piety.

I.

CHILDREN in Years & Knowledge Young,
 Your Parents Hope, your Parents
 Attend the Counsels of my Tongue, (Joy
 Let pious Thoughts your Minds employ.

II.

If you desire a Length of Days,
 And Peace to Crown your mortal State,
 Restrain your Feet from impious Ways,
 Your Lips from Slander and Deceit.

III.

The Eyes of God regard his Saints,
 His Ears are open to their Cries ;
 He sets his frowning Face against
 The Sons of Violence and Lies.

IV.

To humble Souls and broken Hearts
 God with his Grace is ever nigh ;
 Pardon and Hope his Love imparts
 When Men in deep Contrition lye.

V.

He tells their Tears, he counts their Groans,
 His Son redeems their Souls from Death;
 His Spirit heals their broken Bones,
 They in his Praise employ their Breath.

PSALM. XXXIV. 1—10. First Part.
 Common Metre.

Prayer and Praise for eminent Deliverance.

I.

I'll bless the Lord from Day to Day;
 How good are all his Ways!
 Ye humble Souls that use to pray,
 Come, help my Lips to praise.

II.

Sing to the Honour of his Name,
 How a poor Sufferer cry'd,
 Nor was his hope expos'd to shame,
 Nor was his Suit deny'd.

III.

When threatening sorrows round me stood,
 And endless Fears arose,
 Like the loud Billows of a Flood,
 Redoubling all my Woes;

IV.

I told the Lord my sore distress
 With heavy Groans and Tears,
 He gave my sharpest Torments Ease,
 And silenc'd all my fears.

P A U S E.

V.

[O Sinners, come and taste his Love,
 Come, learn his pleasant Ways, And

And let your own experience prove
The sweetness of his Grace.

VI.

He bids his Angels pitch their Tents
Round where his Children dwell;
What ills their heavenly Care prevents
No Earthly Tongue can tell.]

VII.

[O love the Lord, ye Saints of his;
His Eye regards the Just;
How richly blest their Portion is
Who make the Lord their Trust !

VIII.

Young Lions pinch'd with hunger roar,
And famish in the Wood;
But God supplies his holy Poor
With every needful Good.]

PSALM XXXIV. 11--22. Second Part.
Common Metre.

Exhortations to Peace and Holiness.

COME, Children, learn to fear the Lord;
And that your Days be long,
Let not a false or spiteful word
Be found upon your Tongue.

II.

Depart from Mischief, practice Love,
Pursue the works of Peace;
So shall the Lord your ways approve,
And set your Souls at Ease.

III.

His Eyes awake to guard the Just,
His Ears attend their Cry ;

When

When broken Spirits dwell in Dust,
The God of Grace is nigh.

IV.

What tho' the sorrows here they taste
Are sharp and tedious too,
The Lord, who saves them all at last,
Is their Supporter now.

V.

Evil shall smite the wicked Dead;
But God secures his own,
Prevents the Mischief when they slide,
Or heals the broken Bone.

VI.

When desolation like a Flood
O'er the proud Sinner rolls,
Saints find a Refuge in their God,
For he redeem'd their Souls.

P S A L M XXXV. 1—9. The First Part.
Prayer and Faith of persecuted Saints; or,
Imprecations mix'd with Charity.

I.

Now plead my Cause, Almighty God,
With all the Sons of strife;
And fight against the Men of Blood
Who fight against my Life.

II.

Draw out thy Spear and stop their Way,
Lift thine avenging Rod;
But to my Soul in Mercy say,
“ I am thy Saviour-God.”

III.

They plant their Snares to catch my Feet,
And Nets of Mischief spread; Plunge

Plunge the Destroyers in the Pit
 'That their own Hands have made.

IV.

Let Foggs and Darknefs hide their Way,
 And slippery be their Ground;
 Thy Wrath fhall make their Lives a Prey,
 And all their Rage confound.

V.

They fly like Chaff before the Wind,
 Before thine angry Breath;
 The Angel of the Lord behind
 Purfues them down to Death.

VI.

They love the Road that leads to Hell;
 Then let the Rebels dye,
 Whofe Malice is implacable
 Againft the Lord on high.

VII.

But if Thou haft a chosen few
 Amongft that impious Race,
 Divide them from the bloody Crew
 By thy furprizing Grace.

VIII.

Then will I raife my tuneful Voice
 To make thy Wonders known;
 In their Salvation I'll rejoice,
 And blefs thee for my own.

St. 6. Among the Imprecations that David uſes againſt his Adverſaries in this Pſalm I have adventured to turn the Edge of them away from Perſonal Enemies againſt the implacable Enemies of God in the World.

St. 7. 8. agreeably to the Spirit of the Goſpel I have here further mollified theſe Imprecations by a Charitable diſtinction and Petition

Petition for their Souls, which Spirit of Evangelic Charity appears so conspicuous in the 12, 13. and 14. verses of the Psalm that I could not forbear to form them into a short distinct Hymn, enlarging on that Glorious Character of a Christian, Love to our Enemies, commanded so particularly, and so divinely exemplify'd by Christ himself.

PSALM XXXV. v. 12, 13, 14. 2d. Part.
Love to Enemies ; or, the Love of Christ to Sinners typify'd in David.

I.

BEHOLD the Love, the generous Love
 That holy David shews ;
 Hark, how his sounding Bowells move
 To his afflicted Foes !

II.

When they are sick, his Soul complains,
 And seems to feel the smart ;
 The Spirit of the Gospel reigns,
 And melts his pious heart.

III.

How did his flowing Tears condole
 As for a Brother dead !
 And fasting mortify'd his Soul,
 While for their Life he pray'd.

IV.

They groan'd ; and curst him on their Bed,
 Yet still he pleads and Mourns ;
 And double Blessings on his Head
 The righteous God returns.

V.

O glorious Type of Heavenly Grace !
 Thus Christ the Lord appears ;
 While Sinners curse, the Saviour prays,
 And pities them with tears.

VI.

He the true David, Israel's King,
 Blest and Belov'd of God,
 To save us Rebels dead in Sin
 Pay'd his own dearest Blood.

See the Notes on the first part of this Psalm. St. 1. sounding of the Bowels is a Scriptural Metaphor, Isa. 63. 15.

PSALM XXXVI. 5--9. Long Metre.
*The Perfections and Providence of God; or,
 General Providence and Special Grace.*

I.

HIGH in the Heavens, Eternal God,
 Thy Goodness in full Glory shines;
 Thy Truth shall break thro' every Cloud
 That veils and darkens thy Designs.

II.

For ever firm thy Justice stands,
 As Mountains their Foundations keep;
 Wise are the Wonders of thy Hands;
 Thy Judgments are a mighty Deep.

III.

Thy Providence is kind and large,
 Both Man and Beast thy Bounty share;
 The whole Creation is thy Charge,
 But Saints are thy peculiar Care.

IV.

My God! how excellent thy Grace;
 Whence all our Hope and Comfort springs!
 The Sons of Adam in Distress
 Fly to the Shadow of thy Wings.

V.

From the Provisions of thy House
 We shall be fed with sweet Repast;

F

There

There Mercy like a River flows,
And brings Salvation to our Taste.

VI.

Life like a Fountain rich and free
Springs from the Presence of my Lord;
And in thy Light our Souls shall see
The Glories promis'd in thy Word.

PSALM XXXVI. v. 1, 2, 5, 6, 7, 9. Com. Met.
*Practical Atheism expos'd; or, the Being,
and Attributes of God asserted.*

I.

(Ways,

WHILE Men grow bold in wicked
And yet a God they own,
My Heart within me often says,
“ Their Thoughts believe There's none.

II.

Their Thoughts and Ways at once declare
(What e'er their Lips profess)
God hath no Wrath for them to fear,
Nor will they seek his Grace.

III.

What strange Self-flattery blinds their Eyes!
But there's a hastning Hour
When they shall see with fore Surprise
The Terrors of thy Power.

IV.

Thy Justice shall maintain its Throne,
Tho' Mountains melt away;
Thy Judgments are a World unknown,
A deep unfathom'd Sea.

V.

Above these Heavens created Rounds
Thy Mercies, Lord, extend; Thy

Thy Truth out-lives the narrow Bounds
Where Time and Nature end.

VI.

Safety to Man thy Goodness brings,
Nor overlooks the Beast;
Beneath the Shadow of thy Wings
Thy Children chuse to rest.

VII.

[From thee, when Creature-streams run low
And mortal Comforts die,
Perpetual Springs of Life shall flow,
And raise our Pleasures high.

VIII.

Tho' all created Light decay,
And Death close up our Eyes,
Thy Presence makes eternal Day
Where Clouds can never rise.]

PSALM XXXVI. 1--7. Short Metre.
The Wickedness of Man, and the Majesty of God; or, Practical Atheism expos'd.

I.

WHEN Man grows bold in Sin,
My Heart within me cries,
"He hath no Faith of God within,
"Nor Fear before his Eyes.

II.

[He walks a while conceal'd
In a Self-flatt'ring Dream,
Till his dark Crimes at once reveal'd
Expose his hateful Name.]

III.

His Heart is false and foul,
His Words are smooth and fair;
Wisdom is banisht from his Soul,
And leaves no Goodness there.

IV.

He plots upon his Bed,
New Mischiefs to fulfill;
He sets his Heart, and Hand, and Head
To practise all that's ill.

V.

But there's a dreadful God,
Tho' Men renounce his Fear;
His Justice hid behind the Cloud
Shall one great Day appear.

VI.

His Truth transcends the Sky,
In Heaven his Mercies dwell;
Deep as the Sea his Judgments lie,
His Anger burns to Hell.

VII.

How excellent his Love,
Whence all our Safety Springs!
O never let my Soul remove
From underneath his Wings!

PSALM XXXVII. 1--15. First Part.

The Cure of Envy, Fretfulness and Unbelief; or, The Rewards of the Righteous and the Wicked; or, The World's hatred and the Saint's Patience.

I.

WHY should I vex my Soul, and fret
To see the Wicked rise?

Or

Or envy Sinners waxing great
By Violence and Lies?

II.

As flowry Grass cut down at Noon,
Before the Evening fades,
So shall their Glories vanish soon
In everlasting Shades.

III.

Then let me make the Lord my Trust,
And practise all that's Good ;
So shall I dwell amongst the Just,
And He'll provide me Food.

IV.

I to my God my Ways commit,
And cheerfull wait his Will ;
Thy Hand, which guides my doubtful Feet,
Shall my Desires fulfill,

V.

Mine Innocence shalt Thou display,
And make thy Judgments known,
Fair as the Light of dawning Day,
And glorious as the Noon.

VI.

The Meek at last the Earth possess,
And are the Heirs of Heav'n ;
True Riches with abundant Peace
To humble Souls are giv'n.

P A U S E.

VII.

Rest in the Lord and keep his Way,
Nor let your Anger rise
Tho' Providence should long delay
To punish haughty Vice.

VIII.

VIII.

Let Sinners join to break your Peace,
 And plot, and rage, and foam;
 The Lord derides them, for he sees
 Their Day of Vengeance come.

IX. (Sword,

They have drawn out the threatening
 Have bent the Murd'rous Bow,
 To slay the Men that fear the Lord
 And bring the Righteous low.

X.

My God shall break their Bows, and burn
 Their persecuting Darts,
 Shall their own Swords against them turn:
 And Pain surprize their Hearts.

I have turn'd the Divine Instructions at the beginning of this Psalm into the form of holy Purposes, as more affecting and lively.

PSALM XXXVII. 16, 21, 26--31. Sec^d. Pt.
Charity to the Poor; or Religion in Words and Deeds.

I.

WHY do the Wealthy Wicked boast,
 And grow profanely bold?
 The meanest Portion of the Just Excels the Sinner's Gold.

II.

The Wicked borrows of his Friends
 But ne'er designs to pay;
 The Saint is merciful and lends,
 Nor turns the Poor away.

III.

His Alms with liberal Heart he gives Amongst the Sons of Need; His

His Memory to long Ages lives,
And blessed is his Seed.

IV.

His Lips abhor to talk profane,
To slander or defraud;
His ready Tongue declares to Men
What he has learnt of God.

V.

The Law and Gospel of the Lord
Deep in his Heart abide;
Led by the Spirit and the Word
His Feet shall never slide.

VI.

When Sinners fall the Righteous stand,
Preserv'd from every Snare;
They shall possess the promis'd Land,
And dwell for ever There.

PSALM XXXVII. 23—37. Third Part.
The Way and End of the Righteous & Wicked.

I.

My God, the Steps of Pious Men
Are order'd by thy Will;
Tho' they should fall they rise again,
Thy Hand supports them still.

II.

The Lord delights to see their Ways,
Their Virtue he approves;
He'll ne'er deprive them of his Grace,
Nor leave the Men he loves.

III.

The heavenly Heritage is their's,
Their Portion and their Home;

He feeds them now, and makes them Heirs
Of Blessings long to come.

IV.

Wait on the Lord, ye Sons of Men,
Nor fear when Tyrants frown;
Ye shall confess their Pride was vain
When Justice casts them down.

P A U S E.

V.

The haughty Sinner have I seen
Nor fearing Man nor God,
Like a tall Bay-Tree fair and green,
Spreading his Arms abroad.

VI.

And lo, he vanish from the Ground,
Destroy'd by Hands unseen;
Nor Root, nor Branch, nor Leaf was found
Where all that Pride had been.

VII.

But mark the Man of Righteousness,
His several Steps attend;
True Pleasure runs thro' all his Ways,
And peaceful is his End.

This long Psalm abounds with useful Instructions and Encouragements to Piety, but the Verses are very much unconnected and independent: Therefore I have contracted and transposed them so as to reduce them to three Hymns of a moderate length, and with some connexion of the sense.

P S A L M XXXVIII.

Guilt of Conscience and Relief; or, Repentance and Prayer for Pardon and Health.

I.

AMIDST thy Wrath remember Love,
Restore thy Servant, Lord;
Nor

Nor let a Father's Chastening prove
Like an Avenger's Sword.

II.

Thine Arrows stick within my Heart,
My Flesh is sorely prest;
Between the Sorrow and the Smart
My Spirit finds no Rest.

III.

My Sins a heavy Load appear,
And o'er my Head are gone;
'Too heavy 'They for me to bear,
'Too hard for me t'atone.

IV.

My Thoughts are like a troubled Sea,
My Head still bending down;
And I go mourning all the Day
Beneath my Father's Frown.

V.

Lord, I am weak and broken fore,
None of my Pow'rs are whole;
The inward Anguish makes me roar,
The Anguish of my Soul.

VI.

All my Desire to Thee is known,
Thine Eye counts every Tear,
And every Sigh, and every Groan
Is notic'd by thine Ear.

VII.

Thou art my God, my only Hope;
My God will hear my Cry,
My God will bear my Spirit up
When Satan bids me dye.

VIII.

[My Foot is ever apt to slide,
 My Foes rejoice to see't;
 They raise their Pleasure and their Pride
 When they supplant my Feet.

IX.

But I'll confess my Guilt to Thee,
 And grieve for all my Sin
 I'll mourn, how weak my Graces be,
 And beg Support Divine.

X.

My God forgive my Follies past,
 And be for ever nigh;
 O Lord of my Salvation, haste
 Before thy Servant die.]

P S A L M XXXIX. 1, 2, 3. First Part.
Watchfulness over the Tongue; or, Prudence and Zeal.

I.

THUS I resolv'd before the Lord,
 " Now will I watch my Tongue,
 " Lest I let slip one sinful Word,
 " Or do my Neighbour Wrong.

II.

And if I'm e'er constrain'd to stay
 With Men of Lives profane,
 I'll set a double Guard that Day,
 Nor let my Talk be vain.

III.

I'll scarce allow my Lips to speak
 The pious 'Thoughts I feel,
 Lest Scoffers should th' Occasion take
 To mock my holy Zeal.

IV.

Yet if some proper Hour appear,
 I'll not be over-aw'd,
 But let the scoffing Sinners hear
 That we can speak for God.

I have not confin'd my self here to the Sense of the Psalmist, but have taken occasion from the three first Verses to write a short Hymn on the Government of the Tongue.

P S A L M. XXXIX. 4, 5, 6, 7. Second Part.

The Vanity of Man as Mortal.

I.

TEACH me the Measure of my Days,
 Thou Maker of my Frame;
 I would survey Life's narrow Space,
 And learn how frail I am.

II.

A Span is all that we can boast,
 An Inch or two of Time;
 Man is but Vanity and Dust
 In all his Flower and Prime.

III.

See the vain Race of Mortals move
 Like Shadows o're the Plain,
 They rage and strive, desire and love,
 But all the Noise is vain.

IV.

Some walk in Honour's gaudy Show,
 Some dig for Golden Oar,
 They toyl for Heirs they know not who,
 And strait are seen no more.

V.

What should I wish or wait for then
 From Creatures, Earth and Dust?

They

They make our Expectations vain,
And disappoint our Trust.

VI.

Now I forbid my Carnal Hope,
My fond Desires recall;
I give my Mortal Interest up,
And make my God my All.

PSALM XXXIX. 9-13. Third Part.
Sick-Bed Devotion; or Pleading without Repining.

I.

GOD of my Life, look gently down,
Behold the Pains I feel;
But I am dumb before thy Throne,
Nor dare dispute thy Will.

II.

Diseases are thy Servants, Lord,
They come at thy Command;
I'll not attempt a murmuring Word
Against thy chast'ning Hand.

III.

Yet I may plead with humble Cries,
Remove thy sharp Rebukes;
My Strength consumes, my Spirit dies
Thro' thy repeated Strokes.

IV.

Creast as a Moth beneath thy Hand.
We moulder to the Dust;
Our feeble Powers can ne'er withstand,
And all our Beauty's lost.

V.

[This Mortal Life decays Apace,
How soon the Bubble's broke! Adam

Adam and all his numerous Race
Are Vanity and Smoke.]

VI.

I'm but a Sojourner below
As all my Fathers were,
May I be well prepar'd to go
When I the Summons hear!

VII.

But if my Life be spar'd a while Before my last Remove,
Thy Praise shall be my Business still,
And I'll declare thy Love.

PSALM XL. 1, 2, 3, 5, 17. First. Pt. Com. Met.
A Song of Deliverance from great Distress.

I.

I waited patient for the Lord,
He bow'd to hear my Cry;
He saw me resting on his Word,
And brought Salvation nigh.

II.

He rais'd me from a horrid Pit
Where mourning long I lay,
And from my Bonds releas'd my Feet,
Deep Bonds of miry Clay.

III.

Firm on a Rock he made me stand,
And taught my chearful Tongue
To praise the Wonders of his Hand
In a new thankful Song.

IV.

I'll spread his Works of Grace abroad;
The Saints with Joy shall hear,

And

And Sinners learn to make my God
Their only Hope and Fear.

V.

How many are thy Thoughts of Love!
Thy Mercies, Lord, how great!
We have not Words nor Hours enough
Their Numbers to repeat.

VI.

When I'm afflicted, poor and low,
And Light and Peace depart,
My God beholds my heavy Woe,
And bears me on his Heart

PSALM XL. 6—9. Second Part. Com. Met.
The Incarnation and Sacrifice of Christ.

I.

(vain,

THUS saith the Lord, "Your Work is
" Give your Burnt-Offerings o'er,
" In dying Goats and Bullocks slain
" My Soul delights no more.

II.

Then spake the Saviour, "Lo I'm here,
" My God, to do thy Will;
" What e'er thy Sacred Books declare
" Thy Servant shall fulfill.

III.

" Thy Law is ever in my Sight,
" I keep it near my Heart;
" Mine Ears are open'd with delight
" To what thy Lips impart.

IV.

And see, the blest Redeemer comes,
Th' Eternal Son appears,

And

And at th' appointed Time assumes
The Body God prepares.

V.

Much he reveal'd his Father's Grace,
And much his Truth he shew'd,
And preacht the Way of Righteousness
Where great Assemblies stood.

VI.

His Father's Honour toucht his Heart,
He pity'd Sinners Cries,
And to fulfill a Saviour's part
Was made a Sacrifice.

P A U S E.

VII.

No Blood of Beasts on Altars shed
Could wash the Conscience clean,
But the rich Sacrifice he paid
Atones for all our Sin.

VIII.

Then was the great Salvation spread,
And Satan's Kingdom shook ;
Thus by the Woman's promis'd Seed
The Serpent's head was broke.

If David had written this Psalm in the Days of the Gospel surely he would have given a much more express and particular account of the Sacrifice of Christ, as he hath done of his Preaching, v. 9, 10. and enlarged as Paul does in Heb. 10. 4. &c. where this Psalm is cited. I have done no more therefore in this paraphrase than what I'm perswaded the Psalmist himself would have done in the time of Christianity.

The Scriptures which I have used here on this Occasion are, Heb. 10. 4. It is not possible the Blood of Bulls and of Goats should take away Sin. v. 5. A Body hast thou prepared me, John. 7. 18. I seek the Glory of him that sent me. Heb. 10. 26. He appeared to put away Sin by the Sacrifice of himself. Gen. 3. 15. The Seed of the Woman shall bruise the Serpent's Head.

PSALM

PSALM XL. 5—10. Long Metre.
Christ our Sacrifice.

I. (wrought)
THE Wonders, Lord, Thy Love has Exceed our Praise, surmount our Should I attempt the long Detail, (Thought;
 My Speech would faint, my Numbers fail.

II.
 No Blood of Beasts on Altars Spilt
 Can cleanse the Souls of Men from Guilt;
 But Thou hast set before our Eyes
 An All-Sufficient Sacrifice.

III.
 Lo! thine Eternal Son appears,
 To thy Designs he bows his Ears,
 Assumes a Body well prepar'd,
 And well performs a Work so hard.

IV.
 " Behold, I come (the Saviour Cries
 With Love and Duty in his Eyes)
 " I come to bear the heavy Load
 " Of Sins, and do thy Will, my God.

V.
 " 'Tis written in thy great Decree,
 " 'Tis in thy Book foretold of Me,
 " I must fulfill the Saviour's Part,
 " And lo! thy Law is in my Heart.

VI.
 " I'll magnify thy holy Law,
 " And Rebels to Obedience draw,
 " When on my Cross I'm lifted high,
 " Or to my Crown above the Sky.

VII.

“ The Spirit shall descend and show
 “ What Thou hast done, and what I do;
 “ The wond’ring world shall learn thy grace
 “ Thy Wisdom and thy Righteousness.

Besides some of the Scriptures mention’d under the former Metre, I have here made use of these also. 1. John 3. 5. The Son of God was manifested, &c. 1. Pet. 2. 24. He bare our Sins. Isa. 42. 21. He will magnify the Law and make it Honourable. John 12. 32. If I be lifted up, I will draw all Men to me. John 16. 14. The Spirit shall receive of mine and shew it unto you.

P S A L M XLI. 1, 2, 3.

Charity to the Poor; or, Pity to the Afflicted.

I.

BLEST is the Man whose Bowells move,
 And melt with Pity to the Poor,
 Whose Soul by sympathizing Love
 Feels what his fellow-Saints endure.

II.

His Heart contrives for their Relief
 More Good than his own Hands can do;
 He in the Time of general Grief
 Shall find the Lord has Bowells too.

III.

His Soul shall live secure on Earth,
 With secret Blessings on his Head,
 When Drought, & Pestilence, & Death
 Around him multiply their Dead.

IV.

Or if he languish on his Couch
 God will pronounce his Sins forgiven,

Will

Will save him with a healing Touch,
Or take his willing Soul to Heaven.

The Ten last Verses of this Psalm are of quite another Subject, relating to David's personal Enemies, which being so frequently repeated I have often omitted.

The positive Blessings of long Life, Health, Recovery and Security in the Midst of Dangers being so much promised in the Old Testament, and so little in the New, I have given a Turn at the End of this Hymn to discourage a too confident Expectation of these temporal Things, and lead the Soul to heavenly Hopes, more agreeable to the Gospel.

P S A L M XLII. 1 — 5. First Part.

Desertion and Hope; or, Complaint of Absence from Publick Worship.

I.

WITH earnest Longings of the Mind,
My God, to Thee I look;
So pants the hunted Hart to find
And taste the cooling Brook.

II.

When shall I see thy Courts of Grace,
And meet my God again?
So long an Absence from thy Face
My Heart endures with Pain.

III.

Temptations vex my weary Soul,
And Tears are my Repast;
The Foe insults without Controul,
“And where's your God at last?”

IV.

'Tis with a mournful Pleasure now
I think on antient Days;
Then to thy House did Numbers go,
And all our Work was Praise.

V.

But why, my Soul, sunk down so far
 Beneath this heavy Load?
 Why do my Thoughts indulge Despair,
 And Sin against my God?

VI.

Hope in the Lord, whose mighty Hand
 Can all thy Woes remove;
 For I shall yet before Him stand,
 And sing restoring Love.

P S A L M XLII. 6——II. Second Part.

Melancholy Thoughts reprov'd; or, Hope in Afflictions.

I.

My Spirit sinks within me, Lord,
 But I will call thy Name to mind,
 And Times of past Distress record,
 When I have found my God was kind.

II.

Huge Troubles with tumultuous Noise
 Swell like a Sea, and round me spread;
 Thy Water-spouts drown all my Joys,
 And rising Waves roll o'er my Head.

III.

Yet will the Lord command his Love
 When I address his Throne by Day,
 Nor in the Night his Grace remove;
 The Night shall hear me sing and pray.

IV.

I'll cast my self before his Feet,
 And say, "My God, my heavenly Rock,
 "Why

“ Why doth thy Love so long forget
 “ The Soul that groans beneath thy Stroke?
 V.

I'll chide my Heart that sinks so low,
 Why should my Soul indulge her Grief?
 Hope in the Lord, and Praise him too;
 He is my Rest, my sure Relief.

VI.

Thy Light and Truth shall guide me still,
 Thy Word shall my best Thoughts employ,
 And lead me to thine heavenly Hill,
 My God, my most exceeding Joy.

The 43d Psalm is so near a-kin to this, that I have omitted it, only borrowing the 3d and 4th verses to conclude this Hymn.

P S A L M XLIV. 1, 2, 3, 8, 15---26.

The Church's Complaint in Persecution.

I.

LORD we have heard thy Works of old
 Thy Works of Power and Grace,
 When to our Ears our Fathers told
 The Wonders of their Days.

II.

How thou didst build thy Churches here,
 And make thy Gospel known;
 Amongst them did thine Arm appear,
 Thy Light and Glory Shone.

III.

In God they boasted all the Day,
 And in a cheerful Throng
 Did Thousands meet to praise and pray,
 And Grace was all their Song.

IV.

IV.

But now our Souls are seiz'd with shame,
 Confusion fills our Face
 To hear the Enemy Blaspheme,
 And Fools reproach thy Grace.

V.

Yet have we not forgot our God,
 Nor falsely dealt with Heaven,
 Nor have our Steps declin'd the Road
 Of Duty thou hast given.

VI.

Tho' Dragons all around us roar
 With their Destructive Breath,
 And thine own Hand has bruis'd us sore
 Hard by the Gates of Death,

P A U S E.

VII.

We are expos'd all Day to Die
 As Martyrs for thy Cause,
 As Sheep for Slaughter bound we lie
 By sharp and bloody Laws,

VIII.

Awake Arise, Almighty Lord,
 Why sleeps thy wonted Grace?
 Why should we look like Men abhorr'd,
 Or banisht from thy Face?

IX.

Wilt thou for ever cast us off,
 And still neglect our Cries?
 Or ever hide thine heavenly Love
 From our afflicted Eyes?

X.

Down to the Dust our Soul is bow'd,
 And dies upon the Ground;
 Rise for our Help, rebuke the Proud
 And all their Powers confound.

XI.

Redeem us from perpetual Shame,
 Our Saviour and our God;
 We plead the Honours of thy Name,
 The Merits of thy Blood.

P S A L M XLV. Short Metre.

The Glory of Christ, The Success of the Gospel and the Gentile Church.

I.

Mr Saviour and my King,
 Thy Beauties are Divine;
 Thy Lips with Blessings overflow,
 And every Grace is thine,

II.

Now make thy Glory known,
 Gird on thy dreadful Sword,
 And ride in Majesty to spread
 The Conquests of thy Word.

III.

Strike thro' thy stubborn Foes,
 Or melt their Hearts t'obey,
 While Justice, Meekness, Grace and Truth
 Attend thy glorious Way.

IV.

Thy Laws, O God, are right;
 Thy Throne shall ever stand;

And

And thy victorious Gospel proves
A Sceptre in thy Hand.

V.

[Thy Father and thy God
Hath without Measure shed
His Spirit like a joyful Oyl
T'anoint thy sacred Head.]

VI.

[Behold, at thy right Hand
The Gentile Church is seen,
Like a fair Bride in rich Attire,
And Princes guard the Queen.]

VII.

Fair Bride, receive his Love,
Forget thy Father's House;
Forsake thy Gods, thy Idol-Gods,
And pay thy Lord thy Vows.

VIII.

O let thy God and King
Thy sweetest Thoughts employ;
Thy Children shall his Honours Sing
In Palaces of Joy.

This Psalm is a description of the Personal Glories of Christ and the Success of his Gospel; and probably it refers to the Gentile Church, because she is bid to forget her Father's house; All under the Type of Solomon's Marriage to Pharaoh's Daughter.

St. 4. John 3. 34. God giveth not the Spirit by measure unto him.

P S A L M XLV. Common Metre
The Personal Glories & Government of Christ.

I.

I'LL speak the Honours of my King;
His Form divinely fair;

None

None of the Sons of mortal Race
May with the Lord compare.

II.

Sweet is thy Speech, and heavenly Grace
Upon thy Lips is shed;
Thy God with Blessings infinite
Hath crown'd thy Sacred Head.

III.

Gird on thy Sword, victorious Prince;
Ride with majestick Sway;
Thy Terrors shall strike thro' thy Foes,
And make the World obey.

IV.

Thy Throne, O God, forever stands;
Thy Word of Grace shall prove
A peacefull Sceptre in thy Hands,
To rule the Saints by Love.

V.

Justice and Truth attend thee still,
But Mercy is thy Choice;
And God, thy God thy Soul shall fill
With most peculiar Joys.

P S A L M XLV. First Part. Long Metre.
The Glory of Christ & Power of his Gospel.

I.

Now be my Heart inspir'd to Sing
The Glories of my Saviour-King,
Jesus the Lord; How heavenly fair
His Form! how bright his Beauties are!

II.

O'er all the Sons of humane Race
He shines with a superior Grace,

Love

Love from his Lips divinely flows,
And Blessings all his State compose.

III.

Dress thee in Arms, most mighty Lord,
Gird on the Terror of thy Sword,
In Majesty and Glory ride
With Truth and Meekness at thy Side.

IV.

Thine Anger like a pointed Dart
Shall pierce the Foes of stubborn Heart;
Or Words of Mercy kind and sweet
Shall melt the Rebels at thy Feet.

V.

Thy Throne, O God, for ever stands,
Grace is the Sceptre in thy Hands;
Thy Laws and Works are just and right,
Justice and Grace are thy Delight.

VI.

God thine own God, has richly shed
His Oyl of Gladness on thy Head,
And with his sacred Spirit blest
His First-Born Son above the rest.

PSALM XLV. Second Part. Long Met.
Christ and his Church; or, the Mystical Marriage.

I.

THE King of Saints, how fair his Face,
Adorn'd with Majesty and Grace!
He comes with Blessings from above,
And wins the Nations to his Love.

G

II.

At his right Hand our Eyes behold
 The Queen array'd in purest Gold;
 The World admires her heavenly Dress,
 Her Robe of Joy and Righteousness.

III.

He forms her Beauties like his own,
 He calls and seats her near his Throne:
 Fair Stranger, let thine Heart forget,
 The Idols of thy native State.

IV.

So shall the King the more rejoice
 In thee the Favourite of his Choice;
 Let him be lov'd and yet ador'd,
 For He's thy Maker and thy Lord.

V.

O happy Hour, when thou shalt rise
 To his fair Palace in the Skies,
 And all thy Sons (a numerous Train)
 Each like a Prince in Glory reign!

VI.

Let endless Honours crown his Head;
 Let every Age his Praises spread;
 While we with chearful Songs approve
 The Condescensions of his Love.

 When Storms of sharp Distress invade;
 E'er

E'er we can offer our Complaints
Behold him present with his Aid.

II.

Let Mountains from their Seats be hurl'd
Down to the deep, and buried there;
Convulsions shake the solid World,
Our Faith shall never yield to Fear.

III.

Loud may the troubled Ocean roar,
In sacred Peace our Souls abide,
While every Nation, every Shore
Trembles and dreads the swelling Tide.

IV.

There is a Stream whose gentle Flow
Supplies the City of our God;
Life, Love and Joy still gliding thro'
And watering our divine Abode.

From Sea to Sea thro' all the Shores
He makes the Noise of Battle cease;
When from on high his Thunder roars
He awes the trembling World to Peace.

IV.

He breaks the Bow, he cuts the Spear,
Chariots he burns with heavenly Flame;
Keep Silence all the Earth, and hear
The Sound and Glory of his Name.

Let Mortals learn their Strains;
Let all the Earth his Honour sing;
O'er all the Earth he reigns.

IV.

Rehearse his Praise with Awe profound,
Let Knowledge lead the Song,
Nor mock him with a solemn Sound
Upon a thoughtless Tongue.

V.

In Israel stood his antient 'Throne,
He lov'd that chosen Race,
But now he calls the World his own,
And Heathens taste his Grace.

The City where we dwell,
Compass and view thine holy Ground,
And mark the Building well.

IV.

The Orders of thy House,
The Worship of thy Court,
The chearful Songs, the solemn Vows;
And make a fair Report.

V.

How decent and how wise!
How glorious to behold!

Beyond the Pomp that charms the Eyes,
And Rites adorn'd with Gold.

VI.

The God we worship now
Will guide us till we dye,
Will be our God while here below,
And ours above the Sky.

PSALM XLIX. 6—14. *First Pt. Com. Met.
Pride and Death; or, The Vanity of Life and Riches.*

I.

W H Y doth the Man of Riches grow
To Insolence and Pride,
To see his Wealth and Honours flow
With every rising Tide?

II.

[Why doth he treat the Poor with Scorn
Made of the self-same Clay,
And boast as tho' his Flesh was born
Of better Dust than they?]

III.

Not all his Treasures can procure
His Soul a short Reprieve,
Redeem from Death one guilty Hour,
Or make his Brother live.

IV.

Life is a Blessing can't be sold,
The Ransom is too high;
Justice will ne'er be brib'd with Gold.
That Man may never die.

V.

He sees the Brutish and the Wise,
The Timorous and the Brave. Quit.

Quit their Possessions, close their Eyes,
And hasten to the Grave.

VI.

Yet 'tis his inward Thought and Pride,
" My House shall ever stand ;
" And that my Name may long abide
" I'll give it to my Land.

WH Y do the Proud insult the Poor,
And boast the large Estates they How vain are Riches to secure (have
Their haughty Owners from the Grave!

II.

They can't redeem one Hour from Death
With all the Wealth in which they trust;
Nor give a dying Brother Breath,
When God commands him down to Dust.

III.

III.

There the dark Earth and dismal Shade
 Shall clasp their naked Bodies round ;
 That Flesh so delicately fed
 Lies cold and moulders in the Ground.

IV.

Like thoughtless Sheep the Sinner dies,
 Laid in the Grave for Worms to eat :
 The Saints shall in the Morning rise
 And find th' Oppressor at their Feet.

V.

His Honours perish in the Dust,
 And Pomp and Beauty, Birth and Blood ;
 That glorious Day exalts the Just
 To full Dominion o'er the Proud.

VI.

My Saviour shall my Life restore,
 And raise me from my dark Abode :
 My Flesh and Soul shall part no more,
 But dwell for ever near my God.

PSALM L. 1—6. First Part. Com. Met.
The last Judgment ; or, The Saints rewarded.

I.

THE Lord, the Judge before his Throne
 Bids the whole Earth draw nigh,
 The Nations near the rising Sun,
 And near the western Sky.

II.

No more shall bold Blasphemers say,
 “ Judgment will ne’er begin ;
 No more abuse his long Delay
 To Impudence and Sin.

III.

Thron'd on a Cloud our God shall come,
 Bright Flames prepare his Way,
 Thunder and Darkneſs, Fire and Storm:
 Lead on the dreadful Day.

IV.

Heaven from above his Call ſhall hear,
 Attending Angels come
 And Earth and Hell ſhall know, and fear:
 His Juſtice, and their Doom.

V.

“ But gather all my Saints (he cries)
 “ That made their Peace with God
 “ By the Redeemer's Sacrifice,
 “ And ſeal'd it with his Blood.

VI.

(Light

“ Their Faith and Works brought forth to “ Shall make the World confeſs
 “ My Sentence of Reward is right,
 “ And Heaven adore my Grace.

PSALM. L. v. 8, 10, 11, 14, 15, 23. Second
Part. Common Metre.

Obedience is better than Sacrifice.

I

(Fields,

THUS ſaith the Lord, “ The ſpacious
 “ And Flocks & Herds are mine,
 “ O'er all the Cattle of the Hills
 “ I claim a Right divine.

II.

“ I aſk no Sheep for Sacrifice,
 “ Nor Bullocks burnt with Fire;
 “ To hope and love, to pray and praiſe
 “ Is all that I require.

III.

III.

- “ Call upon me when Trouble’s near,
 “ My hand shall set thee free;
 “ Then shall thy thankfull Lips declare
 “ The Honour due to me.

IV.

- “ The Man that offers humble Praise,
 “ He glorifies me best;
 “ And those that tread my holy Ways
 “ Shall my Salvation taste.

PSALM L. v. 1, 5, 8, 16, 21, 22. Third
Part. Common Metre.

The Judgment of Hypocrites.

I.

(descend;

WHEN Christ to Judgment shall
 And Saints surround their Lord,
 He calls the Nations to attend,
 And hear his awful Word.

II.

- “ Not for the Want of Bullocks slain
 “ Will I the World reprove;
 “ Altars and Rites and Forms are vain “ Without the Fire of Love.

III.

- “ And what have Hypocrites to do
 “ To bring their Sacrifice?
 “ They call my Statutes just and true,
 “ But deal in Theft and Lies.

IV.

- “ Could you expect to ’scape my Sight,
 “ And Sin without controul?
 “ But I shall bring your Crimes to light
 “ With Anguish in your Soul.

v.

V.

Consider, ye that slight the Lord,
 Before his Wrath appear ;
 If once you fall beneath his Sword,
 'There's no Deliverer there.

PSALM L. Third Part. Long Metre.
Hypocrisy expos'd.

I.

THE Lord the Judge his Churches warns
 Let Hypocrites attend and fear
 Who place their hope in Rites and Forms,
 But make not Faith nor Love their Care.

II.

Vile Wretches dare rehearse his Name
 With Lips of Falshood and Deceit ;
 A Friend or Brother they defame,
 And sooth and flatter those they hate.

III.

They watch to do their Neighbours wrong,
 Yet dare to seek their Maker's Face ;
 They take his Covenant on their Tongue,
 But break his Laws, abuse his Grace.

IV.

To Heaven they lift their Hands unclean,
 Defil'd with Lust defil'd with Blood ;
 By Night they practise every Sin,
 By Day their Mouths draw near to God.

V.

And while his Judgments long delay,
 They grow secure and sin the more ;
 They think he sleeps as well as they,
 And put far off the dreadful Hour.

VI.

O dreadful Hour! when God draws near,
And sets their Crimes before their Eyes!
His Wrath their guilty Souls shall tear,
And no Deliverer dare to rise.

This Psalm having a plain reference to the last Judgment; I have in the first part omitted every thing that might obscure that sense of it.

The latter part of this Psalm being design'd to expose and terrify all Formal Worshippers and Hypocrites, I have form'd 2 or 3 Hymns on that Subject with some transposition and paraphrase of the verses; But I have kept the same introduction still by repeating the first verse of the Psalm.

P S A L M L. To a New Tune.

The Last Judgment.

I.

THE Lord, the Sovereign sends his Summons forth;
Calls the South Nations, and awakes the North;
From East to West the sounding Orders spread
Thro' distant Worlds and Regions of the Dead;
No more shall Atheists mock his long Delay;
His Vengeance sleeps no more: Behold the Day.

II.

Behold the Judge descends: his Guards are nigh,
Tempest and Fire attend him down the Sky:
Heaven, Earth and Hell draw near; let all Things come
To hear his Justice and the Sinner's Doom;
But gather first my Saints (the Judge commands)
Bring them, ye Angels, from their distant Lands.

III.

Behold my Covenant stands for ever good,
Seal'd by th' Eternal Sacrifice in Blood,
And sign'd with all their Names; the Greek; the Jew,
That pay'd the antient Worship or the new,
There's no Distinction here: Come, spread their Thrones,
And near me seat my Favorites and my Sons.

IV.

IV.

I their Almighty Saviour and their God,
 I am their Judge : Ye Heavens, proclaim abroad
 My just Eternal Sentence, and declare
 Those awful Truths that Sinners dread to hear :
 Sinners in Zion tremble and retire ;
 I doom the painted Hypocrite to Fire.

V.

Not for the want of Goats or Bulls slain
 Do I condemn thee ; Bulls and Goats are vain
 Without the Flames of Love : In vain the Store
 Of Brutal Offerings that were mine before ;
 Mine are the tamer Beasts and savage Breed,
 Flocks, Herds, and Fields, and Forests where they feed.

VI.

If I were hungry, wou'd I ask thee Food ?
 When did I thirst, or drink thy Bulls Blood ?
 Can I be flatter'd with thy ringing Bows,
 Thy solemn Chatterings and Phantastick Vows ?
 Are my Eyes charm'd thy Vestments to behold,
 Glaring in Gems and gay in woven Gold ?

VII.

Unthinking Wretch ! how could'st thou hope to please
 A God, a Spirit, with such Toys as these ?
 While with my Grace and Statutes on thy Tongue
 Thou lov'st Deceit, and dost thy Brother Wrong ;
 In vain to pious Forms thy Zeal pretends,
 Thieves and Adulterers are thy chosen Friends.

VIII.

Silent I waited with long-suffering Love,
 But did'st thou hope that I should ne'er reprove ?
 And cherish such an impious Thought within,
 That God the Righteous wou'd indulge thy Sin ?
 Behold my Terrors now : My Thunders roll,
 And thy own Crimes affright thy guilty Soul.

IX.

Sinners, awake betimes; Ye Fools, be wise;
 Awake before this dreadful Morning rise;
 Change your vain Thoughts, your crooked Works amend
 Fly to the Saviour, make the Judge your Friend;
 Lest like a Lion his last Vengeance tear
 Your trembling Souls, and no Deliverer near.

In this Metre as in some of the former I have taken evident Occasion from this Psalm to represent the Last Judgment, and have therefore left out those verses that seem to interrupt that Sense.

Stanz. 3. All the Saints have made a Covenant with God by Sacrifice, (as in the Text) and as it were set their Names to God's Covenant of Grace, ratified by the Sacrifice of Christ of eternal vertue; Tho' the Jews did it in the antient Forms of Worship, and the Gentiles in the New.

Stanz. 6. 7. As the Jewish Formal Worshipers contented themselves with Burnt Offerings, &c. and trusted in them; so Hypocrites in Christianity build their Hopes upon outward Forms, gay Ceremonies, rigid Austerities, fanciful Vows, &c.

The last Judgment.

I.

THUE God of Glory sends his Summons forth,
 Calls the South Nations, and awakes the North;
 From East to West the sovereign Orders spread,
 Thro' distant Worlds and Regions of the Dead.

*The Trumpet sounds; Hell trembles; Heaven rejoices;
 Lift up your Heads, ye Saints, with chearful Voices.*

II.

No more shall Atheists mock his long Delay;
 His Vengeance sleeps no more; Behold the Day:
 Behold the Judge descends; His Guards are nigh;
 Tempest and Fire attend him down the Sky.

*When God appears, all Nature shall adore him;
 While Sinners tremble, Saints joyce before him.*

III.

III.

- “ Heaven, Earth, and Hell draw near ; let all things “ To hear my Justice and the Sinners Doom ; (come
 “ But gather first my Saints ; (the Judge commands)
 “ Bring them, ye Angels, from their distant Lands.

*When Christ returns, wake every chearful Passion,
 And shout, ye Saints ; He comes for your Salvation.*

IV.

- “ Behold my Covenant stands for ever good,
 “ Seal'd by th' Eternal Sacrifice in Blood,
 “ And sign'd with all their Names ; the Greek, the Jew,
 “ That pay'd the Ancient Worship or the New ;
*There's no Distinction here. Join all your Voices,
 And raise your Heads, ye Saints, for Heaven rejoices.*

V.

- “ Here (saith the Lord) ye Angels, spread their Thrones,
 “ And near me seat my Favourites and my Sons.
 “ Come, my Redeem'd, possess the Joys prepar'd
 “ E'er Time began ; 'Tis your divine Reward.
*When Christ returns, wake every chearful Passion,
 And shout, ye Saints, he comes for your Salvation.*

P A U S E the First.

VI.

- “ I am the Saviour, I th' Almighty God,
 “ I am the Judge : Ye Heavens, proclaim abroad
 “ My just eternal Sentence, and declare
 “ Those awful Truths that Sinners dread to hear.
*When God appears, all Nature shall adore him ;
 While Sinners tremble, Saints joyce before him.*

VII.

- “ Stand forth, Thou bold Blasphemer, and prophane,
 “ Now feel my Wrath, nor call my Threatnings vain ;
 “ Thou Hypocrite, once drest in Saints Attire,
 “ I doom the painted Hypocrite to Fire.

Judgment

*Judgment proceeds ; Hell trembles ; Heaven rejoices ;
Lift up your Heads, ye Saints, with chearful Voices.*

VIII.

“ Not for the want of Goats or Bullocks slain
“ Do I condemn thee ; Bulls and Goats are vain
“ Without the Flames of Love : In vain the Store
“ Of Brutal Offerings that were mine before :
*Earth is the Lord's ; all Nature shall adore him :
While Sinners tremble, Saints rejoyce before him.*

IX.

“ If I were hungry would I ask thee Food ?
“ When did I thirst ? or drink thy Bullocks Blood ?
“ Mine are the tamer Beasts and savage Breed,
“ Flocks, Herds, and Fields, and Forests where they feed.
All is the Lords. He rules the wide Creation ; Gives Sinners Vengeance, and the Saints Salvation.

X.

“ Can I be flatter'd with thy cringing Bows,
“ Thy solemn Chatterings and Phantastick Vows ?
“ Are my Eyes charm'd thy Vestments to behold,
“ Glaring in Gems, and gay in woven Gold ?
*God is the Judge of Hearts : No fair Disguises
Can skreen the Guilty when his Vengeance rises.*

P A U S E the Second.

XI.

“ Unthinking Wretch ! how could'st thou hope to
“ A God, a Spirit, with such Toys as these ? (please
“ While with my Grace and Statutes on thy Tongue
“ Thou lov'st Deceit, and dost thy Brother wrong.
*Judgment proceeds ; Hell trembles ; Heaven rejoices ;
Lift up your Heads, ye Saints, with chearful Voices.*

XII.

In vain to pious Forms thy Zeal pretends ;
Thieves and Adulterers are thy chosen Friends :

“ While

- “ While the false Flatterer at my Altar waits,
 “ His harden'd Soul divine Instruction hates.
*God is the Judge of Hearts: No fair Disguises
 Can skreen the Guilty when his Vengeance rises.*

XIII.

- “ Silent I waited with long-suffering Love;
 “ But didst thou hope that I should ne'er reprove?
 “ And cherish such an impious Thought within,
 “ That the All-Holy wou'd indulge thy Sin?
*See, God appears; all Nature joyns t' adore him:
 Judgment proceeds, and Sinners fall before him.*

XIV.

- “ Behold my Terrors now: My Thunders roll,
 “ And thy own Crimes affright thy guilty Soul;
 “ New like a Lion shall my Vengeance tear
 “ Thy bleeding Heart, and no Deliverer near.
*Judgment concludes; Hell trembles; Heaven rejoices;
 Lift up your Heads, ye Saints, with chearful Voices.*

Epiphonema.

Sinners, awake betimes; Ye Fools, be wise;
 Awake before this dreadful Morning rise: (amend
 Change your vain Thoughts, your crooked Work
 Fly to the Saviour, make the Judge your Friend:

*Then joyn the Saints: Wake every chearful Passion,
 When Christ returns, He comes for your Salvation.*

If the former Heroick Metre do not fit the old Proper Tune of the Fiftieth Psalm, for want of Double Rhymes at the End of every Stanza, I have here alter'd the Form of it much, in order to fit it exactly to the old Proper Tune; adding a Chorus, or (as some call it) the Burden of the Song, betwixt every Four Lines. I hope it will not be displeasing to the more Musical Part of my Readers to be entertained with such a Variety.

PSALM LI. First Part. Long Metre.
A Penitent Pleading for Pardon.

I.

SHEW pity, Lord, O Lord forgive,
Let a repenting Rebel live :
Are not thy Mercies large and free ?
May not a Sinner trust in Thee ?

II.

My Crimes are great, but not surpass
The Power and Glory of thy Grace :
Great God, thy Nature hath no Bound,
So let thy pardoning Love be found.

III.

O wash my Soul from every Sin,
And make my guilty Conscience clean ;
Here on my Heart the Burden lies,
And past Offences pain my Eyes.

IV.

My Lips with Shame my Sins confess
Against thy Law, against thy Grace :
Lord, should thy Judgment grow severe,
I am condemn'd, but thou art clear.

V.

Should sudden Vengeance seize my Breath,
I must pronounce thee just in Death ;
And if my Soul were sent to Hell,
Thy righteous Law approves it well.

VI.

Yet save a trembling Sinner, Lord,
Whose Hope still hovering round thy Word
Would light on some sweet Promise there,
Some sure Support against Despair.

PSALM LI. Second Part. Long Metre.
Original and Actual Sin confest.

I.

LORD, I am vile, conceiv'd in Sin;
 And born unholy and unclean;
 Sprung from the Man whose guilty Fall
 Corrupts the Race, and taints us All.

II.

Soon as we draw our Infant-breath
 The Seeds of Sin grow up for Death;
 'Thy Law demands a perfect Heart,
 But we're defil'd in every part.

III.

[Great God, create my Heart a-new,
 And form my Spirit pure and true:
 O make me wise betimes to spy
 My Danger and my Remedy.]

IV.

Behold I fall before thy Face;
 My only Refuge is thy Grace:
 No outward Forms can make me clean;
 The Leprosy lies deep within.

V.

No bleeding Bird, nor bleeding Beast,
 Nor Hislop-Branch, nor sprinkling Priest,
 Nor running Brook, nor Flood, nor Sea,
 Can wash the dismal Stain away.

VI.

Jesus, my God, thy Blood alone
 Hath Power sufficient to atone;
 'Thy Blood can make me white as Snow;
 No Jewish Types could cleanse me so.

VII.

VII.

While Guilt disturbs and breaks my Peace,
Nor Flesh nor Soul hath Rest or Ease;
Lord, let me hear thy pardoning Voice,
And make my broken Bones rejoice.

Stanz. 4, 5. Since the Psalmist seems to refer to the Branch of Hissop sprinkling the Blood of the Bird, and the running Water, Num. 14. 51. I have here enlarged upon the Insufficiency of all those Rites, for the cleansing of Sin which is the Leprosy of the Soul.

Stanz. 6. Such a glorious occasion of introducing the blood of a Saviour could not be omitted here with justice to David, or to Christ his Son.

P S A L M LI. Third Part. Long Metre.

The Backslider restored; or, Repentance and Faith in the Blood of Christ.

I.

O Thou that hear'st when Sinners Cry,
Tho' all my Crimes before thee ly,
Behold them not with angry Look,
But blot their Memory from thy Book.

II.

Create my Nature pure within,
And form my Soul averse to Sin:
Let thy Good Spirit ne'er depart,
Nor hide thy Presence from my Heart.

III.

I cannot live without thy Light,
Cast out and banisht from thy Sight:
Thine holy Joys, my God, restore,
And guard me that I fall no more.

IV. Tho'

IV.

Tho' I have griev'd thy Spirit, Lord,
His Help and Comfort still afford :
And let a Wretch come near thy Throne
To plead the Merits of thy Son.

V.

A Broken Heart, my God, my King,
Is all the Sacrifice I bring ;
The God of Grace will ne'er despise
A Broken Heart for Sacrifice.

VI.

My Soul lies humbled in the Dust,
And owns thy dreadful Sentence just ;
Look down, O Lord, with pitying Eye,
And save the Soul condemn'd to die.

VII.

Then will I teach the World thy Ways ;
Sinners shall learn thy sovereign Grace ;
I'll lead them to my Saviour's Blood,
And they shall praise a pardoning God.

VIII.

O may thy Love inspire my Tongue !
Salvation shall be all my Song ;
And all my Powers shall join to bless
The Lord my Strength and Righteousness.

*The 17th verse concerning the Sacrifice of a broken Heart,
I have here transposed to make an easier Connexion.*

PSALM LI. 3—13. First Part. Com. Met.
Original and Actual Sin confess'd & pardon'd.

I.

LORD, I would spread my sore Distress
And Guilt before thine Eyes ;
Against

Against thy Laws, against thy Grace
How high my Crimes arise !

II.

Should'st Thou condemn my Soul to Hell
And crush my Flesh to Dust,
Heav'n would approve thy Vengeance well,
And Earth must own it just.

III.

I from the Stock of Adam came,
Unholy and unclean ;
All my Original is Shame,
And all my Nature Sin.

IV.

Born in a World of Guilt I drew
Contagion with my Breath ;
And as my Days advanc'd I grew
A juster Prey for Death.

V.

Cleanse me, O Lord, and cheer my Soul
With thy forgiving Love ;
O make my broken Spirit whole
And bid my Pains remove.

VI.

Let not thy Spirit quite depart,
Nor drive me from thy Face ;
Create anew my vicious Heart,
And fill it with thy Grace.

VII.

Then will I make thy Mercy known
Before the Sons of Men ;
Backsliders shall address thy Throne,
And turn to God again.

PSALM LI. 14—17. Second Part. Com. Met.
Repentance and Faith in the Blood of Christ.

I.

O God of Mercy, hear my Call,
 My Loads of Guilt remove,
 Break down this separating Wall
 That bars me from thy Love.

II.

Give me the Presence of thy Grace,
 Then my rejoicing Tongue
 Shall speak aloud thy Righteousness,
 And make thy Praise my Song.

III.

No Blood of Goats, nor Heifer slain
 For Sin could e'er atone;
 The Death of Christ shall still remain
 Sufficient and alone.

IV.

A Soul oppress'd with Sins Desert
 My God will ne'er despise;
 A humble Groan, a broken Heart
 Is our best Sacrifice.

PSALM LIII. 4—6.

Victory and Deliverance from Persecution.

I.

ARE all the Foes of Sion, Fools,
 Who thus devour her Saints?
 Do they not know her Saviour rules,
 And pities her Complaints?

II.

They shall be seiz'd with sad Surprise;
 For God's revenging Arm

Scatters

Scatters the Bones of them that rise
To do his Children Harm.

III.

In vain the Sons of Satan boast
Of Armies in array ;
When God has first despis'd their Host,
They fall an easy Prey.

IV.

O for a Word from Sion's King
Her Captives to restore !
Jacob with all his Tribes shall sing,
And Judah weep no more.

The first part of this Psalm is the same with the 14th.

PSALM LV. 1--8, 16, 17, 18, 22. Com. Met.
Support for the afflicted and tempted Soul.

I.

O God, my Refuge, hear my Cries,
Behold my flowing Tears,
For Earth and Hell my Hurt devise,
And triumph in my Fears.

II.

Their Rage is level'd at my Life,
My Soul with Guilt they load,
And fill my Thoughts with inward Strife
To shake my Hope in God.

III.

With inward Pain my Heart-strings sound,
I groan with every Breath ;
Horror and Fear beset me round
Amongst the Shades of Death.

IV.

O were I like a feather'd Dove,
And Innocence had Wings ;

I'd

I'd fly, and make a long Remove
From all these restless Things.

V.

Let me to some wild Defart go,
And find a peaceful Home,
Where Storms of Malice never blow,
Temptations never come.

VI.

Vain Hopes, and vain Inventions all
To 'scape the Rage of Hell!
The mighty God on whom I call
Can save me here as well.

P A U S E.

VII.

By Morning Light I'll seek his Face,
At Noon repeat my Cry,
The Night shall hear me ask his Grace,
Nor will he long deny.

VIII.

God shall preserve my Soul from Fear,
Or shield me when afraid;
Ten thousand Angels must appear
If He command their Aid.

IX.

I cast my Burdens on the Lord,
The Lord sustains them all;
My Courage rests upon his Word
That Saints shall never fall.

X.

My highest Hopes shall not be vain,
My Lips shall spread his Praise;
While cruel and deceitful Men
Scarce live ou Half their Days.

I have left out some whole Psalms, and several parts of others that tend to fill the Mind with overwhelming Sorrows, or sharp Resentment; neither of which are so well suited to the Spirit of the Gospel, and therefore the particular Complaints of David against Achitophel here are entirely omitted.

PSALM LV. v. 15, 16, 17, 19, 22. Short Met.
Dangerous Prosperity; or, Daily Devotions Encouraged.

I.

LET Sinners take their Course,
 And chuse the Road to Death;
 But in the Worship of my God
 I'll spend my daily Breath.

II.

My Thoughts address his Throne
 When Morning brings the Light;
 I seek his Blessing every Noon,
 And pay my Vows at Night.

III.

Thou wilt regard my Cries,
 O my Eternal God,
 While Sinners perish in surprize
 Beneath thine angry Rod.

IV.

Because they dwell at Ease
 And no sad Changes feel,
 They neither fear nor trust thy Name,
 Nor learn to do thy Will.

V.

But I with all my Cares,
 Will lean upon the Lord,
 I'll cast my Burdens on his Arm,
 And rest upon his Word.

VI.

VI.

His Arm shall well sustain
 The Children of his Love ;
 The Ground on which their Safety stands
 No earthly Power can move.

P S A L M LVI.

*Deliverance from Oppression and Falshood ;
 Or, God's Care of his People in answer to Faith and Prayer.*

I.

O Thou whose Justice reigns on high,
 And makes th' Oppressor cease,
 Behold how envious Sinners try
 To vex and break my Peace !

II.

The Sons of Violence and Lies
 Join to devour me, Lord ;
 But as my hourly Dangers rise
 My Refuge is thy Word.

III.

In God most holy, just and true
 I have repos'd my Trust ;
 Nor will I fear what Flesh can do,
 The Offspring of the Dust.

IV.

They wrest my Words to Mischief still,
 Charge me with unknown Fau'ts ;
 Mischief doth all their Counsels fill,
 And Malice all their Thoughts.

V.

Shall they escape without thy Frown ?
 Must their Devices stand ?

O cast the haughty Sinner down,
And let him know thy Hand !

P A U S E.

VI.

God counts the Sorrows of his Saints,
Their Groans affect his Ears ;
Thou hast a Book for my Complaints,
A Bottle for my Tears.

VII.

When to thy Throne I raise my Cry,
The Wicked fear and flee ;
So swift is Prayer to reach the Sky,
So near is God to me.

VIII.

In Thee, Most Holy, Just and True,
I have repos'd my Trust ;
Nor will I fear what Man can do,
The Offspring of the Dust.

IX.

Thy Solemn Vows are on me Lord,
'Thou shalt receive my Praise ;
I'll Sing how faithful is thy Word ;
How righteous all thy Ways !

X.

Thou hast secur'd my Soul from Death,
O set thy Prisoner free,
That Heart and Hand, & Life & Breath
May be employ'd for Thee.

PSALM

P S A L M LVII.

Praise for Protection, Grace and Truth.

I.

My God, in whom are all the Springs
Of boundless Love & Grace unknown
Hide me beneath thy spreading Wings
Till the dark Cloud is overblown.

II.

Up to the Heavens I send my Cry,
The Lord will my Desires perform ;
He sends his Angel from the sky,
And saves me from the threatening Storm.

III.

Be Thou exalted, O my God,
Above the Heav'ns where Angels dwell ;
Thy Power on Earth be known abroad,
And Land to Land thy Wonders tell.

IV.

My Heart is fixt ; my Song shall raise
Immortal Honours to thy Name ;
Awake my Tongue, to sound his Praise,
My Tongue, the Glory of my Frame.

V.

High o'er the Earth his Mercy reigns,
And reaches to the utmost Sky ;
His Truth to endless Years remains
When lower Worlds dissolve and dye.

VI.

Be Thou exalted, O my God,
Above the Heav'ns where Angels dwell ;
Thy Power on Earth be known abroad,
And Land to Land thy Wonders tell.

P S A L M LVIII. as the 113th Psalm.Warning to Magistrates.

I.

JUDGES, who rule the World by Laws,
Will ye despise the righteous Cause,
When th' injur'd Poor before you stands?
Dare ye condemn the righteous Poor,
And let rich Sinners 'scape secure,
While Gold & Greatness bribe your

II. (Hands?)

Have ye forgot or never knew
That God will judge the Judges too?
High in the Heavens his Justice reigns;
Yet you invade the Rights of God,
And send your bold Decrees abroad
To bind the Conscience in your Chains:

III.

A poyson'd Arrow is your Tongue,
The Arrow sharp, the Poyson strong,
And Death attends where-e'er it wounds:
You hear no Counsels, Cries or Fears;
So the deaf Adder stops her Ears
Against the Power of charming Sounds:

IV.

Break out their Teeth, Eternal God,
Those Teeth of Lions dy'd in Blood;
And crush the Serpents in the Dust:
As empty Chaff, when Whirlwinds rise,
Before the sweeping Tempests flies,
So let their Hopes and Names be lost.

V.

Th' Almighty thunders from the Sky,
 Their Grandeur melts, their Titles die,
 As Hills of Snow dissolve and run,
 Or Snails that perish in their Slime,
 Or Births that come before their Time,
 Vain Births, that never see the Sun.

VI.

Thus shall the Vengeance of the Lord
 Safety and Joy to Saints afford ;
 And all that hear shall join and say,
 " Sure there's a God that rules on high,
 " A God that hears his Children cry,
 And will their Sufferings well repay.

PSALM LX. 1—5, 10—12.

On a Day of Humiliation for Disappointments in War.

I.

LORD, hast thou cast the Nation off?
 Must we for ever mourn?
 Wilt thou indulge immortal Wrath?
 Shall Mercy ne'er return?

II.

The Terror of one Frown of thine
 Melts all our Strength away ;
 Like Men that totter drunk with Wine,
 We tremble in Disinay.

III.

Great Britain shakes beneath thy Stroke,
 And dreads thy threatening Hand ;
 O heal the Island Thou hast broke,
 Confirm the wav'ring Land.

IV.

IV.

Lift up a Banner in the Field
 For those that fear thy Name;
 Save thy Beloved with thy Shield,
 And put our Foes to Shame.

V.

Go with our Armies to the Fight
 Like a Confederate God;
 In vain Confederate Powers unite
 Against thy lifted Rod.

VI.

Our Troops shall gain a wide Renown
 By thine assisting Hand;
 'Tis God that treads the Mighty down,
 And makes the Feeble stand.

P S A L M LXI. 1—6.

Safety in God.

I.

WHEN overwhelm'd with Grief
 My Heart within me dies,
 Helpless and far from all Relief
 To Heaven I lift mine Eyes.

II.

O lead me to the Rock
 That's high above my Head,
 And make the Covert of thy Wings
 My Shelter and my Shade.

III.

Within thy Presence, Lord,
 For ever I'll abide;
 Thou art the Tower of my Defence,
 The Refuge where I hide.

IV.

IV.

Thou givest me the Lot
Of those that fear thy Name;
If endless Life be their Reward,
I shall possess the same.

PSALM LXII. 5—12.

No Trust in the Creatures; or, Faith in Divine Grace and Power.

I.

My Spirit looks to God alone;
My Rock and Refuge is his Throne;
In all my Fear, in all my Straits
My Soul on his Salvation waits.

II.

Trust him, ye Saints, in all your Ways,
Pour out your Hearts before his Face:
When Helpers fail and Foes invade,
God is our all-sufficient Aid.

III.

False are the Men of high Degree,
The baser Sort are Vanity;
Laid in the Ballance both appear
Light as a Puff of empty Air.

IV.

Make not increasing Gold your Trust,
Nor set your Heart on glittering Dust;
Why will you grasp the fleeting Smoke,
And not believe what God has spoke?

V.

Once has his awful Voice declar'd,
Once and again my Ears have heard,
“ All Power is his eternal Due;
“ He must be fear'd and trusted too.

vi.

VI.

For Sovereign Power reigns not alone,
 Grace is a Partner of the Throne:
 Thy Grace and Justice, mighty Lord,
 Shall well divide our last Reward.

PSALM LXIII. 1, 2, 5, 3, 4. First Pt. Com. Met.
The Morning of a Lord's Day.

I.

EARLY my God without Delay
 I haste to seek thy Face;
 My thirsty Spirit faints away
 Without thy chearing Grace.

II.

So Pilgrims on the scorching Sand
 Beneath a burning Sky
 Long for a cooling Stream at hand,
 And they must drink or dye.

III.

I've seen thy Glory and thy Pow'r
 Thro' all thy Temple shine;
 My God repeat that heavenly Hour,
 That Vision so divine.

IV.

Not all the Blessings of a Feast
 Can please my Soul so well
 As when thy richer Grace I taste,
 And in thy Presence dwell.

V.

Not Life it self with all her Joys
 Can my best Passions move,
 Or raise so high my chearful Voice
 As thy forgiving Love.

VI.

Thus till my last expiring Day
 I'll bless my God and King;
 Thus will I lift my Hands to pray,
 And tune my Lips to sing.

PSALM LXIII. 6--10. Second Pt. Com. Met.
Midnight Thoughts recollected.

I.

TWAS in the Watches of the Night
 I thought upon thy Power,
 I kept thy lovely Face in Sight
 Amidst the darkest Hour.

II.

My Flesh lay resting on my Bed,
 My Soul arose on high;
 " My God, my Life, my Hope, I said,
 " Bring thy Salvation nigh.

III.

My Spirit labours up thine Hill,
 And climbs the heavenly Road;
 But thy Right Hand upholds me still,
 While I pursue my God.

IV.

Thy Mercy stretches o'er my Head
 The Shadow of thy Wings;
 My Heart rejoices in thine Aid,
 My Tongue awakes and sings.

V.

But the Destroyers of my Peace
 Shall fret and rage in vain;
 The Tempter shall for ever cease,
 And all my Sins be slain.

VI.

Thy Sword shall give my Foes to Death,
 And send them down to dwell
 In the dark Caverns of the Earth,
 Or to the Deepes of Hell.

P S A L M LXIII. Long Metre.

Longing after God; or, the Love of God better then Life.

I.

GREAT God, indulge my humble Claim,
 Thou art my Hope, my Joy, my Rest;
 The Glories that compose thy Name
 Stand all engag'd to make me blest.

II.

Thou Great and Good, thou Just and Wise,
 Thou art my Father and my God;
 And I am thine by sacred Ties;
 Thy Son, thy Servant bought with Blood.

III.

With Heart and Eyes and lifted Hands
 For thee I long, to thee I look,
 As Travellers in thirsty Lands
 Pant for the cooling Water-brook.

IV.

With early Feet I love t' appear
 Among thy Saints and seek thy Face;
 Oft have I seen thy Glory there,
 And felt the Power of sovereign Grace,

V.

Not Fruits nor Wines that tempt our Taste,
 Nor all the Joys our Senses know,
 Could make me so divinely blest,
 Or raise my chearful Passions so.

VI.

My Life it self without thy Love
 No Taste of Pleasure could afford ;
 'Twould but a tiresom Burden prove,
 If I were banish'd from the Lord.

VII.

'Amidst the wakeful Hours of Night
 When busy Cares afflict my Head,
 One Thought of Thee gives new Delight,
 And adds Refreshment to my Bed.

VIII.

I'll lift my Hands, I'll raise my Voice,
 While I have Breath to pray or praise ;
 This Work shall make my Heart rejoice,
 And spend the Remnant of my Days.

P S A L M LXIII. Short Metre.

Seeking God.

I.

MY God permit my Tongue
 This Joy, to call Thee mine,
 And let my early Cries prevail
 To taste thy Love divine.

II.

My thirsty fainting Soul
 Thy Mercy doth implore ;
 Not Travellers in desert Lands
 Can pant for Water more.

III.

Within thy Churches, Lord,
 I long to find my Place,
 Thy Power and Glory to behold,
 And feel thy quickning Grace.

IV.

IV.

For Life without thy Love
No Relish can afford ;
No Joy can be compar'd to this
To serve and please the Lord.

V.

To Thee I'll lift my Hands,
And praise Thee while I live ;
Not the rich Dainties of a Feast
Such Food or Pleasure give.

VI.

In wakefull Hours at Night
I call my God to mind ;
I think how wise thy Counsels are,
And all thy Dealings kind.

VII.

Since thou hast been my Help,
To Thee my Spirit flies,
And on thy watchfull Providence
My chearfull Hope relies.

VIII.

The Shadow of thy Wings
My Soul in Safety keeps ;
I follow where my Father leads,
And he supports my Steps.

*After I had finish'd the Common Metre of This Psalm,
I observed several pious Turns of Thought in Dr. Patrick's Version, which I have Copied in this Metre, tho' with some Difficulty because of the shorter Lines.*

PSALM

PSALM LXV. 1-5. First Part. Long Met.
Publick Prayer and Praise.

I.

THE Praise of Sion waits for Thee,
 My God; & Praise becomes thy House;
 There shall thy Saints thy Glory see,
 And there perform their publick Vows.

II.

O Thou, whose Mercy bends the Skies
 To save when humble Sinners pray,
 All Lands to Thee shall lift their Eyes,
 And Islands of the Northern Sea.

III.

Against my Will my Sins prevail,
 But Grace shall purge away their Stains;
 The Blood of Christ will never fail,
 To wash my Garments white again.

IV.

Blest is the Man whom thou shalt chuse
 And give him kind Access to Thee;
 Give him a Place within thy House,
 To taste thy Love divinely free.

P A U S E.

V.

Let Babel fear when Sion prays;
Babel, prepare for long Distress
 When Sion's God Himself arrays
 In Terror and in Righteousness.

VI.

With dreadfull Glory God fulfill's
 What his afflicted Saints request;

And

and with almighty Wrath reveals
His Love to give his Churches Rest.

VII.

Then shall the flocking Nations run
To Sion's Hill, and own their Lord;
The rising and the setting Sun
shall see the Saviour's Name ador'd.

PSALM LXV. 5--13. Second Pt. Long Met.
Divine Providence in Air, Earth and Sea;
or, The God of Nature and Grace.

I.

THE God of our Salvation hears
The Groans of Sion mixt with Tears;
Yet when He comes with kind Designs,
'thro' all the Way his Terror shines.

II.

On him the Race of Man depends,
Far as the Earth's remotest Ends,
Where the Creator's Name is known
By Nature's feeble Light alone.

III.

Sailors that travel o'er the Flood
Address their frighted Souls to God,
When Tempests rage and Billows roar
At dreadfull Distance from the Shore.

IV.

He bids the noisy Tempest cease;
He calms the raging Croud to Peace,
When a tumultuous Nation raves
Wild as the Winds, and loud as Waves.

V.

Whole Kingdoms shaken by the Storm
He settles in a peaceful Form; Moun-

Mountains establish'd by his Hand
Firm on their old Foundations stand.

VI.

Behold his Ensigns sweep the Sky,
New Comets blaze and Lightnings fly;
The Heathen Lands with swift Surprise
From the bright Horrors turn their Eyes.

VII.

At his Command the Morning-Ray
Smiles in the East, and leads the Day;
He guides the Sun's declining Wheels
Over the Tops of Western Hills.

VIII.

Seasons and Times obey his Voice;
The Evening and the Morn rejoice
To see the Earth made soft with Showers,
Laden with Fruit and drest in Flowers.

IX.

'Tis from his watry Stores on high
He gives the thirsty Ground supply;
He walks upon the Clouds, and thence
Doth his enriching Drops dispense.

X.

The Defart grows a fruitful Field,
Abundant Food the Valleys yield;
The Valleys shout with chearful Voice,
And neighb'ring Hills repeat their Joys.

XI.

'The Pastures smile in green Array;
There Lambs and larger Cattel play;
The larger Cattel and the Lamb,
Each in his Language speaks thy Name.

XII.

Thy Works pronounce thy Power divine;
O'er every Field thy Glories shine,
Thro' every Mouth thy Gifts appear;
Great God, thy Goodness crowns the Year.
PSALM LXV. First Part. Common Metre.
A Prayer-hearing God, and the Gentiles called.

I.

PRAISE waits in Zion, Lord, for Thee;
There shall our Vows be paid:
Thou hast an Ear when Sinners pray,
All Flesh shall seek thine Aid.

II.

Lord, our Iniquities prevail,
But pardoning Grace is thine,
And thou wilt grant us Power and Skill
To conquer every Sin.

III.

Bless'd are the Men whom thou wilt chuse
To bring them near thy Face,
Give them a Dwelling in thine House,
To feast upon thy Grace.

IV.

In answering what thy Church requests
Thy Truth and Terror shine,
And Works of dreadfull Righteousness
Fulfill thy kind Design.

V.

Thus shall the wondring Nations see
The Lord is good and just;
And distant Islands fly to thee,
And make thy Name their Trust.

VI.

VI.

They dread thy glitt'ring Tokens, Lord,
 When Signs in Heaven appear;
 But they shall learn thy holy Word,
 And love as well as fear.

PSALM LXV. Second Part. Common Metre.
The Providence of God in Air, Earth and Sea; or, The Blessing of Rain.

I.

(stand,

TIS by thy Strength the Mountains
 God of Eternal Power;
 The Sea grows calm at thy Command,
 And Tempests cease to roar.

II.

Thy Morning-Light and Evening-Shade
 Successive Comforts bring;
 Thy plenteous Fruits make Harvests glad,
 Thy Flow'rs adorn the Spring.

III.

Seasons and Times, and Moons and Hours,
 Heaven, Earth and Air are thine;
 When Clouds distill in fruitful Show'rs,
 The Author is divine.

IV.

Those wandring Cisterns in the Sky
 Born by the Winds around,
 With watry Treasures well supply
 The Furrows of the Ground.

V.

The thirsty Ridges drink their fill,
 And Ranks of Corn appear:
 Thy Ways abound with Blessings still,
 Thy Goodness crowns the Year.

PSALM LXV. Third Part. Common Metre.
The Blessings of the Spring; or, God gives Rain.

A Psalm for the Husbandman.

I.

GOOD is the Lord, the Heavenly King,
Who makes the Earth his Care,
Visits the Pastures every Spring,
And bids the Grass appear.

II.

The Clouds like Rivers rais'd on high
Pour out at thy Command
Their watry Blessings from the Sky,
To chear the thirsty Land.

III.

The soft'ned Ridges of the Field
Permit the Corn to spring;
The Valleys rich Provision yield,
And the poor Labourers sing.

IV.

The little Hills on every Side
Rejoyce at falling Show'rs:
The Meadows dress'd in all their Pride
Perfume the Air with Flow'rs.

V.

The barren Clods refresh'd with Rain
Promise a joyful Crop;
The parching Grounds look green again,
And raise the Reapers Hope.

VI.

The various Months thy Goodness crowns;
How bounteous are thy Ways?

The

The bleating Flocks spread o'er the Downs,
And Shepherds shout thy Praise.

PSALM LXVI. First Part.

Governing Power and Goodness; or, Our Grace tried by Afflictions.

I.

SING, all ye Nations to the Lord,
Sing with a joyful Noise;
With Melody of Sound record
His Honours and your Joys.

II.

Say to the Power that shakes the Sky,
"How terrible art Thou!
"Sinners before thy Presence fly,
"Or at thy Feet they bow.

III.

[Come, see the Wonders of our God,
How glorious are his Ways!
In Moses Hand he puts his Rod,
And cleaves the frighted Seas.

IV.

He made the ebbing Channel dry,
While Israel pass'd the Flood;
There did the Church begin their Joy,
And triumph in their God.]

V.

He rules by his resistless Might:
Will rebel Mortals dare
Provoke th' Eternal to the Fight,
And tempt that dreadfull War?

VI.

O bless our God and never cease;
Ye Saints, fulfill his Praise;

He

He keeps our Life, maintains our Peace,
And guides our doubtful Ways.

VII.

Lord, thou hast prov'd our suffering Souls,
To make our Graces shine ;
So Silver bears the burning Coals
The Metal to refine.

VIII.

Thro' watry Deeps and fiery Ways
We march at thy Command,
Led to possess the promis'd Place
By thine unerring Hand.

P S A L M LXVI. 13,—20. Second Part.
Praise to God for hearing Prayer.

I.

Now shall my solemn Vows be paid
To that Almighty Power
That heard the long Requests I made
In my distressfull Hour.

II.

My Lips and chearfull Heart prepare
To make his Mercies known ;
Come ye that fear my God, and hear
The Wonders He has done.

III.

When on my Head huge Sorrows fell,
I sought his heavenly Aid ;
He sav'd my sinking Soul from Hell
And Death's eternal Shade.

IV.

If Sin lay cover'd in my Heart
While Pray'r employ'd my Tongue,
I
The

The Lord had shewn me no Regard,
Nor I his Praises sung.

V.

But God (his Name be ever blest)
Has set my Spirit free ;
Nor turn'd from him my poor Request,
Nor turn'd his Heart from me.

PSALM LXVII.

The Nations Prosperity, and the Church Increase.

I.

SHINE, mighty God, on Britain shine
With Beams of heavenly Grace ;
Reveal thy Power thro' all our Coasts,
And shew thy smiling Face.

II.

[Amidst our Isle exalted high
Do thou our Glory stand,
And like a Wall of Guardian-Fire
Surround the Favourite-Land.]

III.

When shall thy Name from Shore to Shore
Sound all the Earth abroad,
And distant Nations know and love
Their Saviour and their God ?

IV.

Sing to the Lord, ye distant Lands,
Sing loud with solemn Voice ;
While British Tongues exalt his Praise,
And British Hearts rejoice.

V.

He the Great Lord, the sovereign Judge,
That sits enthron'd Above, Wise

Wisely commands the Worlds he made
In Justice and in Love.

VI.

Earth shall obey her Maker's Will,
And yield a full Increase;
Our God will crown his chosen Isle
With Fruitfulness and Peace.

VII.

God the Redeemer scatters round
His choicest Favours here,
While the Creation's utmost Bound
Shall see, adore and fear.

Having translated the Scene of this Psalm to Great Britain, I have borrow'd a devout and poetical Wish for the Happiness of my native Land from Zech. 2. 5. and offer'd it up in the 2d Stanza. I will be a Wall of Fire round about, and will be the Glory in the Midst of her.

PSALM LXVIII. First Part. v. 1--6, 32--35.
The Vengeance and Compassion of God.

I.

LET God arise in all his Might,
And put the Troops of Hell to flight;
As Smoke that sought to cloud the Skies
Before the rising Tempest flies.

II.

[He comes array'd in burning Flames;
Justice and Vengeance are his Names:
Behold his fainting Foes expire
Like melting Wax before the Fire.]

III.

He rides and thunders thro' the Sky;
His Name Jehovah sounds on high:
Sing to his Name, ye Sons of Grace;
Ye Saints, rejoyce before his Face.

IV.

IV.

The Widow and the Fatherless
Fly to his Aid in sharp Distress :
In him the Poor and Helpless find
A Judge that's just, a Father kind.

V.

He breaks the Captives heavy Chain,
And Prisoners see the Light again :
But Rebels that dispute his Will Shall dwell in Chains and Darkness still.

P A U S E.

VI.

Kingdoms and Thrones to God belong;
Crown him, ye Nations, in your Song :
His wondrous Names & Powers rehearse;
His Honours shall enrich your Verse.

VII.

He shakes the Heavens with loud Alarms;
How terrible is God in Arms!
In Israel are his Mercies known,
Israel is his peculiar Throne.

VIII.

Proclaim him King, pronounce him Blest;
He's your Defence, your Joy, your Rest:
When Terrors rise and Nations faint,
God is the Strength of every Saint.

PSALM LXVIII. Second Part. v. 17, 18.
Christ's Ascension, and the Gift of the Spirit.

I.

LORD, when thou didst ascend on high,
Ten thousand Angels fill'd the Sky;
Those heavenly Guards around Thee wait,
Smile Chariots that attend thy State. II.

II.

Not Sinai's Mountain could appear
More glorious when the Lord was there;
While he pronounc'd his dreadful Law,
And strook the chosen Tribes with Awe.

III.

How bright the Triumph none can tell,
When the rebellious Powers of Hell
That thousand Souls had Captive made
Were all in Chains like Captives led.

IV.

Rais'd by his Father to the Throne
He sent the promis'd Spirit down,
With Gifts and Grace for Rebell-Men,
That God might dwell on Earth again.

The 17th and 18th Verses of this Psalm are apply'd to the Ascension of Christ, Eph. 4. 8. and the promis'd Spirit was then given to men, Acts. 2. 33.

PSALM LXVIII. Third Pt. v. 19, 9, 20, 21, 22
Praise for Temporal Blessings ; or, Common and special Mercies.

I.

WE bless the Lord, the Just, the Good,
Who fills our hearts with Joy & Food;
Who pours his Blessings from the Skies,
And loads our Days with rich Supplies.

II.

He sends the Sun his Circuit round,
To chear the Fruits, to warm the Ground:
He bids the Clouds with plenteous Rain
Refresh the thirsty Earth again.

III.

"To his Care we owe our Breath,
 And all our near Escapes from Death :
 Safety and Health to God belong ;
 He heals the Weak and guards the Strong.

IV.

He makes the Saint and Sinner prove
 The Common Blessings of his Love ;
 But the wide Difference that remains
 Is Endless Joy or Endless Pains.

V.

The Lord that bruis'd the Serpent's Head
 On all the Serpent's Seed shall tread,
 The stubborn Sinner's Hope confound,
 And smite him with a lasting Wound.

VI.

But his right hand his Saints shall raise
 From the deep Earth or deeper Seas ;
 And bring them to his Courts above,
 There shall they taste his special Love.

The Verses marked in the Title afforded me several Hints to form a Divine Song on the Subject there express'd.

PSALM LXIX. 1—14. First Pt. Com. Met.

The Sufferings of Christ for our Salvation.

I.

" SAVE me, O God, the swelling Floods
 " Break in upon my Soul :
 " I sink ; and Sorrows o'er my Head
 " Like mighty Waters roll.

II.

" I cry till all my Voice be gone,
 " In Tears I waste the Day ;

" My

" My God, behold my longing Eyes,
 " And shorten thy Delay.

III.

" They hate my Soul without a Cause,
 " And still their Number grows ;
 " More than the Hairs around my Head,
 " And mighty are my Foes.

IV.

" 'Twas then I pay'd that dreadfull Debt
 " That Men could never pay,
 " And gave those Honours to thy Law
 " Which Sinners took away.

V.

Thus in the great Messiah's Name
 The royal Prophet mourns ;
 Thus he awakes our Hearts to Grief,
 And gives us Joy by Turns.

VI.

" Now shall the Saints rejoice and find
 " Salvation in my Name,
 " For I have born their heavy Load
 " Of Sorrow, Pain and Shame.

VII.

" Grief like a Garment cloth'd me round,
 " And Sackcloth was my Dress,
 " While I procur'd for naked Souls
 " A Robe of Righteousness.

VIII.

" Amongst my Brethren and the Jews
 " I like a Stranger stood,
 " And bore their vile Reproach, to bring
 " The Gentiles near to God.

IX.

- " I came in sinfull Mortals stead
 " To do my Father's Will ;
 " Yet when I cleans'd my Father's House,
 " They scandaliz'd my Zeal.

X.

- " My Fasting and my holy Groans
 " Were made the Drunkard's Song ;
 " But God from his celestial Throne
 " Heard my complaining Tongue.

XI.

- " He sav'd me from the dreadful Deep,
 " Nor let my Soul be drown'd ;
 " He rais'd and fixt my sinking Feet
 " On well-establisht Ground.

XII.

- " 'Twas in a most accepted Hour
 " My Pray'r arose on high,
 " And for my sake my God shall hear
 " The dying Sinner's Cry.

Stan. 7. I borrow the Robe of Righteousness from Isa. 61. 10. to answer the Garment of Sackcloth. v. 11.

PSALM LXIX. 14--21, 26, 29, 32. Sec^d Pt.
 Common Metre.

The Passion and Exaltation of Christ.

I.

Now let our Lips with holy Fear
 And mournfull Pleasure sing
 The Sufferings of our great High-priest,
 The Sorrows of our King.

II.

He sinks in Floods of deep Distress ;
 How high the Waters rise! While

While to his heavenly Father's Ear
He sends perpetual Cries.

III.

" Hear me, O Lord, and save thy Son,
" Nor hide thy shining Face ;
" Why should thy Favourite look like One
" Forsaken of thy Grace?

IV.

" With Rage they persecute the Man
" That groans beneath thy Wound,
" While for a Sacrifice I pour
" My Life upon the Ground.

V.

" They tread my Honour to the Dust
" And laugh when I complain ;
" Their sharp insulting Slanders add
" Fresh Anguish to my Pain.

VI.

" All my Reproach is known to Thee,
" The Scandal and the Shame ;
" Reproach has broke my bleeding Heart,
" And Lies defil'd my Name.

VII.

" I lookt for Pity, but in vain ;
" My Kindred are my Grief ;
" I ask my Friends for Comfort round,
" But meet with no Relief.

VIII.

" With Vinegar they mock my Thirst,
" They give me Gall for Food ;
" And sporting with my dying Groans
" They triumph in my Blood.

IX.

“ Shine in to my distressed Soul,
 “ Let thy Compassions save;
 “ And tho’ my Flesh sink down to Death,
 “ Redeem it from the Grave.

X.

“ I shall arise to praise thy Name,
 “ Shall reign in Worlds unknown;
 “ And thy Salvation, O my God,
 “ Shall seat me on thy Throne.

PSALM LXIX. Third Part. Common Met.
Christ’s Obedience and Death; or, God glorified and Sinners saved.

I.

FATHER, I sing thy wondrous Grace,
 I bless my Saviour’s Name,
 He bought Salvation for the Poor,
 And bore the Sinner’s Shame.

II.

His deep Distress has rais’d us high,
 His Duty and his Zeal
 Fulfill’d the Law which Mortals broke,
 And finish’d all thy Will.

III.

His dying Groans his living Songs
 Shall better please my God
 Than Harp or Trumpet’s solemn Sound,
 Than Goats or Bullocks Blood.

IV.

This shall his humble Followers see,
 And set their Hearts at rest;
 They by his Death draw near to Thee,
 And live for ever blest.

V.

Let Heaven and all that dwell on high
 To God their Voices raise,
 While Lands and Seas assist the Sky,
 And join t'advance the Praise.

VI.

Zion is thine, Most holy God ;
 Thy Son shall bless her Gates ;
 And Glory purchas'd by his Blood
 For thy own Israel waits.

PSALM LXIX. First Part. Long Metre.
Christ's Passion, and Sinners Salvation.

I.

DEEP in our Hearts let us record
 The deeper Sorrows of our Lord ;
 Behold the rising Billows roll
 To overwhelm his holy Soul.

II.

In long Complaints he spends his Breath,
 While Hosts of Hell, and Powers of Death,
 And all the Sons of Malice join
 To execute their curst Design.

III.

Yet, gracious God, thy Power and Love
 Has made the Curse a Blessing prove ;
 Those dreadfull Sufferings of thy Son
 Atton'd for Sins which we had done.

IV.

The Pangs of our expiring Lord
 The Honours of thy Law restor'd :
 His Sorrows made thy Justice known,
 And paid for Follies not his own.

V.

O for his Sake our Guilt forgive,
 And let the mourning Sinner live :
 'The Lord will hear us in his Name,
 Nor shall our Hope be turn'd to Shame.
 PSALM LXIX. v. 7. &c. Second Pt. Long Met.
Christ's Sufferings and Zeal.

I.

TWAS for thy Sake, Eternal God,
 Thy Son sustain'd that heavy Load
 Of base Reproach and sore Disgrace,
 And Shame defil'd his sacred Face.

II.

The Jews, his Brethren and his Kin,
 Abus'd the Man that checkt their Sin :
 While he fullfill'd thy holy Laws,
 They hate him, but without a Cause.

III.

[My Father's House, said he, was made
A Place for Worship, not for Trade ;
 Then scattering all their Gold and Brass,
 He scourg'd the Merchants from the Place.]

IV.

[Zeal for the Temple of his God
 Consum'd his Life, expos'd his Blood :
 Reproaches at thy Glory thrown
 He felt, and mourn'd them as his own.]

V.

[His Friends forsook, his Followers fled,
 While Foes and Arms surround his Head ;
 They curse him with a slanderous Tongue,
 And the false Judge maintains the Wrong.]

VI.

His Life they load with hateful Lies,
And charge his Lips with Blasphemies;
They nail him to the shameful Tree;
There hung the Man that dy'd for me.

VII.

[Wretches with Hearts as hard as Stones
Insult his Piety and Groans :
Gall was the Food they gave him there,
And mock'd his Thirst with Vinegar.]

VIII.

But God beheld ; and from his 'Throne
Marks out the Men that hate his Son ;
The Hand that rais'd him from the Dead
Shall pour the Vengeance on their Head.

In both the Metres of this Psalm, I have apply'd it to the Sufferings of Christ, as the N. T. gives sufficient Reason by several Citations of this Psalm : From which Places I have borrow'd the Particulars of his Suffering for our Sins, his Scourging the Buyers and Sellers out of the Temple, his Crucifixion, &c. But I have omitted the dreadful Imprecations on his Enemies, except what is incerted in this last Stanza in the Way of a Prediction or Threatning. Stanza 5. The false Judge is the High-priest, not Pilate.

P S A L M LXXI. 5—9. First Part.

The Aged Saint's Reflection and Hope.

I.

MY God, my everlasting Hope,
I live upon thy Truth ;
Thine Hands have held my Childhood up,
And strength'ned all my Youth.

II.

My Flesh was fashion'd by thy Power,
With all these Limbs of mine ;

And

And from my Mother's painful Hour
I've been entirely thine.

III.

Still has my Life new Wonders seen,
Repeated every Year;
Behold my Days that yet remain,
I trust them to thy Care.

IV.

Cast me not off when Strength declines,
When hoary Hairs arise;
And round me let thy Glory shine
When e'er thy Servant dies.

V.

Then in the History of my Age,
When Men review my Days,
They'll read thy Love in every Page,
In every Line thy Praise.

PSALM LXXI. 15, 14, 16, 23, 22, 24. Sec^d Pt.

Christ our Strength and Righteousness.

I.

My Saviour, my almighty Friend,
When I begin thy Praise,
Where will the growing Numbers end,
The Numbers of thy Grace?

II.

Thou art my everlasting Trust,
Thy Goodness I adore;
And since I knew thy Graces first
I speak thy Glories more.

III.

My Feet shall travel all the Length
Of the celestial Road,

And

And march with Courage in thy Strength,
To see my Father-God.

IV.

When I am fill'd with sore Distress
For some surprizing Sin,
I'll plead thy perfect Righteousness,
And mention none but Thine.

V.

How will my Lips rejoyce to tell
The Victories of my King!
My Soul redeem'd from Sin and Hell
Shall thy Salvation sing.

VI.

[My Tongue shall all the Day proclaim
My Saviour and my God :
His Death has brought my Foes to shame,
And drown'd them in his Blood.

Awake, awake, my tunefull Powers ;
With this delightfull Song
I'll entertain the darkeſt Hours,
Nor think the Season long.]

If theſe Verſes of the Pſalmiſt do not directly intend, that in God our Saviour is our Righteousneſs and Strength, as Iſa. 45. 21--25. yet there is a fair Occaſion given in the Words for this Evangelical Turn of Thought.

PSALM LXXI. 17--21. Third Part.
The Aged Chriſtian's Prayer and Song ; or,
Old Age, Death and the Reſurrection.

I.

GOD of my Childhood and my Youth,
The Guide of all my Days,
I have declar'd thy heavenly Truth,
And told thy wondrous Ways.

II.

Wilt thou forsake my hoary Hairs,
And leave my fainting Heart?
Who shall sustain my sinking Years
If God my Strength depart?

III.

Let me thy Power and Truth proclaim
To the surviving Age,
And leave a Savour of thy Name
When I shall quit the Stage.

IV.

The Land of Silence and of Death
Attends my next Remove;
O may these poor Remains of Breath
Teach the wide World thy Love!

P A U S E.

V.

Thy Righteousness is deep and high,
Unsearchable thy Deeds;
Thy Glory spreads beyond the Sky,
And all my Praise exceeds.

VI.

Oft have I heard thy Threatnings roar,
And oft endur'd the Grief;
But when thy Hand has prest me sore,
Thy Grace was my Relief.

VII.

By long Experience have I known
Thy sovereign Power to save;
At thy Command I venture down
Securely to the Grave.

VIII.

When I lie buried deep in Dust,
 My Flesh shall be thy Care;
 These withering Limbs with thee I trust
 To raise them strong and fair.

*So fair a Profession and Faith of the Resurrection in v. 20.
 I could not omit without Injury to the Psalmist and to my own Design.*

P S A L M LXXII. First Part.

The Kingdom of Christ.

I.

GREAT God, whose universal Sway
 The known & unknown Worlds obey,
 Now give the Kingdom to thy Son,
 Extend his Power, exalt his Throne.

II.

Thy Scepter well becomes his Hands,
 All Heaven submits to his Commands;
 His Justice shall avenge the Poor,
 And Pride and Rage prevail no more.

III.

With Power he vindicates the Just,
 And treads th' Oppressor in the Dust;
 His Worship and his Fear shall last
 Till Hours and Years and Time be past.

IV.

As Rain on Meadows newly mown,
 So shall he send his Influence down:
 His Grace on fainting Souls distills,
 Like heavenly Dew on thirsty Hills.

V.

The Heathen Lands that lie beneath
 The Shades of overspreading Death

Re-

Revive at his first dawning Light,
And Desarts blossom at the Sign.

VI.

The Saints shall flourish in his Days,
Drest in the Robes of Joy and Praise;
Peace like a River from his Throne
Shall flow to Nations yet unknown.

P S A L M LXXII. Second Part.

Christ's Kingdom among the Gentiles.

I.

JESUS shall reign where e'er the Sun
Does his successive Journeys run;
His Kingdom stretch from Shore to Shore,
Till Moons shall wax and wane no more.

II.

[Behold the Islands with their Kings,
And Europe her best Tribute brings;
From North to South the Princes meet
To pay their Homage at his Feet.

III.

There Persia glorious to behold,
There India shines in Eastern Gold;
And barbarous Nations at his Word
Submit and bow and own their Lord.]

IV.

For him shall endless Pray'r be made,
And Praises throng to crown his Head;
His Name like sweet Perfume shall rise
With every Morning Sacrifice.

V.

People and Realms of every Tongue
Dwell on his Love with sweetest Song;
And

And Infant-Voices shall proclaim
Their early Blessings on his Name.

VI.

Blessings abound where e'er he reigns,
The Prisoner leaps to lose his Chains,
The Weary find eternal Rest,
And all the Sons of Want are blest.

VII.

[Where he displays his healing Power,
Death and the Curse are known no more ;
In him the Tribes of Adam boast
More Blessings than their Father lost.

VIII.

Let every Creature rise and bring,
Peculiar Honours to our King ;
Angels descend with Songs again,
And Earth repeat the long Amen.]

PSALM LXXIII. First Part Com. Metre.
Afflicted Saints happy, and prosperous Sinners cursed.

I.

Now I'm convinc'd, the Lord is kind
To Men of Heart sincere :
Yet once my foolish Thoughts repin'd,
And border'd on Despair.

II.

I griev'd to see the Wicked thrive,
And spoke with angry Breath,
" How pleasant and profane they live !
" How peacefull is their Death !

III.

" With well-fed Flesh and haughty Eyes
" They lay their Fears to sleep ;
" Against

“ Against the Heavens their Slanders rise,
 “ While Saints in Silence weep.

IV.

“ In vain I lift my Hands to pray,
 “ And cleanse my Heart in vain,
 “ For I am chasten’d all the Day,
 “ The Night renews my Pain.

V.

Yet while my Tongue indulg’d Complaints,
 I felt my Heart reprove;
 “ Sure I shall thus offend thy Saints,
 “ And grieve the Men I love.

VI.

But still I found my Doubts too hard,
 ‘The Conflict too severe,
 Till I retir’d to search thy Word,
 And learn thy Secrets there.

VII.

There, as in some prophetic Glass,
 I saw the Sinner’s Feet
 High-mounted on a slippery Place
 Beside a fiery Pit.

VIII.

I heard the Wretch profanely boast,
 Till at thy Frown he fell;
 His Honours in a Dream were lost.
 And he awakes in Hell.

IX.

Lord, what an envious Fool I was!
 How like a thoughtless Beast!
 Thus to suspect thy promis’d Grace,
 And think the Wicked blest.

x. Yet

X.

Yet I was kept from full Despair,
Upheld by Power unknown;
That blessed Hand that broke the Snare
Shall guide me to thy Throne.

PSALM LXXIII. 23—28. Sec^d Pt. Com. Met.

God our Portion here and hereafter.

I.

GOD my Supporter and my Hope,
My Help for ever near,
Thine Arm of Mercy held me up
When sinking in Despair.

II.

Thy Counsels, Lord, shall guide my Feet
Through this dark Wilderness;
Thine Hand conduct me near thy Seat,
To dwell before thy Face.

III.

Were I in Heaven without my God,
'Twould be no Joy to me;
And whilst this Earth is my Abode,
I long for none but Thee.

IV.

What if the Springs of Life were broke,
And Flesh and Heart should faint,
God is my Soul's eternal Rock,
The Strength of every Saint.

V.

Behold, the Sinners that remove
Far from thy Presence die;
Not all the Idol-Gods they love
Can save them when they cry.

VI.

VI.

But to draw near to Thee, my God,
 Shall be my sweet Employ;
 My Tongue shall sound thy Works abroad,
 And tell the World my Joy.

PSALM LXXIII:22,3,6,17-20. Long Met.
The Prosperity of Sinners cursed.

I.

LORD, what a thoughtless Wretch was I,
 To mourn and murmur and repine
 To see the Wicked plac'd on high,
 In Pride and Robes of Honour shine!

II.

But O their End! their dreadful End!
 Thy Sanctuary taught me so:
 On slippery Rocks I see them stand,
 And fiery Billows roll below.

III.

Now let 'em boast how tall they rise,
 I'll never envy them again;
 There they may stand with haughty Eyes,
 Till they plunge deep in endless Pain.

IV.

Their fancy'd Joys, how fast they flee!
 Just like a Dream when Man awakes;
 Their Songs of softest Harmony
 Are but a Preface to their Plagues.

V.

Now I esteem their Mirth and Wine,
 Too dear to purchase with my Blood;
 Lord, 'tis enough that thou art mine,
 My Life, my Portion, and my God.

PSALM LXXIII. Short Metre.
The Mystery of Providence unfolded.

I.

SURE there's a righteous God,
Nor is Religion vain;
Tho' Men of Vice may boast aloud,
And Men of Grace complain.

II.

I saw the Wicked rise,
And felt my Heart repine,
While haughty Fools with scornful Eyes
In Robes of Honour shine.

III.

[Pamper'd with wanton Ease
Their Flesh looks full and fair,
Their Wealth rolls in like flowing Seas,
And grows without their Care.

IV.

Free from the Plagues and Pains
That pious Souls endure,
Thro' all their Life Oppression reigns,
And racks the humble Poor.

V.

Their impious Tongues blaspheme
The Everlasting God;
Their Malice blasts the good Man's Name,
And spreads their Lies abroad.

VI.

But I with flowing Tears
Indulg'd my Doubts to rise;
“ Is there a God that sees or hears
“ The things below the Skies ?]

VII.

VII.

The Tumults of my Thought
Held me in hard Suspence,
Till to thy House my Feet were brought
To learn thy Justice thence.

VIII.

Thy Word with Light and Power
Did my Mistakes amend;
I view'd the Sinners Life before,
But here I learnt their End.

IX.

On what a slippery Steep
The thoughtless Wretches go!
And O that dreadfull fiery Deep
That waits their Fall below.

X.

Lord, at thy Feet I bow,
My Thoughts no more repine:
I call my God my Portion now,
And all my Powers are thine,

This Psalm is a most noble Composure; The Design and Model of it is divinely beautiful, and an admirable Pattern for a Poet to copy. But it being one single Scheme of Thought, I was obliged to contract it, that it might be sung at once; tho' the Dignity and Beauty of the Ode suffers much by this Means.

P S A L M LXXIV.

The Church pleading with God under fore Persecutions.

I.

WILL God for ever cast us off?
His Wrath for ever smother
Against the People of his Love,
His little chosen Flock?

II.

II.

Think of the Tribes so dearly bought
With their Redeemer's Blood;
Nor let thy Sion be forgot,
Where once thy Glory stood.

III.

Lift up thy Feet, and march in haste,
Aloud our Ruin calls;
See what a wide and fearfull Waste
Is made within thy Walls.

IV.

Where once thy Churches pray'd and sang,
Thy Foes profanely roar;
Over thy Gates their Ensigns hang,
Sad Tokens of their Power.

V.

How are the Seats of Worship broke!
They tear the Buildings down,
And he that deals the heaviest Stroke
Procures the chief Renown.

VI.

With Flames they threaten to destroy
Thy Children in their Nest;
*Come let us burn at once, they cry,
The Temple and the Priest.*

VII.

And still to heighten our Distress
Thy Presence is withdrawn;
Thy wonted Signs of Power and Grace,
Thy Power and Grace are gone.

VIII.

No Prophet speaks to calm our Woes,
But all the Seers mourn;

There's not a Soul amongst us knows
The Time of thy Return.

How long, Eternal God, how long
Shall Men of Pride blaspheme?
Shall Saints be made their endless Song,
And bear immortal Shame?

Can'st thou for ever sit and hear
Thine holy Name profan'd?
And still thy Jealousy forbear,
And still withhold thine Hand?

XI.

What strange Deliverance hast thou shown
In Ages long before?
And now no other God we own,
No other God adore.

Thou didst divide the raging Sea
By thy resistless Might,
To make thy Tribes a wondrous Way,
And then secure their Flight.

Is not the World of Nature thine,
The Darkness and the Day?
Didst not thou bid the Morning shine,
And mark the Sun his Way?

And shall the Sons of Earth and Dust
That sacred Power blaspheme?
Will not thy Hand that form'd them first
Avenge thine injur'd Name?

O What a stiff rebellious House
 Was Jacob's antient Race !
 False to their own most solemn Vows,
 And to their Maker's Grace.

II.

They broke the Covenant of his Love
And did his Laws despise,
Forgot the Works he wrought to prove
His Power before their Eyes.

III.

They saw the Plagues on Egypt light
From his revenging Hand:
What dreadfull Tokens of his Might

And fills their Hearts with Dread;
Yet he forgives the Men he Loves,
And sends them heavenly Bread.

II.

He fed them with a liberal Hand,
And made his Treasures known ;
He gave the Midnight-clouds Command
To pour Provision down.

III.

The Manna like a Morning-show'r
Lay thick around their Feet ;
The Corn of Heaven so light, so pure,
As tho' 'twere Angels Meat.

“ Manna is all our Feast ;
“ We loath this light, this airy Bread ;
“ We must have Flesh to taste.

V.

“ Ye shall have Flesh to please your Lust:

And sent them Quails like Sand or Dust,
Heap’d up from Side to Side.

VI.

He gave them all their own Desire ;
And greedy as they fed, His

His Vengeance burnt with secret Fire,
And smote the Rebels dead.

VII.

When some were slain, the rest return'd;
And fought the Lord with Tears;
Under the Rod they fear'd and mourn'd,
But soon forgot their Fears.

VIII.

Oft he chastis'd, and still forgave,
Till by his gracious Hand
The Nation he resolv'd to save,

I.

GREAT God, how oft did Israel prove
By turns thine Anger and thy Love?
There in a Glass our Hearts may see
How fickle and how false they be.

II.

How soon the faithless Jews forgot
The dreadful Wonders God had wrought!
Then they provoke him to his Face,
Nor fear his Power, nor trust his Grace.

III.

The Lord consum'd their Years in Pain,
And made their Travels long and vain;
A tedious March thro' unknown ways
Wore out their strength & spent their Days.

IV.

IV.

Oft when they saw their Brethren slain,
They mourn'd, and fought the Lord again;
Call'd him the Rock of their Abode,
Their high Redeemer and their God.

V.

Their Pray'rs and Vows before him rise
As flattering Words or solemn Lyes,
While their rebellious Tempers prove
False to his Covenant and his Love.

VI.

Yet did his Sovereign Grace forgive
The Men who not deserv'd to live ;
His Anger oft away he turn'd,
Or else with gentle Flame it burn'd.

VII.

He saw their Flesh was weak and frail;
He saw Temptations still prevail ;
The God of Abraham lov'd them still,
And led them to his holy Hill.

But now, dear Lord, look down and see
Thy mourning Vine, that lovely Tree.

IV.

The Noble and the Base
Into thy Pastures leap ;
The Lion and the stupid Ass
Conspire to vex thy Sheep.

V.

“ Come, let us join, they cry,
“ To root them from the Ground,
“ Till not the Name of Saints remain,
“ Nor Memory shall be found.

VI.

Awake, Almighty God,
And call thy Wrath to mind ;
Give them like Forests to the Fire,
Or Stubble to the Wind.

VII.

Convince their Madnefs, Lord,
And make them seek thy Name ;
Or else their stubborn Rage confound,
That they may die in Shame.

VIII.

Then shall the Nations know
That glorious dreadfull Word
Jehovah is thy Name alone,
And Thou the Sovereign Lord.

PSALM LXXXIV. First Part. Long Met.
The Pleasure of Publick Worship.

I.

How pleasant, how divinely fair,
O Lord of Hosts, thy Dwellings are !
With

With long Desire my Spirit faints
To meet th' Assemblies of thy Saints.

II.

My Flesh would rest in thine Abode,
My panting Heart cries out for God ;
My God ! my King ! why should I be
So far from all my Joys and Thee ?

III.

The Sparrow chuses where to rest,
And for her Young provides her Nest :
But will my God to Sparrows grant
That Pleasure which his Children want ?

IV.

Blest are the Saints who sit on high
Around thy Throne of Majesty ;
Thy brightest Glories shine above,
And all their Work is Praise and Love.

V.

Blest are the Souls that find a place
Within the Temple of thy Grace ;
There they behold thy gentler Rays,
And seek thy Face, and learn thy Praise.

VI.

Blest are the Men whose Hearts are set
To find the Way to Zion's Gate ;
God is their Strength ; and thro' the Road
They lean upon their Helper God.

VII.

Chearfull they walk with growing Strength,
Till all shall meet in Heaven at length,
Till all before thy Face appear,
And join in nobler Worship there.

PSALM LXXXIV. Second Pt. Long Met.
God and his Church; or, Grace and Glory.

I.

GREAT God, attend while Zion sings
The Joy that from thy Presence springs:
To spend one Day with Thee on Earth
Exceeds a thousand Days of Mirth.

II.

Might I enjoy the meanest Place
Within thine House, O God of Grace,
Not Tents of Ease, nor Thrones of Power
Should tempt my Feet to leave thy Door.

III.

God is our Sun, he makes our Day;
God is our Shield, he guards our Way
From all th' Assaults of Hell and Sin,
From Foes without and Foes within.

IV.

All needfull Grace will God bestow,
And crown that Grace with Glory too:
He gives us all things, and withholds
No real Good from upright Souls.

V.

O God, our King, whose sovereign Sway
The glorious Hosts of Heaven obey,
And Devils at thy Presence flee,
Blest is the Man that trusts in Thee.

P S A L M LXXXIV. v. 1, 4, 2, 3, 10.

Paraphras'd in Common Met.

Delight in Ordinances of Worship; or, God present in his Churches.

I.

My Soul, how lovely is the Place
To which thy God resorts!
'Tis Heaven to see his smiling Face,
'Tho' in his Earthly Courts.

II.

There the great Monarch of the Skies
His saving Power displays,
And Light breaks in upon our Eyes
With kind and quickning Rays.

III.

With his rich Gifts the heavenly Dove
Descends and fills the Place,
While Christ reveals his wondrous Love,
And sheds abroad his Grace.

IV.

There, mighty God, thy Words declare
The Secrets of thy Will;
And still we seek thy Mercy there,
And sing thy Praises still.

P A U S E.

V.

My Heart and Flesh cry out for Thee,
While far from thine Abode;
When shall I tread thy Courts, and see
My Saviour and my God?

VI.

The Sparrow builds her self a Nest,
And suffers no Remove;

O

O make me, like the Sparrows, blest,
To dwell but where I love.

VII.

To sit one Day beneath thine Eye,
And hear thy gracious Voice
Exceeds a whole Eternity
Employ'd in carnal Joys.

VIII.

Lord, at thy Threshold I would wait
While Jesus is within,
Rather than fill a Throne of State,
Or live in Tents of Sin.

IX.

Could I command the spacious Land,
And the more boundless Sea,
For one blest Hour at thy Right-hand
I'd give them both away.

P S A L M LXXXIV. as the 148th Psalm.
Longing for the House of God.

I.

LORD of the Worlds above,
How pleasant and how fair
The Dwellings of thy Love,
Thy Earthly Temples are !
To thine Abode
My Heart aspires,
With warm Desires
To see my God.

II.

The Sparrow for her Young
With Pleasure seeks a Nest,
And wandering Swallows long
To find their wonted Rest;

My

My Spirit faints
 With equal Zeal
 To rise and dwell
 Among thy Saints.

III.

O happy Souls that pray
 Where God appoints to hear !
 O happy Men that pay
 Their constant Service there !
 They praise Thee still ;
 And happy they
 That love the Way
 To Zion's Hill.

IV.

They go from Strength to Strength
 Thro' this dark Vale of Tears,
 Till each arrives at length,
 Till each in Heaven appears :
 O glorious Seat,
 When God our King
 Shall thither bring
 Our willing Feet !

P A U S E.

V.

To spend one sacred Day
 Where God and Saints abide Affords diviner Joy
 Than Thousand Days beside :
 Where God resorts,
 I love it more
 To keep the Door
 Than shine in Courts.

VI.

God is our Sun and Shield,
 Our Light and our Defence;
 With Gifts his Hands are fill'd,
 We draw our Blessings thence:

He shall bestow
 On Jacob's Race
 Peculiar Grace
 And Glory too.

VII.

The Lord his People loves;
 His Hand no Good withholds
 From those his Heart approves,
 From pure and pious Souls:

Thrice happy he,
 O God of Hosts,
 Whose Spirit trusts
 Alone in Thee.

P S A L M LXXXV. v. 1—8, First Part.
Waiting for an Answer to Prayer; or, Deliverance begun and completed.

I.

LORD, thou hast call'd thy Grace to mind,
 Thou hast revers'd our heavy Doom:
 So God forgave when Israel sinn'd,
 And brought his wandring Captives home.

II.

Thou hast begun to set us free,
 And made thy fiercest Wrath abate;
 Now let our Hearts be turn'd to Thee,
 And thy Salvation be complete.

L

III.

III.

Revive our dying Graces, Lord,
 And let thy Saints in Thee Rejoice ;
 Make known thy Truth, fulfill thy Word;
 We wait for Praise to tune our Voice.

IV.

We wait to hear what God will say ;
 He'il speak, and give his People Peace :
 But let them run no more astray,
 Lest his returning Wrath increase.

PSALM LXXXV. v. 9. &c. Second Part.
Salvation by Christ.

I.

SALVATION is for ever nigh
 The Souls that fear and trust the Lord ;
 And Grace descending from on high
 Fresh Hopes of Glory shall afford.

II.

Mercy and Truth on Earth are met,
 Since Christ the Lord came down from Hea-
 By his Obedience so complete (ven;
 Justice is plac'd, and Peace is given.

III.

Now 'Truth and Honour shall abound,
 Religion dwell on Earth again,
 And heavenly Influence blest the Ground
 In our Redeemers gentle Reign.

IV.

His Righteousness is gone before
 To give us free Access to God ;
 Our wandering Feet shall stray no more,
 But mark his Steps and keep the Road.

If

If some Readers should suppose the English Verse here to mistake the Hebrew sense, yet perhaps these Evangelical Allusions to the Words of the Jewish Psalmist may be as agreeable and useful to the Christian worshipper.

PSALM LXXXVI. v. 8.—13.

A general Song of Praise to God.

I.

AMONG the Princes, Earthly Gods,
There's none hath Power divine;
Nor is their Nature, mighty Lord,
Nor are their Works like Thine.

II.

The Nations thou hast made shall bring
Their Offerings round thy Throne;
For thou alone dost wondrous Things,
For thou art God alone.

III.

Lord, I would walk with holy Feet;
Teach me thine heavenly Ways,
And my poor scatter'd Thoughts unite
In God my Father's Praise.

IV.

Great is thy Mercy, and my Tongue
Shall those sweet Wonders tell,
How by thy Grace my sinking Soul
Rose from the Deeps of Hell.

PSALM LXXXVII.

The Church the Birth-place of the Saints; or, Jews and Gentiles united in the Christian Church.

I.

GOD in his Earthly Temple lays
Foundations for his heavenly Praise:

He likes the Tents of Jacob well,
But still in Zion loves to dwell.

II.

His Mercy visits every House
'That pay their Night and Morning-Vows;
But makes a more delightfull Stay
Where Churches meet to praise and pray.

III.

What Glories were describ'd of old?
What Wonders are of Zion told?
Thou City of our God below,
Thy Fame shall Tyre and Egypt know.

IV.

Egypt and Tyre and Greek and Jew
Shall there begin their Lives anew:
Angels and Men shall join to sing
The Hill where living Waters spring.

V.

When God makes up his last Account
Of Natives in his holy Mount,
'Twill be an Honour to appear
As one New-born or nourish'd there!

I have explain'd the Second Verse at large, and transposed the last. For Singers and Players on Instruments I have introduced Angels with Men.

PSALM LXXXIX. First Part. Long Met.
The Covenant made with Christ; or, The true David.

I.

FOR ever shall my Song record
The Truth and Mercy of the Lord:
Mercy and Truth for ever stand
Like Heaven establish'd by his Hand. II.

II.

Thus to his Son he sware, and said,
 " With thee my Covenant first is made ;
 " In thee shall dying Sinners live,
 " Glory and Grace are thine to give.

III.

" Be thou my Prophet, thou my Priest ;
 " Thy Children shall be ever blest ;
 " Thou art my chosen King ; thy Throne
 " Shall stand Eternal like my own.

IV.

" There's none of all my Sons above
 " So much my Image or my Love ;
 " Celestial Powers thy Subjects are,
 Then what can Earth to Thee compare ?

V.

" David my Servant whom I chose
 " To guard my Flock, to crush my Foes,
 " And rais'd him to the Jewish Throne,
 " Was but a Shadow of my Son.

VI.

Now let the Church rejoice, and sing
Jesus her Saviour and her King :
 Angels his heavenly Wonders show,
 And Saints declare his Works below.

PSALM LXXXIX. First Part Com. Metre,
The Faithfulness of God.

I.

My never-ceasing Songs shall show
 The Mercies of the Lord,
 And make succeeding Ages know
 How faithfull is his Word.

II.

The sacred Truths his Lips pronounce
 Shall firm as Heaven endure ;
 And if he speak a Promise once,
 Th' Eternal Grace is sure.

III.

How long the Race of David held
 The promis'd Jewish Throne !
 But there's a nobler Covenant seal'd
 To David's greater Son.

IV.

His Seed for ever shall possess
 A Throne above the Skies ;
 The meanest Subject of his Grace
 Shall to that Glory rise.

V.

Lord God of Hosts, thy wondrous Ways
 Are sung by Saints above ;
 And Saints on Earth their Honors raise
 To thy unchanging Love.

PSALM LXXXIX. 7, &c. Second Part.
The Power and Majesty of God ; or, Reverential Worship.

I.

WITH Reverence let the Saints appear,
 And bow before the Lord,
 His high Commands with Reverence hear,
 And tremble at his Word.

II.

How terrible thy Glories be !
 How bright thine Armies shine !
 Where is the Power that vies with Thee ?
 Or Truth compar'd to thine ?

III.

The Northern Pole and Southern, rest
 On thy supporting Hand ;
 Darkness and Day from East to West
 Move round at thy Command.

IV.

Thy Words the raging Wind controul,
 And rule the boisterous Deep ;
 Thou mak'st the sleeping Billows roll,
 The rolling Billows sleep.

V.

Heaven, Earth, and Air, and Sea are thine,
 And the dark World of Hell ;
 How did thine Arm in Vengeance shine
 When Egypt durst rebell !

VI.

Justice and Judgement are thy Throne,
 Yet wondrous is thy Grace :
 While Truth and Mercy join'd in one
 Invite us near thy Face.

I have here transposed the Verses a little to make the Connection plainer.

P S A L M LXXXIX. 15, &c. Third Part.
A Blessed Gospel.

I.

BLEST are the Souls that hear and know
 The Gospels joyfull Sound ;
 Peace shall attend the Path they go,
 And Light their steps surround.

II.

Their Joy shall bear their Spirits up
 Thro' their Redeemer's Name ;

His Righteousness exalts their Hope,
Nor Satan dares condemn.

III.

The Lord our Glory and Defence
Strength and Salvation gives :
Israel, thy King for ever reigns,
Thy God for ever lives.

PSALM LXXXIX. 19 &c. Fourth Part.
Christ's Mediatorial Kingdom; or, his Divine and Human Nature.

I.

HEAR what the Lord in Vision said,
And made his Mercy known :
" Sinners behold your Help is laid
" On my Almighty Son.

II.

Behold the Man my Wisdom chose
Among your mortal Race ;
His Head my holy Oil o'e flows,
The Spirit of my Grace.

III.

High shall he reign on David's Throne,
My Peoples better King;
My Arm shall beat his Rivals down,
And still new Subjects bring.

IV

My Truth shall guard him in his Way
With Mercy by his Side,
While in my Name thro' Earth and Sea
He shall in Triumph ride.

V.

Me for his Father and his God
He shall for ever own,

Call

Call me his Rock, his high Abode ;
And I'll support my Son.

VI.

My First-born Son array'd in Grace
At my Right-hand shall sit ;
Beneath him Angels know their Place,
And Monarchs at his Feet.

VII.

My Covenant stands for ever fast,
My Promises are strong ;
Firm as the Heavens his Throne shall last,
His Seed endure as long.

P S A L M LXXXIX. 30, &c. Fifth Part.
The Covenant of Grace unchangeable ; or,
Afflictions without Rejection.

I.

YET (saith the Lord) if David's Race,
The Children of my Son,
Should break my Laws, abuse my Grace,
And tempt mine Anger down,

II.

Their Sins I'll visit with the Rod,
And make their Folly smart ;
But I'll not cease to be their God,
Nor from my Truth depart.

III.

My Covenant I will ne'er revoke,
But keep my Grace in mind ;
And what eternal Love hath spoke
Eternal Truth shall bind.

IV.

Once have I sworn, (I need no more)
And pledg'd my Holiness

L 5

To

To seal the sacred Promise sure
To David and his Race.

V.

The Sun shall see his Off-spring rise
And spread from Sea to Sea,
Long as he Travels round the Skies
To give the Nations Day.

VI.

Sure as the Moon that rules the Night
His Kingdom shall endure,
Till the fix'd Laws of Shade and Light
Shall be observ'd no more.

P S A L M LXXXIX 47, &c. Sixth Part.
Long Metre.

Mortality and Hope.

A Funeral P S A L M.

I.

REMEMBER, Lord, our mortal State,
How frail our Life! how short the Date!
Where is the Man that draws his Breath
Safe from Disease, secure from Death?

II.

Lord, while we see whole Nations dye,
Our Flesh and Sense repine and cry,
“ Must Death for ever rage and reign ?
“ Or hast thou made Mankind in vain ?

III.

Where is thy Promise to the Just ?
Are not thy Servants turn'd to Dust ?
But Faith forbids these mournfull Sighs,
And sees the sleeping Dust arise.

IV.

IV.

That glorious Hour, that dreadful Day
 Wipes the Reproach of Saints away,
 And clears the Honour of thy Word :
 Awake our Souls, and bless the Lord.

PSALMLXXXIX, 47, &c. Last Part, as the 113th PSALM.

Life, Death and the Resurrection.

I.

THINK, mighty God, on feeble Man;
 How few his hours! how short his span!
 Short from the Cradle to the Grave:

Who can secure his vital Breath
 Against the bold Demands of Death
 With Skill to fly, or Power to save?

II.

Lord, shall it be for ever said,
 " The Race of Man was only made
 " For Sicknes, Sorrow and the Dust?
 Are not thy Servants Day by Day
 Sent to their Graves, and turn'd to Clay?
 Lord, where's thy Kindness to the Just?

III.

Hast thou not promis'd to thy Son
 And all his Seed a heavenly Crown?
 But Flesh and Sense indulge Despair;
 For ever blessed be the Lord
 That Faith can read his holy Word,
 And find a Resurrection there.

IV.

For ever blessed be the Lord,
 Who gives his Saints a long Reward,
 For

For all their Toil, Reproach and Pain :
 Let all below and all above
 Join to proclaim thy wondrous Love,
 And each repeat their loud Amen.

P S A L M XC. Long Metre.

Man Mortal, and God Eternal.

A mournfull Song at a Funeral.

I.

THRO' every Age, Eternal God,
 Thou art our Rest, our safe Abode ;
 High was thy Throne e'er Heav'n was made,
 Or Earth thy humble Footstool laid.

II

Long hadst thou reign'd e'er Time began,
 Or Dust was fashion'd to a Man ;
 And long thy Kingdom shall endure
 When Earth and Time shall be no more.

III.

But Man, weak Man is born to dy,
 Made up of Guilt and Vanity :
 'Thy dreadful Sentence, Lord, was just,
 " Return, ye Sinners, to your Dust.

IV.

[A thousand of our Years amount
 Scarce to a Day in thine Account ;
 Like Yesterdays departed Light,
 Or the last Watch of ending Night.

P A U S E.

V.

Death like an overflowing Stream
 Sweeps us away ; our Life's a Dream ;
 An empty Tale ; a Morning-flow'r
 Cut down and wither'd in an Hour.] VI.

VI.

[Our Age to seventy Years is set;
How short the Term! how frail the State!
And if to Eighty we arrive,
We rather sigh and groan than live.]

VII.

But O how oft thy Wrath appears,
And cuts off our expected Years!
'Thy Wrath awakes our humble Dread :
We fear the Power that strikes us Dead.]

VIII.

Teach us, O Lord, how frail is Man ;
And kindly lengthen out our Span,
Till a wise Care of Piety
Fit us to die, and dwell with Thee.

P S A L M XC. 1—5. First Part. Com. Met.
Man Frail and God Eternal.

I.

O UR God, our Help in Ages past,
Our Hope for Years to come,
Our Shelter from the stormy Blast,
And our eternal Home.

II.

Under the Shadow of thy Throne
Thy Saints have dwelt secure;
Sufficient is thine Arm alone,
And our Defence is sure.

Before the Hills in order stood,
Or Earth receiv'd her Frame,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To endless Years the same.

IV.

Thy Word commands our Flesh to Dust,
Return, ye Sons of Men:

All Nations rose from Earth at first,
And turn to Earth again.

V.

A thousand Ages in thy Sight
Are like an Evening gone ;
Short as the Watch that ends the Night
Before the rising Sun.

VI.

The busy Tribes of Flesh and Blood
With all their Lives and Cares
Are carried downwards by thy Flood,
And lost in following Years.

VII.

Time like an ever-rolling Stream
Bears all its Sons away ;
They fly forgotten as a Dream
Dies at the opening Day.

VIII.

Like flow'ry Fields the Nations stand
Pleas'd with the Morning-light ;
The Flowers beneath the Mower's Hand
Ly withering e'er 'tis Night.]

IX.

Our God, our Help in Ages past,
Our Hope for Years to come,
Be thou our Guard while Troubles last,
And our eternal Home.

PSALM XC. 8, 11, 9, 10, 12. Second Part.
Common Metre.

Infirmities and Mortality the Effect of Sin ; or, Life, old Age and Preparation for Death.

I.

LORD, if thine Eyes survey our Fau'ts,
And Justice grow severe,
Thy dreadfull Wrath exceeds our Thoughts,
And burns beyond our Fear.

II.

Thine Anger turns our Frame to Dust;
By one Offence to Thee
Adam with all his Sons have lost
Their Immortality.

III.

Life like a vain Amusement flies,
A Fable or a Song ;
By swift Degrees our Nature dies,
Nor can our Joys be long.

IV.

'Tis but a Few whose Days amount
To threescore Years and ten ;
And all beyond that short Account
Is Sorrow, Toil and Pain.

V.

[Our Vitals with laborious Strife
Bear up the crazy Load,
And drag those poor Remains of Life
Along the tiresome Road.]

VI.

Almighty God, reveal thy Love,
And not thy Wrath alone ;

O let our sweet Experience prove
The Mercies of thy Throne.

VII.

Our Souls would learn the heavenly Art
T' improve the Hours we have,
That we may act the wiser Part,
And live beyond the Grave.

PSALM XC. v. 13, &c. Third Pt. Com. Met.
Breathing after Heaven.

I.

RETURN, O God of Love, return;
Earth is a tiresome Place:
How long shall We thy Children mourn
Our Absence from thy Face?

II.

Let Heaven succeed our painful Years,
Let Sin and Sorrow cease,
And in Proportion to our Tears
So make our Joy's increase.

III.

Thy Wonders to thy Servants show,
Make thy own Work compleat,
Then shall our Souls thy Glory know,
And own thy Love was great.

IV.

Then shall we shine before thy Throne
In all thy Beauty, Lord;
And the poor Service we have done
Meet a divine Reward.

PSALM XC. v. 5, 10, 12. Short Metre.
The Frailty and Shortness of Life.

I.

LORD, what a feeble Piece
 Is this our mortal Frame?
 Our Life how poor a Trifle 'tis,
 That scarce deserves the Name!

II.

Alas, the brittle Clay
 That built our Body first!
 And every Month and every Day
 'Tis mouldring back to Dust.

III.

Our Moments fly apace,
 Nor will our Minutes stay;
 Just like a Flood our hasty Days
 Are sweeping us away.

IV.

Well, if our Days must fly,
 We'll keep their End in Sight,
 We'll spend them all in Wisdoms Way,
 And let them speed their Flight.

V.

They'll waft us sooner o'er
 This Lifes tempestuous Sea;
 Soon we shall reach the peacefull Shore
 Of blest Eternity.

PSALM XCI. 1--7, First Part.
Safety in publick Diseases and Dangers.

I.

HE that hath made his Refuge God,

Shall walk all Day beneath his Shade,
And there at Night shall rest his Head.

II.

Then will I say, " My God, thy Power
" Shall be my Fortrefs and my Tow'r :
" I that am form'd of feeble Dust
" Make thine almighty Arm my Trust.

III.

Thrice happy Man! Thy Maker's Care
Shall keep thee from the Fowler's Snare,
Satan the Fowler who betrays
Unguarded Souls a thousand Ways.

IV.

Just as a Hen protects her Brood
From Birds of Prey that seek their Blood
Under her Feathers, so the Lord
Makes his own Arm his Peoples Guard.

V.

If burning Beams of Noon conspire
To dart a pestilential Fire,
God is their Life ; his Wings are spread
To Shield them with an healthfull Shade.

VI.

If Vapours with malignant Breath
Rise thick, and scatter Midnight-death,
Israel is safe: The poyson'd Air
Grows pure, if Israel's God be there.

To make his Wrath in Egypt known,
And slew their Sons, his careful Eye

But if the Fire or Plague or Sword
Receive Commission from the Lord
To strike his Saints among the rest,
Their very Pains and Deaths are blest.

X.

The Sword, the Pestilence or Fire
Shall but fulfill their best Desire ;
From Sins and Sorrows set them free,
And bring thy Children, Lord, to Thee.

See the Notes on the 41st Psalm.

P S A L M XCI. 9—16. Second Part.

Protection from Death, Guard of Angels, Victory and Deliverance.

I.

Y^E Sons of Men, a feeble Race,
Expos'd to every Snare,
Come, make the Lord your dwelling-place,
And try, and trust his Care.

II.

No Ill shall enter where you dwell ;
Or if the Plague come nigh,
And sweep the Wicked down to Hell,
'Twill raise his Saints on High.

III.

III.

He'll give his Angels charge to keep
Your Feet in all their Ways ;
To watch your Pillow while you sleep,
And guard your happy Days.

IV.

Their Hands shall bear you, lest you fall
And dash against the Stones :
Are they not Servants at his Call,
And sent t'attend his Sons ?

V.

Adders and Lyons ye shall tread ;
The Tempters Wiles defeat ;
He that hath broke the Serpents Head
Puts him beneath your Feet.

VI.

" Because on Me they set their Love,
" I'll save them (saith the Lord)
" I'll bear their joyfull Souls above
" Destruction and the Sword.

VII.

" My Grace shall answer when they call ;
" In Trouble I'll be nigh :
" My Power shall help them when they fall,
" And raise them when they dy.

VIII.

" Those that on Earth my Name have
" I'll honour them in Heaven ; (known,
" There my Salvation shall be shown,
" And endless Life be given.

PSALM XCII. First Part.A Psalm for the Lord's-Day.

I.

SWEET is the Work, my God, my King,
To praise thy Name, give Thanks and
To shew thy Love by Morning-light, (Sing;
And talk of all thy Truth at Night.

II.

Sweet is the Day of sacred Rest,
No mortal Cares shall seize my Breast;
O may my Heart in Tune be found
Like David's Harp of solemn Sound!

III.

My Heart shall triumph in my Lord,
And bless his Works, and bless his Word;
Thy Works of Grace how bright they shine!
How deep thy Counsels! how divine!

IV.

Fools never raise their Thoughts so high;
Like Brutes they live, like Brutes they dye;
Like Grass they flourish, till thy Breath
Blast them in everlasting Death.

V.

But I shall share a glorious Part
When Grace hath well refin'd my Heart,
And fresh Supplies of Joy are shed
Like holy Oil to chear my Head.

VI.

Sin (my worst Enemy before)
Shall vex my Eyes and Ears no more;
My inward Foes shall all be slain
Nor Satan break my Peace again.

VII.

VII.

Then shall I see and hear and know
 All I desir'd or wish'd below ;
 And every Power find sweet employ
 In that eternal World of Joy.

St. 6. Rejoycing in the destruction of our personal Enemies, is not so Evangelical a practice. therefore I have given the 11th v. of this Psalm another Turn : See the Notes on the third Psalm.

PSALM XCII. v. 12, &c. Second Part.

The Church is the Garden of God.

I.

LORD, 'tis a pleasant Thing to stand
 In Gardens planted by thine Hand;
 Let me within thy Courts be seen
 Like a young Cedar fresh and green.

II.

There grow thy Saints in Faith and Love,
 Blest with thine Influence from above ;
 Not Lebanon with all its Trees
 Yields such a comely Sight as these.

III.

The Plants of Grace shall ever live ;
 (Nature decays, but Grace must thrive.)
 Time, that doth all Things else impair,
 Still makes them flourish strong and fair.

IV.

Laden with Fruits of Age they shew
 The Lord is holy, just and true ;
 None that attend his Gates shall find
 A God unfaithfull or unkind.

PSALM XCIII, First Metre, as the 100 Ps.
The Eternal and Sovereign God.

I.

JEHOVAH reigns : He dwells in Light,
 Girded with Majesty and Might ;
 The World created by his Hands
 still on its first Foundation stands.

II.

But e'er this spacious World was made,
 Or had its first Foundations lay'd,
 Thy Throne eternal Ages stood,
 Thy self the everliving God.

III.

Like Floods the angry Nations rise,
 And aim their Rage against the Skies ;
 Vain Floods, that aim their Rage so high !
 At thy Rebuke the Billows dye.

IV.

For ever shall thy Throne indure ;
 Thy Promise stands for ever sure ;
 And everlasting Holiness becomes the Dwellings of thy Grace.

Old 50th Psalm.

I.

THE Lord of Glory reigns ; he reigns on high,
 His Robes of State are Strength and Majesty :
 His wide Creation rose at his Command,
 Built by his Word, and stablish'd by his Hand :
 Long stood his Throne e'er he began Creation,
 And his own Godhead is the firm Foundation.

II.

God is th' eternal King. Thy Foes in vain
 Raise their rebellions to confound thy Reign :
 In vain the Sorms, in vain the Floods arise,
 And roar, and tofs their Waves against the Skies ;
 Foaming at Heaven they rage with wild Commotion,
 But Heavens high Arches scorn the swelling Ocean.

III.

Ye Tempests rage no more ; Ye Floods be still,
 And the mad World submissive to his Will :
 Built on his Truth his Church must ever stand ;
 Firm are his Promises, and Strong his Hand :
 See his own Sons, when they appear before him,
 Bow at his Foot-stool, and with Fear adore him.

P S A L M XCIII. Third Metre, as the old
 122^d Psalm.

I.

THE Lord Jehovah reigns,
 And royal State maintains,
 His Head with awfull Glories crown'd ;
 Array'd in Robes of Light,
 Begirt with sovereign Might,
 And Rays of Majesty around.

II.

Upheld by thy Commands
 The World securely stands ;
 And Skies and Stars obey thy Word :
 Thy Throne was fix'd on high
 Before the Starry Sky ;
 Eternal is thy Kingdom, Lord.

III.

III.

In vain the noisy Croud,
 Like Billows fierce and loud,
 Against thine Empire rage and roar;
 In vain with angry Spite
 The surly Nations fight,
 And dash like Waves against the Shore.

IV.

Let Floods and Nations rage,
 And all their Powers engage,
 Let swelling Tides assault the Sky,
 The Terrors of thy Frown
 Shall beat their Madness down;
 Thy Throne for ever stands on high.

V.

Thy Promises are true,
 Thy Grace is ever new;
 There fixt thy Church shall ne'er remove:
 Thy Saints with holy Fear
 Shall in thy Courts appear,
 And sing thine everlasting Love.

P S A L M XCIV. 1, 2, 7---14. First Part.
Saints chastised, and Sinners destroyed; or,
Instructive Afflictions.

I.

O God to whom Revenge belongs,
 Proclaim thy Wrath aloud;
 Let sovereign Power redress our Wrongs,
 Let Justice smite the Proud.

Can he be deaf who form'd their Ears?
Or blind, who made their Eyes?

III.

He knows their impious Thoughts are vain
And they shall feel his Power;
His Wrath shall pierce their Souls with Pain
In some surprizing Hour.

IV.

But if thy Saint deserve Rebuke
Thou hast a gentler Rod;
Thy Providences and thy Book
Shall make them know their God.

V.

Blest is the Man thy Hands chastise,
And to his Duty draw:
Thy Scourges make thy Children wise
When they forget thy Law.

VI.

But God will ne'er cast off his Saints,
Nor his own Promise break;
He pardons his Inheritance
For their Redeemer's Sake.

PSALM XCIV. 16—23. Second Part.
God our Support and Comfort; or, Deliverance from Temptation and Persecution.

A Psalm before Prayer.

I.

SING to the Lord Jehovah's Name
And in his Strength rejoice;
When his Salvation is our Theme,
Exalted be our Voice.

II.

With Thanks approach his awfull Sight,
And Psalms of Honour sing;

The Lord's a God of boundless Might,
The whole Creation's King.

III.

Let Princes hear, let Angels know,
How mean their Natures seem,
Those Gods on high and Gods below,
When once compar'd with Him.

IV.

Earth with it's Caverns dark and deep
Lies in his spacious Hand ;
He fixt the Seas what bounds to keep,
And where the Hills must stand.

V.

Come, and with humble Souls adore,
Come, kneel before his Face ;
O may the Creatures of his Power
Be Children of his Grace!

VI

Now is the Time : He bends his Ear,
And waits for your Request ;
Come, lest he rouse his Wrath and swear,
“ Ye shall not see my Rest.

PSALM XCV. Short Metre.
A Psalm before Sermon.

I.

COME sound his Praise abroad,
And Hymns of Glory sing:
Jehovah is the sovereign God,
The universal King.

II.

He form'd the Deeps unknown ;
 He gave the Seas their Bound ;
 The watry Worlds are all his own,
 And all the solid Ground.

III.

Come, worship at his Throne,
 Come, bow before the Lord :
 We are his Works and not our own ;
 He form'd us by his Word.

IV.

To Day attend his Voice,
 Nor dare provoke his Rod ;
 Come, like the People of his Choice,
 And own your gracious God.

V.

But if your Ears refuse
 The Language of his Grace,
 And Hearts grow hard like stubborn Jews,
 That unbelieving Race.

VI.

The Lord in Vengeance drest
 Will lift his Hand and swear,
 “ You that despise my promis'd Rest,

II.

Come, let our Souls address the Lord,
Who fram'd our Natures with his Word;
He is our Shepherd; we the Sheep
His Mercy chose, his Pastures keep.

III.

Come, let us hear his Voice to Day,
The Counsels of his Love obey;
Nor let our hardned Hearts renew
The Sins and Plagues that Israel knew.

IV.

Israel, that saw his Works of Grace,
Yet tempt their Maker to his Face;
A faithless unbelieving Brood,
That tir'd the Patience of their God.

In the 3d and 4th Chap. to the Hebrews several verses of this Psalm are cited and given for a Caution to Christians: I have apply'd them the same way in the two last Stanza's.

PSALM XCVI. 1, 10, &c. Com. Met.

Christ's first and second coming.

I.

SING to the Lord, ye distant Lands,
Ye Tribes of every Tongue;
His new-discover'd Grace demands
A new and nobler Song.

II.

Say to the Nations, Jesus reigns,
God's own almighty Son;
His Power the sinking World sustains,
And Grace surrounds his Throne.

III.

Let Heaven proclaim the joyfull Day,
Joy thro' the Earth be seen;
Let Cities shine in bright Array,
And Fields in chearfull Green.

IV.

Let an unusual Joy surprize
The Islands of the Sea:
Ye Mountains sink, ye Valleys rise,
Prepare the Lord his Way.

V.

Behold he comes, he comes to bless
The Nations as their God;
To shew the World his righteousness,
And send his Truth abroad.

VI.

But when his Voice shall raise the Dead,
And bid the World draw near,
How will the guilty Nations dread
To see their Judge appear.

In this and the two following Psalms The first coming of Christ into the World is represented in a Prophetic Style, as tho' he were coming the second time to the last Judgment: But that Christ's Incarnation, his setting up his Gospel-Kingdom to judge or rule the Gentiles, and the Judgment and Destruction of the Heathen Idols, is the true Design of these three Psalms, is evident from several Expressions in them; and particularly because the Earth, the Fields, the Sea, &c. are call'd to rejoice; whereas the final Judgment of the World is represented dreadful to all Nature, and to the Nations of the Earth. See Rev. 17. and Rev. 20. 11. and 2 Pet. 3. 7, 10. Yet since this last Coming has something in it Parallel to his first, I have in the different parts of the Psalms referr'd to Both.

To sing the choicest Psalm of Praise,
To sing and blest Jehovah's Name:
His Glory let the Heathens know,
His Wonders to the Nations show,
And all his saving Works proclaim.

II.

The Heathens know thy Glory, Lord;
The Wond'ring Nations read thy Word,
In Britain is Jehovah known:
Our worship shall no more be paid
To Gods which mortal Hands have made;
Our Maker is our God alone.

He fram'd the Globe, he built the Sky,
He made the shining Worlds on high,
And reigns compleat in Glory there:

 When Earth shall feel his saving Power,
 And barbarous Nations fear his Name;
 Then shall the Race of Man confess
 The Beauty of his Holiness,
 And in his Courts his Grace proclaim.

*Christ reigning in Heaven, and coming to

I.

HE reigns; The Lord, the Saviour reigns;
 Praise him in evangelic Strains:
 Let the whole Earth in Songs rejoice,
 And distant Islands join their Voice.

II.

Deep are his Counsels and unknown;
 But Grace and Truth support his Throne:
 Tho' gloomy Clouds his Ways surround,
 Justice is their eternal Ground.

IV.

His Enemies with fore Dismay
 Fly from the Sight and shun the Day;

Then lift your Heads, ye Saints, on high,
And sing, for your Redemption's nigh.

Tho' the Kingdom of Christ in the two first Stanza's be matter of Joy to all Nations, yet his coming to Judgment in the two last is Joy only to the Saints: As this Psalm introduces Zion and Judah rejoicing v. 8. so Christ bids his Apostles lift up their Heads &c. Luk. 21. 28.

Angels and Kings, before him bow,
Those Gods on high and Gods below.

III.

Let Idols totter to the Ground,
And their own Worshipers confound:
But Judah shout, but Zion sing,
And Earth confess her sovereign King.

This Psalm foretells the Incarnation of Christ. For the Words of the 7th verse Worship him all ye Gods, are translated Heb. 1. 6. Let all the Angels of God worship him. By this Divine hint I was directed to compose this Hymn, and to introduce the Star that shone at his Birth as a part of the Proclamation of him in the Heavens v. 6. See more, Notes on Ps. 95. Com. Grace and Glory.

His Dwelling is the Mercy-feat.

II.

O ye that love his holy Name,
Hate every Work of Sin and Shame :
He guards the Souls of all his Friends,
And from the Snares of Hell defends.

III.

Immortal Light and Joys unknown
Are for the Saints in Darknes fown ;
Those glorious Seeds shall spring and rise,
And the bright Harvest blefs our Eyes.

IV.

Rejoice ye Righteous, and record
The sacred Honours of the Lord ;

Can triumph in his Holiness.

P S A L M XCVII. 1,3,5--7,11. Com.Met.
Christ's Incarnation and the last Judgment.

I.

YE Islands of the Northern Sea
Rejoice, the Saviour reigns :
His Word like Fire prepares his Way,
And Mountains melt to Plains.

II.

His Presence sinks the proudest Hills,
And makes the Valleys rise ;
The humble Soul enjoys his Smiles,
The haughty Sinner dies.

III.

The Heav'ns his rightfull Power proclaim ;
The Idol-Gods around

Fill their own Worshippers with Shame,
And totter to the Ground.

IV.

Adoring Angels at his Birth
Make the Redeemer known ;
Thus shall he come to Judge the Earth,
And Angels guard his Throne.

V.

His Foes shall tremble at his Sight,
And Hills and Seas retire :
His Children take their unknown Flight,
And leave the World in Fire.

VI.

The Seeds of Joy and Glory sown
For Saints in Darkness here
Shall rise and spring in Worlds unknown,
And a rich Harvest bear.

P S A L M XCVIII. First Part.Praise for the Gospel.

I.

To our Almighty Maker God
New Honours be addrest ;
His great Salvation shines abroad,
And makes the Nations blest.

II.

He spake the Word to Abraham first,
His Truth fulfills the Grace :
The Gentiles make his Name their Trust,
And learn his Righteousness.

III.

Let the whole Earth his Love proclaim
 With all her different Tongues ;
 And spread the Honours of his Name
 In Melody and Songs.

In these two Hymns which I have formed out of the 98th Psalm I have fully exprest what I esteem to be the first and chief Sense of the holy Scriptures, both in this and the 96th Psalm, whose Conclusions are both alike.

P S A L M XCVIII. Second Part.
The Messiah's Coming and Kingdom.

I.

J o y to the World ; the Lord is come ;
 Let Earth receive her King :
 Let every Heart prepare him Room,
 And Heaven and Nature sing.

II.

Joy to the Earth, The Saviour reigns ;
 Let Men their Songs employ ;
 While Fields & Floods, Rocks, Hills & Plains
 Repeat the sounding Joy.

III.

No more let Sins and Sorrows grow,
 Nor Thorns infest the Ground :
 He comes to make his Blessings flow
 Far as the Curse is found.

IV.

He rules the World with Truth and Grace,
 And makes the Nations prove
 The Glories of his Righteousness,
 And Wonders of his Love.

PSALM XCIX. First Part,
Christ's Kingdom and Majesty.

I.

THE God Jehovah reigns,
 Let all the Nations fear,
 Let Sinners tremble at his Throne,
 And Saints be humble there.

II.

Jesus the Saviour reigns,
 Let Earth adore its Lord ;
 Bright Cherubs his Attendants stand,
 Swift to fulfill his Word.

III.

In Zion is his Throne,
 His Honours are Divine ;
 His Church shall make his Wonders known,
 For there his Glories shine.

IV.

How holy is his Name !
 How terrible his Praise !
 Justice and Truth and Judgment join
 In all his Works of Grace.

As the three foregoing Psalms refer to the Incarnation of Christ, and the setting up his Kingdom among the Gentiles, because the Nations are requir'd to rejoice in all them ; so this Psalm seems chiefly to pay Honour and Reverence to God as the God of the Jews, God dwelling in the Ark between the Cherubim ; for the People or Gentiles are bid to tremble : Yet I have ventur'd to translate the Scene a little down to Christian times and Churches, and I hope without offence.

PSALM XCIX. Second Part.
A Holy God Worshipped with Reverence.

And Mercy is his Seat.

II.

When Israel was his Church,
When Aaron was his Priest,
When Moses cry'd, when Samuel pray'd,
He gave his People Rest.

III.

Oft he forgave their Sins,
Nor would destroy their Race;
And oft he made his Vengeance known
When they abus'd his Grace.

IV.

Exalt the Lord our God,
Whose Grace is still the Same;
Still he's a God of Holiness,
And jealous for his Name.

PSALM C. First Metre, a Plain Translation.
Praise to our Creator.

I.

YE Nations round the Earth, rejoice
Before the Lord, your sovereign King:
Serve him with chearfull Heart and Voice,
With all your Tongues his Glory sing.

II.

The Lord is God: 'Tis he alone
Doth Life and Breath and Being give:
We are his Work, and not our own;
The Sheep that on his Pastures live.

III.

Enter his Gates with Songs of Joy,
With Praises to his Courts repair;

I.

SING to the Lord with joyfull Voice;
Let every Land his Name adore;
'The British Isles shall send the Noise
A-cross the Ocean to the Shore.

II.

Nations, attend before his Throne
With solemn Fear, with sacred Joy;
Know that the Lord is God alone;
He can create, and he destroy.

III.

His sovereign Power without our Aid
Made us of Clay, and form'd us Men:
And when like wandring Sheep we stray'd,
He brought us to his Fold again.

IV.

We are his People, we his Care,
Our Souls and all our mortal Frame:
What lasting Honours shall we rear
Almighty Maker, to thy Name?

V.

Wee'll croud thy Gates with thankfull Songs,
High as the Heavens our Voices raise;

And

And Earth with her ten thousand Tongues
Shall fill thy Courts with sounding Praise.

I'll take my Counsels from thy Word;
Thy Justice and thy heavenly Grace
Shall be the Pattern of my Ways.

III.

Let Wisdom all my Actions guide,
And let my God with me reside;
No wicked thing shall dwell with me,
Which may provoke thy Jealousy.

IV.

No Sons of Slander, Rage and Strife
Shall be Companions of my Life;
The haughty Look, the Heart of Pride
Within my Doors shall ne'er abide.

The impious Crew (that factious Band)
Shall hide their Heads, or quit the Land;
And all that break the Publick Rest,
Where I have Power shall be suppress'd.

The 1st Stanza represents the Mercy and Judgment which the Psalmist Sings, as the due Qualities of good Government, which is the proper sense of them in this Psalm; and according to the Double Character of David in this Psalm, I have apply'd the 1st Metre to Magistrates, the 2d to House-holders.

The 5th Stanza can be Sung only by the Superiour Rank of Magistrates and not the Inferiour.

Nor Childrens Children hope in vain.

P S A L M CIII. 1—7. First Part. Short Met.
Praise for Spiritual and Temporal Mercies.

I.

O Bles the Lord, my Soul;
Let all within me join,
And aid my Tongue to bless his Name,
Whose Favours are divine.

II.

O bless the Lord my Soul;
Nor let his Mercies lie
Forgotten in unthankfulness,
And without Praises die.

III.

'Tis he forgives thy Sins,
 'Tis he relieves thy Pain,
 'Tis he that heals thy Sicknesſes,
 And makes Thee young again.

IV.

He Crowns thy Life with Love,
 When ranſom'd from the Grave;
 He that redeem'd my Soul from Hell
 Hath ſovereign Power to ſave.

V.

He fills the Poor with Good;
 He gives the Sufferers Reſt;
 The Lord hath Judgments for the Proud,
 And Juſtice for th' Oppreſt.

VI.

His wondrous Works and Ways
 He made by Mofes known;
 But ſent the World his Truth and Grace,
 By his beloved Son.

P S A L M CIII. 8--18. Sec^d Part. Short Met.
Abounding Compaſſion of God; or, Mercy in the Miſt of Judgment.

I.

My Soul, repeat his Praise
 Whoſe Mercies are ſo great;
 Whoſe Anger is ſo ſlow to riſe,
 So ready to abate.

II.

God will not always chide;
 And when his Strokes are felt,
 His Strokes are fewer than our Crimes,
 And lighter than our Guilt.

III.

III.

High as the Heavens are rais'd
Above the Ground we tread,
So far the Riches of his Grace
Our highest Thoughts exceed.

IV.

His Power subdues our Sins,
And his forgiving Love
Far as the East is from the West
Doth all our Guilt remove.

V.

The Pity of the Lord
To those that fear his Name
Is such as tender Parents feel ;
He knows our feeble Frame.

VI.

He knows we are but Dust,
Scatter'd with every Breath ;
His Anger like a rising Wind
Can send us swift to Death.

VII.

Our Days are as the Grass,
Or like the Morning-flower ;
If one sharp Blast sweep o'er the Field,
It withers in an Hour.

VIII.

But thy Compassions, Lord,
To endless Years endure ;
And Childrens Children ever find
Thy Words of Promise sure.

PSALM CIII. 19--22. Third Part. Short Met.
Gods universal Dominion ; or, Angels Praise
the Lord.

I.

THE Lord, the sovereign King
 Hath fix'd his Throne on high ;
 O'er all the heavenly World he rules,
 And all beneath the Sky.

II.

Ye Angels, great in Might,
 And swift to do his Will,
 Bless ye the Lord, whose Voice ye hear,
 Whose Pleasure ye fulfill.

III.

Let the bright Hosts who wait
 The Orders of their King,
 And guard his Churches when they pray,
 Join in the Praise they sing.

IV.

While all his wondrous Works
 Thro' his vast Kingdoms shew
 Their Makers Glory, thou my Soul,
 Shalt sing his Graces too.

P S A L M CIV.

The Glory of God in Creation and Providence.

I.

MY Soul, thy great Creator praise ;
 When cloth'd in his celestial Rays
 He in full Majesty appears,
 And like a Robe his Glory wears.

Note,

*Note, This Psalm may be sung to the Tune of the Old 112. or 127. Psalm, by adding these two Lines to every Stanza.
(viz.)*

Great is the Lord ; What Tongue can frame
An equal Honour to his Name ?
Otherwile it must be Sung as the 100 Psalm

II.

The Heavens are for his Curtains spread;
Th' unfathom'd Deep he makes his Bed :
Clouds are his Chariot, when he flies
On winged Storms a-croſs the Skies.

III.

Angels, whom his own Breath inſpires,
His Miniſters, are flaming Fires ;
And ſwift as Thought their Armies move
To bear his Vengeance or his Love.

IV.

The Worlds Foundations by his Hand
Are poiſ'd, and ſhall for ever ſtand :
He binds the Ocean in his Chain,
Leſt it ſhould drown the Earth again.

V.

When Earth was cover'd with the Flood
Which high above the Mountains ſtood,
He thunder'd ; and the Ocean fled,
Confin'd to its appointed Bed.

VI.

The ſwelling Billows know their Bound,
And in their Channels walk their Round ;
Yet thence convey'd by ſecret Veins,
They ſpring on Hills, and drench the Plains.

VII.

He bids the Chryſtal Fountains flow,
And cheer the Valleys as they go:

Tame

Tame Heifers there their Thirst allay,
And for the Stream wild Asses bray.

VIII.

From pleasant Trees, which shade the Brink
The Lark and Linnet light to drink;
Their Songs the Lark and Linnet raise,
And chide our Silence in his Praise.

P A U S E I.

IX.

God from his cloudy Cistern pours
On the parch'd Earth enriching Show'rs:
The Grove, the Garden and the Field
A Thousand joyfull Blessings yield.

X.

He makes the grassy Food arise,
And gives the Cattle large Supplies;
With Herbs for Man of various Power,
To nourish Nature, or to cure.

XI.

What noble Fruit the Vines produce!
The Olive yields a shining Juice;
Our Hearts are cheer'd with generous Wine,
With inward Joy our Faces shine.

XII.

O bless his Name, ye Britons, fed
With Natures chief Supporter, Bread:
While Bread your vital Strength imparts,
Serve him with Vigour in your Hearts.

P A U S E II.

XIII.

Behold the stately Cedar stands
Rais'd in the Forrest by his Hands;

Birds to the Boughs for shelter fly,
And build their Nests secure on high.

XIV.

To craggy Hills ascends the Goat ;
And at the airy Mountain's Foot
'The feeble Creatures make their Cell ;
He gives them Wisdom where to dwell.

XV.

He sets the Sun his circling Race,
Appoints the Moon to change her Face ;
And when thick Darkneſs veils the Day,
Calls out wild Beasts to hunt their Prey.

XVI.

Fierce Lions lead their Young abroad,
And roaring ask their Meat from God ;
But when the Morning-beams arise,
'The savage Beast to Covert flies.

XVII.

Then Man to daily Labour goes ;
The Night was made for his Repose :
Sleep is thy Gift ; that sweet Relief
From tiresome Toil and wasting Grief.

XVIII.

How strange thy Works ! how great thy Skill !
And every Land thy Riches fill :
'Thy Wisdom round the World we see,
This spacious Earth is full of Thee.

XIX.

Nor less thy Glories in the Deep,
Where Fish in Millions swim and creep,
With wondrous Motions, swift or slow,
Still wandering in the Paths below.

XX.

There Ships divide their watry Way,
 And Flocks of scaly Monsters play;
 There dwells the huge Leviathan,
 And foams and sports in Spite of Man.

P A U S E III.

XXI.

Vast are thy Works, Almighty Lord,
 All Nature rests upon thy Word,
 And the whole Race of Creatures stands,
 Waiting their Portion from thy Hands.

XXII.

While each receives his different Food,
 Their chearfull Looks pronounce it good;
 Eagles, and Bears, and Whales, and Worms
 Rejoice and praise in different Forms.

XXIII.

But when thy Face is hid, they mourn,
 And dying to their Dust return;
 Both Man and Beast their Souls resign;
 Life, Breath and Spirit all is Thine.

XXIV.

Yet thou can'st breath on Dust again,
 And fill the World with Beasts and Men;
 A Word of thy creating Breath
 Repairs the Wafts of Time and Death.

XXV.

His Works, the Wonders of his Might
 Are honour'd with his own Delight:
 How awfull are his glorious Ways!
 The Lord is dreadfull in his Praise.

XXVI.

The Earth stands trembling at thy Stroke,
And at thy Touch the Mountains smoke;
Yet humble Souls may see thy Face,
And tell their Wants to sovereign Grace.

XXVII.

In Thee my Hopes and Wishes meet,
And make my Meditations sweet:
Thy Praises shall my Breath employ,
Till it expire in endless Joy.

XXVIII.

While haughty Sinners die accurst,
Their Glory bury'd with their Dust,
I to my God my Heavenly King
Immortal Hallelujahs sing.

Several Lines in this Psalm have I borrow'd of Sir John Denham; If I have made the Connexion more evident and the Sense more easy and useful to an ordinary Reader, I have attain'd my End; and leave others to judge whether I have dishonour'd his Verse, or improved it.

Stanz. 5. Tho' I am perswaded the Psalmist speaks here of the first Formation of the Sea and Mountains, when the Waters of the Chaos were separated from the Earth, yet the People more easily understand it of Noah's Flood, and therefore I have indulg'd such a Paraphrase as is capable of that Sense.

P S A L M CV. abridg'd.

God's Conduct of Israel and the Plagues of Egypt.

I

GIVE thanks to God, invoke his Name,
And tell the World his Grace;
Sound thro' the Earth his Deeds of Fame,
That all may seek his Face.

II.

His Covenant, which he kept in mind
For numerous Ages past,
To numerous Ages yet behind
In equal Force shall last.

III.

He sware to Abraham and his Seed,
And made the Blessing sure :
Gentiles the antient Promise read,
And find his Truth endure.

IV.

“ Thy Seed shall make all Nations blest,
(Said the Almighty Voice)
“ And Canaan's Land shall be their Rest,
“ The Type of Heavenly Joys.

V.

[How large the Grant! how rich the Grace,
To give them Canaan's Land,
When they were Strangers in the Place,
A little feeble Band !

VI.

Like Pilgrims thro' the Countries round
Securely they remov'd ;
And haughty Kings that on them frown'd
Severely he reprov'd.

VII.

“ Touch mine Anointed, and my Arm
“ Shall soon revenge the Wrong ;
“ The Man that does my Prophets harm
“ Shall know their God is strong.

VIII.

Then let the World forbear its Rage,
Nor put the Church in Fear;
Israel must live thro' every Age,
And be th' Almighty's Care.]

P A U S E I.

IX.

When Pharaoh dar'd to vex the Saints,
And thus provok'd their God,
Moses was sent at their Complaints,
Arm'd with his dreadfull Rod.

X.

He call'd for Darkness; Darkness came
Like an O'erwhelming Flood:
He turn'd each Lake and every Stream
To Lakes and Streams of Blood.

XI.

He gave the Sign, and noisom Flies
'Thro' the whole Country spread;
And Frogs in croaking Armies rise
About the Monarch's Bed.

XII.

'Thro' Fields and Towns and Palaces
The tenfold Vengeance flew;
Locusts in Swarms devour'd their Trees,
And Hail their Cattle flew.

XIII.

Then by an Angel's midnight Stroke
The Flower of Egypt dy'd;
The Strength of every House was broke,
Their Glory, and their Pride.

XIV.

Now let the World forbear its Rage,
Nor put the Church in Fear;
Israel must live thro' every Age,
And be th' Almighty's Care.

P A U S E II.

XV.

Thus were the Tribes from Bondage
And left the hated Ground; (brought,
Each some Egyptian Spoils had got,
And not one feeble found.

XVI.

The Lord himself chose out their Way,
And mark'd their Journeys right,
Gave them a leading Cloud by Day,
A fiery Guide by Night.

XVII.

They thirst; and Waters from the Rock
In rich Abundance flow,
And following still the Course they took Ran all the Desert thro'.

XVIII.

O wond'rous Stream! O blest Type
Of ever-flowing Grace!
So Christ our Rock maintains our Life
Thro' all this Wilderness.

XIX.

Thus guarded by th' Almighty Hand
The chosen Tribes possess
Canaan the rich, the promis'd Land,
And there enjoy'd their Rest.

XX.

Then let the World forbear its Rage,
 The Church renounce her Fear;
Israel must live thro' every Age
 And be th' Almighty's Care.

P S A L M CVI. 1—5. First Part.

Praise to God; or, Communion with Saints.

I.

To God the Great, the Ever-blest
 Let Songs of Honour be addrest:
 His Mercy firm for ever stands;
 Give him the Thanks his Love demands.

II.

Who knows the Wonders of thy Ways?
 Who shall fulfill thy boundless Praise?
 Blest are the Souls that fear Thee still,
 And pay their Duty to thy Will.

III.

Remember what thy Mercy did
 For Jacob's Race, thy chosen Seed;
 And with the same Salvation bless
 The meanest Suppliant of thy Grace.

IV.

O may I see thy Tribes rejoice,
 And aid their Triumphs with my Voice!
 This is my Glory, Lord, to be
 Join'd to thy Saints and near to Thee.

P S A L M CVI. Second Part. v. 7, 8, 12,— 14. 43—48.

Israel punish'd and pardon'd ; or, God's unchangeable Love.

I.

GOD of eternal Love,
How fickle are our Ways !
And yet how oft did Israel prove
Thy Constancy of Grace !

II.

They saw thy Wonders wrought,
And then thy Praise they sung ;
But soon thy Works of Power forgot,
And murmur'd with their Tongue.

III.

Now they believe his Word
While Rocks with Rivers flow ;
Now with their Lusts provoke the Lord,
And he reduc'd them low.

IV.

Yet when they mourn'd their Faults,
He hearken'd to their Groans,
Brought his own Covenant to his Thoughts,
And call'd them still his Sons.

V.

Their Names were in his Book,
He sav'd them from their Foes ;
Oft he chastis'd, but ne'er forsook
The People that he chose.

VI.

Let Israel bless the Lord,
Who lov'd their antient Race ;

And

And Christians join the solemn Word
Amen to all the Praise.

The chief design of this whole Psalm I have express'd in the Title; and abridg'd it in this Form, having enlarged much more on this same Subject in the 77th, 78th and 105th Psalms.

Tho' the Jews now seem to be cast off, yet the Apostle Paul assures us that God hath not cast away his People whom he foreknew. Rom. 11. 2. their unbelief and Absence from God is but for a Season, for they shall be recalled again. v. 25. 26.

P S A L M CVII. First Part.

Israel led to Canaan, and Christians to Heaven.

I.

GIVE thanks to God: He reigns above,
 Kind are his Thoughts, his Name is
 His Mercy Ages past have known, (Love
 And Ages long to come shall own.

II.

Let the Redeemed of the Lord
 The Wonders of his Grace record;
Israel, the Nation whom he chose,
 And rescu'd from their mighty Foes.

III.

[When God's almighty Arm had broke.
 Their Fetters and th' Egyptian Yoke,
 They trac'd the Desert wandering round,
 A wild and solitary Ground.

IV.

There they could find no leading Road,
 Nor City for a fix'd Abode;
 Nor Food, nor Fountain to assuage
 Their burning Thirst, or Hungers Rage.]

V.

In their Distress to God they cry'd,
 God was their Saviour and their Guide,
 He led their March far wandering round
 'Twas the right Path to Canaan's Ground.

VI.

Thus when our first Release we gain
 From Sins old Yoke and Satan's Chain,
 We have this desert World to pass,
 A dangerous and a tiresome Place.

VII.

He feeds and cloaths us all the Way,
 He guides our Footsteps lest we stray
 He guards us with a powerfull Hand,
 And brings us to the heavenly Land.

VIII.

O let the Saints with Joy record
 The Truth and Goodness of the Lord
 How great his Works! how kind his Ways
 Let every Tongue pronounce his Praise

P S A L M CVII. Second Part.

Correction for Sin, and Release by Prayer.

I.

FROM Age to Age exalt his Name
 God and his Grace are still the same
 He fills the hungry Soul with Food,
 And feeds the Poor with every Good.

II.

But if their Hearts rebell and rise
 Against the God that rules the Skies
 If they reject his heavenly Word,
 And slight the Counsels of the Lord;

III.

He'll bring their Spirits to the Ground,
And no Deliverer shall be found ;
Laden with Grief they waste their Breath
In Darknes and the Shades of Death.

IV.

Then to the Lord they raise their Cries,
He makes the dawning Light arise,
And scatters all that dismal Shade
That hung so heavy round their Head.

V.

He cuts the Bars of Brass in two,
And lets the smiling Prisoners thro' :
Takes off the Load of Guilt and Grief,
And gives the labouring Soul Relief.

VI.

O may the Sons of Men record !
The wondrous Goodness of the Lord !
How great his Works ! how kind his Ways !
Let every Tongue pronounce his Praise.

P S A L M CVII. Third Part.

*Intemperance punish'd and pardoned ; or, a
Psalm for the Glutton and the Drunkard.*

I.

VAIN Man on foolish Pleasures bent
Prepares for his own Punishment,
What Pains, what loathsome Maladies
From Luxury and Lust arise !

II.

The Drunkard feels his Vitals waste,
Yet drowns his Health to please his Taste :
Till all his Active Powers are lost,
And fainting Life draws near the Dust. III.

III.

The Glutton groans and loaths to eat,
His Soul abhors delicious Meat :
Nature with heavy Loads oppress'd
Would yield to Death to be releas'd;

IV.

Then how the frightened Sinners fly
To God for help with earnest Cry!
He hears their Groans, prolongs their Breath,
And saves them from approaching Death.

V.

Not Medicines could effect the Cure
So quick, so easy, or so sure :
The deadly Sentence God repeals,
He sends his sovereign Word and heals.

VI.

O may the Sons of Men record
The wondrous Goodness of the Lord!
And let their thankfull Offerings prove
How they adore their Makers Love.

PSALM CVII. Fourth Part. Long Metre.

*Deliverance from Storms and Shipwreck; or,
the Seaman's Song.*

I.

WOULD you behold the Works of God,
His Wonders in the World abroad,
Go with the Mariners, and trace
The unknown Regions of the Seas.

II.

They leave their native Shores behind,
And seize the Favour of the Wind;

Till

Till God command, and Tempests rise
That heave the Ocean to the Skies.

III

Now to the Heavens they mount amain,
Now sink to dreadfull Deeps again ;
What strange Affrights young Sailors feel,
And like a staggering Drunkard reel !

IV.

When Land is far, and Death is nigh,
Loft to all hope, to God they cry :
His Mercy hears the loud Address,
And sends Salvation in distress.

V.

He bids the Winds their Wrath assuage,
'The furious Waves forget their Rage ;
'Tis calm ; and Sailors smile to see
The Haven where they wish'd to be.

VI.

O may the Sons of Men record
The wondrous Goodness of the Lord !
Let them their private Offerings bring,
And in the Church his Glory sing.

PSALM CVII. Fourth Part. Com. Met.

The Mariner's Psalm.

I.

THY Works of Glory, mighty Lord,
Thy Wonders in the Deeps
The Sons of Courage shall record
Who trade in floating Ships.

II.

At thy Command the Winds arise,
And swell the tow'ring Waves ;

The

The Men astonish'd mount the Skies,
And sink in gaping Graves.

III.

[Again they climb the watry Hills,
And plunge in Deeps again;
Each like a tottering Drunkard reels,
And finds his Courage vain.

IV.

Frighted to hear the Tempest roar
They pant with fluttering Breath,
And hopeless of the distant Shoar
Expect immediate Death.]

V.

Then to the Lord they raise their Cries;
He hears the loud Request,
And orders Silence thro' the Skies,
And lays the Floods to rest.

VI.

Sailors rejoice to lose their Fears,
And see the Storm allay'd :
Now to their Eyes the Port appears ;
There let their Vows be paid.

VII.

'Tis God that brings them safe to Land ;
Let stupid Mortals know
That Waves are under his Command,
And all the Winds that blow.

VIII.

O that the Sons of Men would praise
The Goodness of the Lord !
And those that see thy wondrous Ways
Thy wondrous Love record !

P S A L M 107. Last Part.Colonies planted ; or, Nations blest and punish'd.

A Psalm for New-England.

I.

(Crimes

WHEN God provok'd with daring
 Scourges the Madnes of the Times,
 He turns their Fields to barren Sand,
 And dries the Rivers from the Land.

II.

His Word can raise the Springs again,
 And make the wither'd Mountains green,
 Send show'ry Blessings from the Skies ;
 And Harvests in the Desert rise.

III.

[Where nothing dwelt but Beasts of Prey,
 Or Men as fierce and wild as they,
 He bids th' Opprest and Poor repair,
 And builds them Towns and Cities there.

IV.

They saw the Fields, and Trees they plant,
 Whose yearly Fruit supplies their Want :
 Their Race grows up from fruitfull Stocks,
 Their Wealth increases with their Flocks.

V.

Thus they are blest ; but if they Sin,
 He lets the heathen Nations in,
 A savage Crew invades their Lands,
 Their Princes dye by barbarous Hands.

VI.

Their captive Sons expos'd to Scorn
 Wander unpity'd and forlorn :

The

The Country lies unfenc'd, untill'd,
And Desolation spreads the Field.

VII.

Yet if the humbled Nation mourns,
Again his dreadfull Hand he turns ;
Again he makes their Cities thrive,
And bids the dying Churches live.]

VIII.

The Righteous with a joyfull Sense
Admire the Works of Providence ;
And Tongues of Atheists shall no more
BlaspHEME the God that Saints adore.

IX.

How Few with pious Care record
These wondrous Dealings of the Lord ?
But wise Observers still shall find
The Lord is holy, just and kind.

If this Hymn be too long to sing at once, The two first and two last Stanza's of it may be sung together, and the five middle Stanza's by themselves, another Hymn : For I could not find any other convenient Division of it.

The 108th Psalm is formed out of the 57th and 60th, therefore I have omitted it.

P S A L M 109. v. 1--5, 31.

Love to Enemies from the Example of Christ.

I.

GOD of my Mercy and my Praise,
Thy Glory is my Song ;
Tho' Sinners speak against thy Grace
With a blaspheming Tongue.

II.

When in the Form of mortal Man
Thy Son on Earth was found,

With

With cruel Slanders, false and vain
They compass Him around.

III.

Their Miseries his Compassion move,
Their Peace He still pursu'd;
They render Hatred for his Love,
And Evil for his Good.

IV.

Their Malice rag'd without a Cause,
Yet with his dying Breath
He pray'd for Murderers on his Cross,
And blest his Foes in Death.

V.

Lord, shall thy bright Example shine
In vain before my Eyes?
Give me a Soul akin to Thine,
To love my Enemies.

VI.

The Lord shall on my Side engage,
And in my Saviour's Name
I shall defeat their Pride and Rage
Who slander and condemn.

That this Psalm foretells the Sufferings, the Patience, and Love of Christ to Enemies is universally Agree'd; But the Curses on Judas and the Priests, &c. I have chosen to leave as they stand in the sacred Language of Prophecy.

PSALM CX. First Part. Long Metre.
Christ exalted, and Multitudes converted;
or, the Success of the Gospel.

I.

THUS the Eternal Father spake
To Christ the Son; "Ascend and sit
At

“ At my right Hand, till I shall make “ Thy Foes submissive at thy Feet.

II.

“ From Zion shall thy Word proceed,
 “ Thy Word, the Scepter in thy Hand,
 “ Shall make the Hearts of Rebels bleed,
 “ And bow their Wills to thy Command.

III.

“ That Day shall shew thy Power is great,
 “ When Saints shall flock with willing minds
 “ And Sinners croud thy Temple-Gate,
 “ Where Holiness in Beauty shines.

IV.

O blessed Power! O Glorious Day!
 What a large Victory shall ensue!
 And Converts who thy Grace obey
 Exceed the Drops of Morning-Dew.

St. 3, 4. It is generally supposed the 3d verse of this Psalm describes the numerous Conversions that follow'd the Ascension of Christ. The Beauty of Holiness is but a Periphrasis for the Temple. That the whole Psalm is a Prophecy of Christ in his Kingdom and Priesthood is abundantly evident from Matt. 22. 44. Heb. 7. &c.

P S A L M CX. Second Part. Long Metre.
The Kingdom and Priesthood of Christ.

I.

THUS the great Lord of Earth and Sea
 Spake to his Son, and thus He swore;
 “ Eternal shall thy Priesthood be,
 “ And change from Hand to Hand no more.

II.

“ Aaron and all his Sons must dye;
 But everlasting Life is Thine,

O

To

To save for ever those that fly
For Refuge from the Wrath divine.

III.

By me Melchisedek was made
On Earth a King and Priest at once;
And Thou my Heavenly Priest shalt plead,
And Thou my King, shalt rule my Sons.

IV.

Jesus the Priest ascends his Throne,
While Counsels of Eternal Peace
Between the Father and the Son
Proceed with Honour and Success.

V.

Thro' the whole Earth his Reign shall Spread,
And crush the Powers that dare rebell:
Then shall he judge the rising Dead
And send the guilty World to Hell.

VI.

Tho' while he treads his glorious Way,
He drink the Cup of Tears and Blood,
The Sufferings of that dreadful Day
Shall but advance him near to God.

The Priesthood of Christ after the Order of Melchisedek is particularly explain'd, Heb. 7. v. 1, 3, 23, 24, 25. And is in er. ed in the 3 first Stanza's.

St. 4. Zech. 6. 13. He shall be a Priest upon his Throne and the Counsel of peace shall be between them both.

The last verse of this Psalm is explain'd by Interpreters in very contrary Senses. Some make his Drinking of the Brook to signify mean Refreshments in his Way, and some expound it of his tasting Sorrows and Sufferings. The last is Most evangelical and most beautifull, therefore I have chosen it.

PSALM CX. Common Metre.
Christ's Kingdom and Priesthood.

I.

JESUS, our Lord, ascend thy Throne,
And near the Father sit;
In Zion shall thy Power be known,
And make thy Foes submit.

II.

What Wonders shall thy Gospel do!
Thy Converts shall surpass
The numerous Drops of Morning-Dew
And own thy sovereign Grace.

III.

God hath pronounc'd a firm Decree,
Nor changes what he swore;
" Eternal shall thy Priesthood be,
" When Aaron is no more.

IV.

" Melchisedek that wondrous Priest,
" That King of high Degree,
" That holy Man who Abraham blest
" Was but a Type of Thee.

V.

Jesus our Priest for ever lives
To plead for us above;
Jesus our King for ever gives
The Blessings of his Love.

VI.

God shall exalt his glorious Head,
And his high Throne maintain,
Shall strike the Powers and Princes dead
Who dare oppose his Reign.

PSALM. CXI. First Part.
The Wisdom of God in his Works.

I.

SONGS of immortal Praise belong
 To my Almighty God;
 He has my Heart, and he my Tongue
 To spread his Name abroad.

II.

How great the Work his Hand has wrought!
 How glorious in our Sight!
 And Men in every Age have sought
 His Wonders with Delight.

III.

How most exact is Natures Frame!
 How wise th' Eternal Mind!
 His Counsels never change the Scheme
 That his first Thoughts design'd.

IV.

When he redeem'd his chosen Sons
 He fixt his Covenant sure:
 The Orders that his Lips pronounce
 To endless Years endure.

V.

Nature and Time and Earth and Skies,
 Thy heavenly Skill proclaim:
 What shall we do to make us wise,
 But learn to read thy Name?

VI.

To fear thy Power, to trust thy Grace
 Is our divinest Skill;
 And he's the wisest of our Race
 That best obeys thy Will.

Of this Psalm, I have chosen several Verses, and formed into two distinct Hymns, keeping the first and the two last Verses in both.

PSALM CXI. Second Part.

The Perfections of God.

I.

GREAT is the Lord; his Works of Might Demand our noblest Songs;
Let his assembled Saints unite
Their Harmony of Tongues.

II.

Great is the Mercy of the Lord,
He gives his Children Food;
And ever mindfull of his Word,
He makes his Promise good.

III.

His Son the great Redeemer came
To seal his Covenant sure:
Holy and reverend is his Name,
His Ways are just and pure.

IV.

They that would grow divinely Wise
Must with his Fear begin;
Our fairest Proof of Knowledge lies
In hating every Sin.

PSALM CXII. as the 113th Psalm.

The Blessings of the Liberal Man.

I.

THAT Man is blest who stands in Awe
Of God, and loves his sacred Law:
His Seed on Earth shall be renown'd;

His House, the Seat of Wealth, shall be
An inexhausted Treasury,

And with successive Honours crown'd.

II.

His liberal Favours he extends,
To Some he gives, to Others lends :

A generous Pity fills his Mind :
Yet what his Charity impairs,
He saves by Prudence in Affairs,
And thus he's just to all Mankind.

III.

His Hands, while they his Alms bestow'd,
His Glory's future Harvest sow'd ;

The sweet Remembrance of the Just
Like a green Root revives and bears
A train of Blessings for his Heirs,
When dying Nature sleeps in Dust.

IV.

Beset with threatening Dangers round,
Unmov'd shall he maintain his Ground ;

His Conscience holds his Courage up:
The Soul that's fill'd with Vertue's Light,
Shines brightest in Afflictions Night :

And sees in Darkness Beams of Hope.

P A U S E.

V.

[Ill Tidings never can surprize
His Heart that fix'd on God relies,
Tho' Waves and Tempests roar around :
Safe on the Rock he sits, and sees
The Shipwreck of his Enemies,
And all their Hope and Glory drown'd.

VI.

The Wicked shall his Triumph see,
 And gnash their Teeth in Agony,
 To find their Expectations crost:
 They and their Envy, Pride and Spite
 Sink down to everlasting Night,
 And all their Names in Darknes lost.]

Many Lines of this Metre and some of the next Psalm, proper Metre, are borrow'd from Mr. Tate's Version.

PSALM CXII. Long Metre.

The Blessings of the Pious and Charitable.

I.

THREE happy Man who fears the Lord,
 Loves his Commands, and trusts his Honour and Peace his Days attend, (Word;
 And Blessings to his Seed descend.

II.

Compassion dwells upon his Mind,
 To Works of Mercy still inclin'd:
 He lends the Poor some present Aid,
 Or gives them, not to be repaid.

III.

When Times grow dark & Tidings spread
 That fill his Neighbours round with Dread,
 His Heart is arm'd against the Fear,
 For God with all his Power is there.

IV.

His Soul well fix'd upon the Lord
 Draws heavenly Courage from his Word:
 Amidst the Darknes Light shall rise
 To chear his Heart and bless his Eyes.

V.

He hath disperst his Alms abroad,
His Works are still before his God ;
His Name on Earth shall long remain,
While envious Sinners fret in vain.

PSALM CXII. Common Metre.

Liberality rewarded.

I.

HAPPY is he that fears the Lord,
And follows his Commands,
Who lends the Poor without Reward,
Or gives with liberal Hands.

II.

As Pity dwells within his Breast
To all the Sons of Need ;
So God shall answer his Request
With Blessings on his Seed.

III.

No evil Tidings shall surprize
His well-establish'd Mind ;
His Soul to God his Refuge flies,
And leaves his Fears behind.

IV.

In Times of general Distress
Some Beams of Light shall shine,
To shew the World his Righteousness,
And give him Peace divine.

V.

His Works of Piety and Love
Remain before the Lord ;
Honour on Earth and Joys above
Shall be his sure Reward.

Many of the Blessings of Wealth, and Grandeur and Temporal good Things that were the Portion of a Good Man and his Children under the O. T. I have here abridged agreeable to the New, which foretells rather Temporal Afflictions, and Promises everlasting Rewards.

P S A L M CXIII. Proper Tune.

The Majesty and Condescension of God.

I.

YE that delight to serve the Lord,
The Honours of his Name record,
His sacred Name for ever blest :
Where e'er the circling Sun displays
His rising Beams, or setting Rays,
Let Lands and Seas his Power confess.

II.

Not Time, nor Nature's narrow Rounds
Can give his vast Dominion Bounds ;
The Heavens are far below his Height :
Let no created Greatness dare
With our eternal God compare,
Arm'd with his uncreated Might.

III.

He bows his glorious Head to view
What the bright Hosts of Angels do,
And bends his Care to mortal Things ;
His sovereign Hand exalts the Poor,
He takes the Needy from the Door,
And makes them Company for Kings.

IV.

When childless Families despair,
He sends the Blessing of an Heir
To rescue their expiring Name ;

The Mother with a thankfull Voice
Proclaims his Praises and her Joys :
Let every Age advance his Fame.

P S A L M CXIII. Long Metre.

God Sovereign and Gracious.

I.

YE Servants of th' Almighty King,
In every Age his Praises sing ;
Where e'er the Sun shall rise or set,
The Nations shall his Praise repeat.

II.

Above the Earth, beyond the Sky
Stands his high Throne of Majesty :
Nor Time nor Place his Power restrain,
Nor bound his universal Reign.

III.

Which of the Sons of Adam dare,
Or Angels with their God compare ?
His Glories how divinely bright,
Who dwells in uncreated Light !

IV.

Behold his Love : He stoops to view
What Saints above and Angels do ;
And condescends yet more to know
The mean Affairs of Men below.

V.

From Dust and Cottages obscure
His Grace exalts the humble Poor ;
Gives them the Honour of his Sons,
And fits them for their heavenly Thrones.

VI.

[A Word of his creating Voice
Can make the barren House rejoice :
Tho' Sarah's ninety Years were past,
The promis'd Seed is born at last.

VII.

With Joy the Mother views her Son,
And tells the Wonders God has done :
Faith may grow strong when Sense despairs ;
If Nature fails, the Promise bears.]

Part of the 6th and 7th Stanza's are borrow'd from Genesis. 17. 17. and Rom. 4. 19, 20. Shall Sarah that is ninety Years old bear? Abraham was strong in Faith, &c.

PSALM CXIV.

Miracles attending Israel's Journey.

I

WHEN Israel, freed from Pharaoh's Hand,
Left the proud Tyrant and his Land,
The Tribes with chearfull Homage own
Their King, and Judah was his Throne.

II.

A cross the Deep their Journey lay ;
The Deep divides to make them Way ;
Jordan beheld their March, and fled
With backward Current to his Head.

III.

The Mountains shook like frightened Sheep,
Like Lambs the little Hillocks leap ;
Not Sinai on her Base could stand,
Conscious of sovereign Power at Hand.

IV.

What Power could make the Deep divide ?
Make Jordan backward roll his Tide ?

Why

Why did ye leap, ye little Hills?
And whence the Fright that Sinai feels?
V.

Let every Mountain, every Flood
Retire, and know th' approaching God,
The King of Israel: See him here;
Tremble thou Earth, adore and fear.

VI.

He thunders, and all Nature mourns;
The Rock to standing Pools he turns;
Flints spring with Fountains at his Word,
And Fires and Seas confess the Lord.

This Psalm appears to me an admirable Ode, but if I had introduced the Presence of God into the Camp of Israel removing from Egypt, as all my Predecessors have done, I had lost the Divine Beauty of the Psalm: For had God appeared at first, there could be no Wonder why the Mountains should leap, and the Sea retire; therefore that this Convulsion of Nature may be brought in with due Surprise, the Sacred Poet conceals his Name till afterward, and then with a very agreeable Turn of Thought God is introduced at once in all his Majesty. This is what I have attempted to imitate, and to preserve what I could of the Spirit of the inspired Author.

P S A L M CXV. First Metre.

The True God our Refuge; or, Idolatry re-proved.

I.

NOT to our Selves, who are but Dust,
Not to our Selves is Glory due,
Eternal God, Thou only Just,
Thou only Gracious, Wise and True.

II.

Shine forth in all thy dreadfull Name;
Why should a Heathen's haughty Tongue
Insult

Insult us, and to raise our Shame
Say, "Where's the God you've serv'd so long?"

III.

The God we serve maintains his Throne
Above the Clouds, beyond the Skies,
Thro' all the Earth his Will is done,
He knows our Groans, he hears our Cries.

IV.

But the vain Idols they adore
* Are senseless Shapes of Stone and Wood ;
At best a Mass of glittering Oar,
A silver Saint, or golden God.

V.

[With Eyes and Ears they carve their Head,
Deaf are their Ears, their Eyes are blind ;
In vain are costly Offerings made,
And Vows are scatter'd in the Wind.]

VI.

Their Feet were never made to move,
Nor Hands to save when Mortals pray ;
Mortals that pay them Fear or Love
Seem to be blind and deaf as they.]

VII.

O Israel, make the Lord thy Hope,
Thy Help, thy Refuge, and thy Rest ;
The Lord shall build thy Ruins up,
And bless the People and the Priest.

VIII.

The Dead no more can speak thy Praise,
They dwell in Silence and the Grave ;
But we shall live to sing thy Grace,
And tell the World thy Pow'r to save.

PSALM CXV. Second Metre. as the New Tune of the 50th Psalm.

Popish Idolatry reprov'd.

A Psalm for the 5th of November.

I.

NOT to our Names, Thou only Just and True,
Not to our worthless Names is Glory due:
Thy Power and Grace, thy Truth and Justice claim
Immortal Honours to thy sovereign Name.
Shine thro' the Earth from Heaven thy blest Abode,
Nor let the Heathens say; "And where's your God?"

II.

Heaven is thine higher Court: There stands thy Throne,
And thro' the lower Worlds thy Will is done:
Our God fram'd all this Earth, these Heavens he spread,
But Fools adore the Gods their Hands have made:
The kneeling Crowd with Looks devout behold
Their Silver-Saviours, and their Saints of Gold.

III.

[Vain are those artful Shapes of Eyes and Ears;
The molten Image neither sees nor hears:
Their Hands are helpless, nor their Feet can move,
They have no Speech, nor Thought, nor Power, nor Love;
Yet forth Mortals make their long Complaints
To their deaf Idols, and their moveless Saints.

IV.

The Rich have Statutes well adorn'd with Gold;
The Poor content with Gods of coarser Mould,
With Tools of Iron carve the senseless Stock
Lopt from a Tree, or broken from a Rock:
People and Priest drive on the solemn Trade,
And trust the Gods that Saws and Hammers made.]

V.

Be Heaven and Earth amaz'd! 'Tis hard to say
Which is more stupid, or their Gods, or They.

O Israel, trust the Lord ; he hears and sees,
 He knows thy Sorrows, and rest ores thy Peace :
 His Worship does a Thousand Comforts yield,
 He is thy Help, and he thy Heavenly Shield.

VI.

O Britain, trust the Lord : Thy Foes in vain
 Attempt thy Ruin, and oppose his Reign ;
 Had they prevail'd, Darknes had clos'd our Days,
 And Death and Silence had forbid his Praise :
 But we are sav'd, and live : Let Songs arise,
 And Britain blest the God that built the Skies.

P S A L M CXVI. First Part.Recovery from Sicknes.

I.

I love the Lord : He heard my Cries,
 And pity'd every Groan :
 Long as I live, when Troubles rise,
 I'll hasten to his Throne.

II.

I lov'd the Lord : He bow'd his Ear
 And chas'd my Griefs away :
 O let my Heart no more despair,
 While I have Breath to pray !

III.

My Flesh declin'd, my Spirits fell,
 And I drew near the Dead,
 While inward Pangs and Fears of Hell
 Perplex'd my wakefull head,

IV.

“ My God, I cry'd, thy Servant save,
 “ Thou ever Good and Just ;
 “ Thy Power can rescue from the Grave,
 “ Thy Power is all my Trust.

V.

V.

The Lord beheld me sore distressed,
 He bid my Pains remove :
 Return, my Soul, to God thy Rest,
 For thou hast known his Love.

VI.

My God hath sav'd my Soul from Death,
 And dry'd my falling Tears :
 Now to his Praise I'll spend my Breath,
 And my remaining Years.

PSALM CXVI. 12. &c. Second Part.
Vows made in Trouble paid in the Church ; or,
Publick Thanks for Private Deliverance.

I.

WHAT shall I render to my God
 For all his Kindness shown ?
 My Feet shall visit thine Abode,
 My Songs address thy Throne.

II.

Among the Saints that fill thine House
 My Offerings shall be paid ;
 There shall my Zeal perform the Vows
 My Soul in Anguish made.

III.

How much is Mercy thy Delight,
 Thou ever-blessed God !
 How dear thy Servants in thy Sight !
 How precious is their Blood !

IV.

How happy all thy Servants are !
 How great thy Grace to me !
 My Life which thou hast made thy Care,
 Lord, I devote to Thee.

V.

Now I am Thine, for ever Thine,
 Nor shall my Purpose move;
 Thy Hand hath loos'd my Bonds of Pain
 And bound me with thy Love.

VI.

Here in thy Courts I leave my Vow,
 And thy rich Grace record;
 Witness, ye Saints, who hear me now,
 If I forsake the Lord

P S A L M CXVII. Common Metre.
Praise to God from all Nations.

I.

O all ye Nations, praise the Lord
 Each with a different Tongue;
 In every Language learn his Word,
 And let his Name be sung.

II.

His Mercy reigns thro' every Land;
 Proclaim his Grace abroad;
 For ever firm his Truth shall stand;
 Praise ye the faithfull God.

P S A L M CXVII. Long Metre.

I.

FROM all that dwell below the Skies
 Let the Creator's Praise arise:
 Let the Redeemer's Name be sung
 Thro' every Land, by every Tongue.

II.

Eternal are thy Mercies, Lord;
 Eternal Truth attends thy Word;

Thy

Thy Praise shall sound from Shore to Shore
Till Suns shall rise and set no more.

P S A L M CXVII. Short Metre.

I.

THY Name, Almighty Lord,
Shall sound thro' distant Lands;
Great is thy Grace, and sure thy Word;
Thy Truth for ever stands.

II.

Far be thine Honour spread,
And long thy Praise endure,
Till Morning-Light and Evening-Shade
Shall be exchange'd no more.

P S A L M CXVIII. First Part. v. 6—15.
Deliverance from a Tumult.

I.

THE Lord appears my Helper now,
Nor is my Faith afraid
What all the Sons of Earth can do,
Since Heaven affords its Aid.

II.

'Tis safer, Lord, to hope in Thee,
And have my God my Friend,
Than trust in Man of high Degree,
And on their Trust depend.

III.

Like Bees my Foes beset me round,
A large and angry Swarm;
But I shall all their Rage confound
By thine Almighty Arm.

IV.

IV.

'Tis thro' the Lord my Heart is strong,
 In him my Lips rejoice ;
 While his Salvation is my Song,
 How chearfull is my Voice !

V.

Like angry Bees they girt me round ;
 When God appears they fly :
 So burning Thorns with crackling Sound
 Make a fierce Blaze and die.

VI.

Joy to the Saints and Peace belongs ;
 The Lord protects their Days :
 Let Israel tune immortal Songs
 To his Almighty Grace.

PSALM CXVIII. Second Part. v. 17—21.
Publick Praise for Deliverance from Death.

I.

LORD, thou hast heard thy Servant cry,
 And rescu'd from the Grave ;
 Now shall he live : (and none can dy
 If God resolve to save.)

II.

Thy Praise, more constant than before,
 Shall fill his daily Breath ;
 Thy Hand that hath chastis'd him fore
 Defends him still from Death.

III.

Open the Gates of Zion now,
 For we shall worship there,
 The House where all the Righteous go
 Thy Mercy to declare.

IV.

IV.

Among th' Assemblies of thy Saints
 Our thankfull Voice we raise ;
 There we have told Thee our Complaints,
 And there we speak thy Praise.

PSALM CXVIII. Third Part. v. 22. 23.

Christ the Foundation of his Church.

I.

BEHOLD the sure Foundation-Stone
 Which God in Zion lays
 To build our heavenly Hopes upon,
 And his Eternal Praise.

II.

Chosen of God, to Sinners dear,
 And Saints adore the Name,
 They trust their whole Salvation here,
 Nor shall they suffer Shame.

III.

The foolish Builders, Scribe and Priest
 Reject it with Disdain ;
 Yet on this Rock the Church shall rest,
 And Envy rage in vain.

IV.

What tho' the Gates of Hell withstood,
 Yet must this Building rise :
 'Tis thy own Work, Almighty God,
 And wondrous in our Eyes.

These five Verses from the 22d to 27th, containing a glorious Prophecy of Christ. I have explained 'em at large in the Language of the New Testament in 2 distinct Hymns. 1. Pet. 2. 4. 6. Behold, I lay in Zion a chief Corner-stone, Elect, Precious, and he that believeth on Him shall not be ashamed — disallowed of Men, but chosen of God and precious. Matt. 16. 18. upon this Rock will I build my Church, and the Gates of Hell shall not prevail against it. See the Notes on the following Hymns. PSALM

PSALM CXVIII. Fourth Pt. v. 24, 25, 26.
Hofanna ; the Lord's Day : or, Christ's Resurrection, and our Salvation.

I.

THIS is the Day the Lord hath made,
 He calls the Hours his own ;
 Let Heaven rejoice, let Earth be glad,
 And Praise surround the Throne.

II.

To day he rose and left the Dead,
 And Satan's Empire fell ;
 To day the Saints his Triumph spread,
 And all his Wonders tell.

III.

Hofanna to th' anointed King,
 To David's holy Son :
 Help us, O Lord ; descend and bring Salvation from the Throne.

IV.

Blest be the Lord who comes to Men
 With Messages of Grace ;
 Who comes in God his Father's Name
 To save our sinfull Race.

V.

Hofanna in the highest Strains
 The Church on Earth can raise ;
 The highest Heavens in which he reigns
 Shall give him nobler Praise.

See the Notes on the foregoing and following Hymns.

Stan. I. This is the Day wherein Christ fulfill'd his Sufferings, and rose from the Dead, and has honoured it with his own Name. Rev 1. 10. The Lord's Day.

Stanza

Stan 3. This Verse is explained Matth. 21. 9. Hosanna to the Son of David. Blessed is he that cometh in the Name of the Lord: Hosanna in the Highest. The Word Hosanna signifies, save, we beseech.

P S A L M CXVIII. v. 22—27. Short Met.
An Hosanna for the Lord's-day; or, a new Song of Salvation by Christ.

I.

SEE what a living Stone
 The Builders did refuse;
 Yet God hath built his Church thereon
 In Spight of envious Jews.

II.

The Scribe and angry Priest
 Reject thine only Son;
 Yet on this Rock shall Zion rest,
 As the chief Corner-stone.

III.

The Work, O Lord, is Thine,
 And wondrous in our Eyes;
 This Day declares it all Divine,
 This Day did Jesus rise.

IV.

This is the glorious Day
 That our Redeemer made;
 Let us rejoyce and sing and pray,
 Let all the Church be glad.

V

*Hosanna to the King
 Of David's royal Blood;*
 Bless him, ye Saints; He comes to bring Salvation from your God.

VI.

We bless thine holy Word
Which all this Grace displays ;
And offer on thine Altar, Lord,
Our Sacrifice of Praise.

St. 6. The 27th v. must be explain'd Evangelically ; the Gospel is our Light, our Altar is Christ, and our Sacrifices are Prayer and Praise. Heb. 13. 10, 15.

PSALM CXVIII. 22--27. Long Metre.

An Hosanna for the Lords-day ; or, a new Song of Salvation by Christ.

I.

Lo what a glorious Corner-stone
The Jewish Builders did refuse ;
But God hath built his Church thereon
In Spight of Envy and the Jews.

II.

Great God, the Work is all divine,
The Joy and Wonder of our Eyes :
This is the Day that proves it thine,
The Day that saw our Saviour rise.

III.

Sinners rejoice ; and Saints, be glad :
Hosanna, let his Name be blest ;
A thousand Honours on his Head
With Peace and Light and Glory rest !

IV.

In God's own Name he comes to bring
Salvation to our dying Race ;
Let the whole Church address their King
With Hearts of Joy and Songs of Praise.

St. 3. Hofanna signifies save, we beseech, as v. 25. And since the Hofanna is ascrib'd to Christ in Matt. 21. 9. It seems to mean properly, An Acclammation to Christ, as King; as we say in our Language, God save the King, or God bless the King, tho' in the Common Metre I have turn'd it as a short Prayer for our own Salvation in the Sense in which 'tis often understood.

P S A L M CXIX.

I have collected and disposed the most usefull Verses of this Psalm under eighteen different Heads, and form'd a Divine Song upon each of them. But the Verses are much transposed to attain some degree of Connexion.

In some places among the Words, Law, Commands, Judgments, Testimonies, I have used Gospel, Word, Grace, Truth, Promises, &c. as more agreeable to the New Testament, and the Common Language of Christians, and equally answers the Design of the Psalmist, which was to recommend the Holy Scripture.

P S A L M CXIX. First Part.

The Blessedness of Saints, and Misery of Sinners

I. v. 1, 2, 3.

BLEST are the undefil'd in Heart,
Whose Ways are right and clean;
Who never from thy Law depart,
But fly from every Sin.

II.

Blest are the Men that keep thy Word,
And practice thy Commands;
With their whole Heart they seek the Lord,
And serve Thee with their Hands. III.

III. v. 165.

Great is their Peace who love thy Law;
 How firm their Souls abide!
 Nor can a bold Temptation draw
 Their steady Feet aside.

IV. v. 6.

Then shall my Heart have inward Joy,
 And keep my Face from Shame,
 When all thy Statutes I obey,
 And Honour all thy Name.

V. v. 21, 118.

But haughty Sinners God will hate,
 The Proud shall die accurst;
 The Sons of Falshood and Deceit
 Are trodden to the Dust.

VI. v. 119, 155.

Vile as the Dross the Wicked are:
 And those that leave thy Ways
 Shall see Salvation from afar,
 But never taste thy Grace.

P S A L M CXIX. Second Part.

Secret Devotion and Spiritual-Mindedness; or, Constant Converse with God.

I. v. 147, 55.

To Thee, before the dawning Light,
 My gracious God, I pray;
 meditate thy Name by Night,
 And keep thy Law by Day.

II. v. 81.

My Spirit faints to see thy Grace,
 Thy Promise bears me up;

And while Salvation long delays,
Thy Word supports my Hope.

III. v. 164.

Seven Times a Day I lift my Hands,
And pay my Thanks to Thee;
Thy righteous Providence demands
Repeated Praise from me.

IV. v. 62.

When Midnight-darkness veils the Skies,
I call thy Works to Mind;
My Thoughts in warm Devotion rise.
And sweet Acceptance find.

P S A L M CXIX. Third Part.

Professions of Sincerity, Repentance and Obedience.

I. v. 57, 60.

THOU art my Portion, O my God;
Soon as I know thy Way,
My Heart makes haste t'obey thy Word,
And suffers no Delay.

II. v. 30, 14.

I chuse the Path of heavenly Truth,
And glory in my Choice:
Not all the Riches of the Earth
Could make me so rejoice.

III.

The Testimonies of thy Grace
I set before my Eyes;
Thence I derive my daily Strength
And there my Comfort lies.

IV. v. 59.

If once I wander from thy Path,
I think upon my Ways,

Then

Then turn my Feet to thy Commands,
And trust thy pardoning Grace.

V. v. 94, 114.

Now I am thine, for ever thine,
O save thy Servant, Lord;
Thou art my Shield, my Hiding-place;
My Hope is in thy Word.

VI. v. 112.

Thou hast inclin'd this Heart of mine
Thy Statutes to fulfill;
And thus till mortal Life shall end
Would I perform thy Will.

P S A L M CXIX. Fourth Part.

Instruction from Scripture.

I. v. 9.

How shall the Young secure their Hearts,
And guard their Lives from Sin?
Thy Word the choicest Rules imparts
To keep the Conscience clean.

II. v. 130.

When once it enters to the Mind,
It spreads such Light abroad,
The meanest Souls Instruction find,
And raise their Thoughts to God.

III. v. 105.

'Tis like the Sun, a heavenly Light,
That guides us all the Day;
And thro' the Dangers of the Night,
A Lamp to lead our Way.

IV. v. 99, 100.

The Men that keep thy Law with Care,
And meditate thy Word,

Grow wiser than their Teachers are,
And better know the Lord.

V. v. 104, 113.

Thy Precepts make me truly wise ;
I hate the Sinners Road ;
I hate my own vain Thoughts that rise,
But love thy Law, my God.

VI. v. 89, 90, 91.

[The starry Heavens thy Rule obey,
The Earth maintains her Place ;
And these thy Servants Night and Day
Thy Skill and Power express.

VII.

But still thy Law and-Gospel, Lord,
Have Lessons more divine :
Not Earth stands firmer than thy Word,
Nor Stars so nobly shine.]

VIII. v. 160, 140, 9, 116.

Thy Word is everlasting Truth ;
How pure is every Page !
That holy Book shall guide our Youth,
And well support our Age.

PSALM CXIX. Fifth Part.

Delight in Scripture ; or, The Word of God dwelling in us.

I. v. 97.

O how I love thy holy Law !
'Tis daily my Delight ;
And thence my Meditations draw
Divine Advice by Night.

II. v. 148.

My waking Eyes prevent the Day
 To meditate thy Word ;
 My Soul with Longing melts away
 To hear thy Gospel, Lord.

III. v. 3, 13, 54.

How doth thy Word my Heart engage !
 How well employ my Tongue !
 And in my tiresome Pilgrimage
 Yields me a heavenly Song :

IV. v. 19, 103.

Am I a Stranger, or at Home,
 'Tis my perpetual Feast ;
 Not Honey dropping from the Comb
 So much allures the Taste.

V. v. 72, 127.

No Treasures so enrich the Mind;
 Nor shall thy Word be sold
 For Loads of Silver well-refin'd,
 Nor Heaps of choicest Gold.

VI. v. 28, 49, 175.

When Nature sinks and Spirits droop,
 Thy Promises of Grace
 Are Pillars to support my Hope,
 And there I write thy Praise.

P S A L M CXIX. Sixth Part.Holiness and Comfort from the Word.

I. v. 128.

LORD, I esteem thy Judgments right,
 And all thy Statutes just ;
 Thence I maintain a constant Fight
 With every flattering Lust.

II. v. 97, 9.

Thy Precepts often I survey;
 I keep thy Law in Sight,
 Thro' all the Business of the Day,
 To form my Actions right.

III. v. 62.

My Heart in Midnight Silence cries,
 "How sweet thy Comforts be!
 My Thoughts in holy Wonder rise,
 And bring their Thanks to Thee.

IV. v. 162.

And when my Spirit drinks her Fill
 At some good Word of Thine,
 Not mighty Men that share the Spoil
 Have Joys compar'd to mine.

P S A L M CXIX. Seventh Part.

Imperfection of Nature, and Perfection of Scripture.

I. v. 96. paraphras'd.

LET all the Heathen Writers joyn
 To form one perfect Book,
 Great God, if once compar'd with thine,
 How mean their Writings look!

II.

Not the most perfect Rules they gave
 Could shew one Sin forgiven;
 Nor lead a Step beyond the Grave,
 But thine conduct to Heaven.

III.

I've seen an End of what we call
 Perfection here below;
 How short the Powers of Nature fall,
 And can no further go:

IV.

IV.

Yet Men would fain be just with God
 By Works their Hands have wrought;
 But thy Commands, exceeding broad,
 Extend to every Thought.

V.

In vain we boast Perfection here,
 While Sin defiles our Frame;
 And sinks our Virtues down so far,
 They scarce deserve the Name.

VI.

Our Faith and Love, and every Grace
 Fall far below thy Word;
 But perfect Truth and Righteousness
 Dwell only with the Lord.

P S A L M CXIX. Eighth Part.

*The Word of God is the Saints Portion; or,
 The Excellency and Variety of Scripture.*

I. v. 3. paraphras'd.

LORD, I have made thy Word my Choice,
 My lasting Heritage:
 There shall my noblest Powers rejoice,
 My warmest Thoughts engage.

II.

I'll read the Histories of thy Love,
 And keep thy Laws in Sight,
 While thro' the Promises I rove
 With ever-fresh Delight.

III.

'Tis a broad Land of Wealth unknown,
 Where Springs of Life arise,

Seeds of immortal Bliss are sown,
And hidden Glory lies.

IV.

The best Relief that Mourners have,
It makes our Sorrows blest;
Our fairest Hope beyond the Grave,
And our eternal Rest.

PSALM CXIX. Ninth Part.

Desire of Knowledge; or, The Teachings of the Spirit with the Word.

I. v. 64, 68, 18.

THY Mercies fill the Earth, O Lord,
How good thy Works appear!
Open mine Eyes to read thy Word,
And see thy Wonders there.

II. v. 73, 125.

My Heart was fashion'd by thy Hand,
My Service is thy Due:
O make thy Servant understand
The Duties he must do.

III. v. 19.

Since I'm a Stranger here below,
Let not thy Path be hid,
But mark the Road my Feet should go,
And be my constant Guide.

IV. v. 26.

When I confess'd my wandring Ways,
'Thou heardst my Soul complain;
Grant me the Teachings of thy Grace,
Or I shall stray again.

V. v. 33, 34.

If God to me his Statutes shew,
And heav'nly Truth impart. His

His Work for ever I'll pursue,
His Law shall rule my Heart.

VI. v. 50, 71.

This was my Comfort when I bore
Variety of Grief;
It made me learn thy Word the more,
And fly to that Relief.

VII. v. 51.

[In vain the Proud deride me now ;
I'll ne'er forget thy Law,
Nor let that blessed Gospel go
Whence all my Hopes I draw.

VIII. v. 27, 171.

When I have learn'd my Father's Will,
I'll teach the World his Ways ;
My thankfull Lips inspir'd with Zeal
Shall loud pronounce his Praise.]

PSALM CXIX. Tenth Part.

Pleading the Promises.

I. v. 38, 49.

BEHOLD thy waiting Servant, Lord,
Devoted to thy Fear ;
Remember and confirm thy Word,
For all my Hopes are there.

II. v. 41, 58, 107.

Hast thou not writ Salvation down ;
And promis'd quickning Grace ?
Doth not my Heart address thy Throne ?
And yet thy Love delays.

III. v. 123, 42.

Mine Eyes for thy Salvation fail ;
O bear thy Servant up ;

Nor let the scoffing Lips prevail,
Who dare reproach my Hope.

IV. v. 49, 74.

Didst Thou not raise my Faith, O Lord?
Then let thy Truth appear:
Saints shall rejoice in my Reward,
And trust as well as fear.

P S A L M CXIX. Eleventh Part.
Breathing after Holiness.

I. v. 5, 33.

O That the Lord would guide my Ways
To keep his Statutes still!
O that my God would grant me Grace
To know and do his Will!

II. v. 29.

O send thy Spirit down to write
Thy Law upon my Heart!
Nor let my Tongue indulge Deceit,
Nor act the Liars part.

III. v. 37, 36.

From Vanity turn off my Eyes:
Let no corrupt Design,
Nor covetous Desires arise
Within this Soul of mine.

IV. v. 133.

Order my Footsteps by thy Word,
And make my Heart sincere;
Let sin have no Dominion, Lord,
But keep my Conscience clear.

V. v. 176.

My Soul hath gone too far astray,
My Feet too often slip;

Yet

Yet since I've not forgot thy Way,
Restore thy wandring Sheep.

VI. v. 35.

Make me to walk in thy Commands,
'Tis a delightfull Road ;
Nor let my Head or Heart or Hands
Offend against my God.

PSALM CXIX. Twelfth Part.

Breathing after Comfort and Deliverance.

I. v. 153.

MY God, consider my Distress,
Let Mercy plead my Cause ;
Tho' I have sinn'd against thy Grace,
I can't forget thy Laws.

II. v. 39, 116.

Forbid, forbid the sharp Reproach
Which I so justly fear ;
Uphold my Life, uphold my Hopes,
Nor let my Shame appear.

III. v. 122, 135.

Be thou a Surety, Lord, for me,
Nor let the Proud oppress ;
But make thy waiting Servant see
The Shinings of thy Face.

IV. v 82.

My Eyes with Expectation fail,
My Heart within me Cries,
" When will the Lord his Truth fulfill,
" And make my Comforts rise ?

V. v 132.

Look down upon my Sorrows, Lord,
And shew thy Grace the Same

As

As Thou art ever wont t' afford
To Those that love thy Name.

P S A L M CXIX. Thirteenth Part.
Holy Fear and Tenderneſs of Conſcience.

I. v. 10.

WITH my whole Heart I've ſought thy
O let me never ſtray (Face,
From thy Commands, O God of Grace,
Nor tread the Sinners Way.

II. v. 11.

Thy Word I've hid within my Heart
'To keep my Conſcience clean,
And be an everlaſting Guard
From every riſing Sin.

III. v. 63, 53, 158.

I'm a Companion of the Saints
Who fear and love the Lord ;
My Sorrows riſe, my Nature faints,
When Men tranſgreſs thy Word.

IV. v. 161, 163.

While Sinners do thy Goſpel Wrong,
My Spirit ſtands in Awe ;
My Soul abhors a lying Tongue,
But loves thy righteous Law.

V. v. 161, 120.

My Heart with ſacred Reverence hears
The Threatnings of thy Word ;
My Fleſh with holy Trembling fears
The Judgments of the Lord.

VI. v. 166, 174.

My God, I long, I hope, I wait
For thy Salvation ſtill ;

While

While thy whole Law is my Delight,
And I obey thy Will.

P S A L M CXIX. Fourteenth Part.
Benefit of Afflictions and Support under 'em,
I. v. 153, 81, 82.

CONSIDER all my Sorrows, Lord,
And thy Deliverance send ;
My Soul for thy Salvation faints,
When will my Troubles end ?

II. v. 71.

Yet I have found, 'tis good for me
To bear my Father's Rod ;
Afflictions make me learn thy Law,
And live upon my God.

III. v. 50.

This is the Comfort I enjoy
When new Distress begins,
I read thy Word, I run thy Way,
And hate my former Sins.

IV. v. 92.

Had not thy Word been my Delight
When earthly Joys were fled,
My Soul oppress'd with Sorrows Weight
Had sunk amongst the Dead.

V. v. 75.

I know thy Judgments, Lord, are right,
Tho' they may seem severe ;
The sharpest Sufferings I endure
Flow from thy faithfull Care.

VI. v. 67.

Before I knew thy chastening Rod
My Feet were apt to stray ;

But.

But now I learn to keep thy Word,
Nor wander from thy Way.

P S A L M CXIX. Fifteenth Part.
Holy Resolutions.

I. v. 93.

O That thy Statutes every Hour
Might dwell upon my Mind!
Thence I derive a quickning Power,
And daily Peace I find.

II. v. 15, 16.

To meditate thy Precepts, Lord,
Shall be my sweet Employ;
My Soul shall ne'er forget thy Word,
Thy Word is all my Joy.

III. v. 32.

How would I run in thy Commands,
If thou my Heart discharge
From Sin and Satan's hatefull Chains,
And set my Feet at large.

IV. v. 13, 46.

My Lips with Courage shall declare
Thy Statutes and thy Name;
I'll speak thy Word tho' Kings should hear,
Nor yield to sinfull Shame.

V. v. 61, 69, 70.

Let Bands of Persecutors rise
To rob me of my Right,
Let Pride and Malice forge their Lies
Thy Law is my Delight.

VI. v. 115.

Depart from me, ye wicked Race,
Whose Hands and Hearts are ill:

I love my God, I love his Ways,
And must obey his Will.

P S A L M CXIX. Sixteenth Part.

Prayer for Quickning Grace.

I. v. 25, 37.

My Soul lies cleaving to the Dust;
Lord, give me Life divine;
From vain Desires and every Lust
Turn off these Eyes of mine.

II.

I need the Influence of thy Grace
To speed me in thy Way,
Lest I should loiter in my Race,
Or turn my Feet astray.

III. v. 107.

When fore Afflictions press me down,
I need thy quickning Powers;
Thy Word that I have rested on
Shall help my heaviest Hours.

IV. v. 156, 40.

Are not thy Mercies sovereign still?
And thou a faithfull God?
Wilt thou not grant me warmer Zeal
To run the heavenly Road?

V. v. 159, 40.

Does not my Heart thy Precepts love,
And long to see thy Face?
And yet how slow my Spirits move
Without enlivening Grace!

VI. v. 93.

Then shall I love thy Gospel more,
And ne'er forget thy Word,

When

When I have felt its quickning Power
To draw me near the Lord.

PSALM CXIX. Seventeenth Part.
Courage and Perseverance under Persecution ; or, Grace shining in Difficulties and Tryals.

I. v. 143, 28.

WHEN Pain and Anguish seize me, Lord,
All my Support is from thy Word :
My Soul dissolves for Heaviness,
Uphold me with thy strengthening Grace.

II. 51, 69, 110.

The Proud have fram'd their Scoffs & Lies,
They watch my Feet with envious Eyes,
And tempt my Soul to Snares and Sin,
Yet thy Commands I ne'er decline.

III. v. 161, 78.

They hate me, Lord, without a Cause,
They hate to see me love thy Laws ;
But I will trust and fear thy Name,
Till Pride and Malice die with Shame.

PSALM CXIX. Last Part.

Sanctify'd Afflictions ; or, Delight in the Word of God.

I. v. 67, 59.

FATHER, I bless thy gentle Hand ;
How kind was thy chastising Rod
That forc'd my Conscience to a Stand,
And brought my wandring Soul to God !

II.

Foolish and vain I went astray
 E'er I had felt thy Scourges, Lord,
 I left my Guide, and lost my Way ;
 But now I love and keep thy Word.

III. v. 71.

'Tis good for me to wear the Yoke,
 For Pride is apt to rise and swell ;
 'Tis good to bear my Father's Stroke
 That I might learn his Statutes well.

IV. v. 72.

The Law that issues from thy Mouth
 Shall raise my chearfull Passions more
 Than all the Treasures of the South,
 Or Western Hills of Golden Ore.

V. v. 73.

Thy Hands have made my mortal Frame,
 Thy Spirit form'd my Soul within ;
 Teach me to know thy wondrous Name,
 And guard me safe from Death and Sin.

VI. v. 74.

Then all that love and fear the Lord
 At my Salvation shall rejoice ;
 For I have hoped in thy Word,
 And made thy Grace my only Choice.

P S A L M CXX.

Complaint of quarrelsome Neighbours ; or, a devout Wish for Peace.

I.

THOU God of Love, thou ever-blest,
 Pity my suffering State ;
 When

When wilt thou set my Soul at Rest
From Lips that love Deceit?

II.

Hard Lot of mine! my Days are cast
Among the Sons of Strife,
Whose never-ceasing Brawlings waste
My golden Hours of Life.

III.

O might I fly to change my Place,
How would I chuse to dwell
In some wide lonesome Wilderness,
And leave these Gates of Hell!

IV.

Peace is the Blessing that I seek,
How lovely are its Charms!
I am for Peace; but when I speak,
They all declare for Arms.

V.

New Passions still their Souls engage,
And keep their Malice strong:
What shall be done to curb thy Rage,
O thou devouring Tongue!

VI.

Should burning Arrows smite thee thro',
Strict Justice would approve;
But I had rather spare my Foe,
And melt his Heart with Love.

I hope the Transposition of several Verses of the Psalm is no Disadvantage to this Imitation of it. Nor will the Spirit of the Gospel and Charity at the End, render it less agreeable to Christian Ears.

P S A L M CXXI. Long Metre.

Divine Protection.

I.

UP to the Hills I lift mine Eyes,
'Th'Eternal Hills beyond the Skies;
Thence all her Help my Soul derives;
There my Almighty Refuge lives.

II.

He lives ; the Everlasting God,
That built the World, that spread the Flood;
The Heav'ns with all their Hosts he made,
And the dark Regions of the Dead.

III.

He guides our Feet, He guards our Way;
His Morning-Smiles blefs all the Day ;
He spreads the Evening-Veil, and keeps
The silent Hours whilst Israel sleeps.

IV.

Israel, a Name divinely blest,
May rise secure, securely rest ;
Thy holy Guardian's wakefull Eyes
Admit no Slumber nor Surprise.

V.

No Sun shall smite thy Head by Day,
Nor the pale Moon with sickly Ray
Shall blast thy Couch ; no balefull Star
Dart his malignant Fire so far.

VI.

Should Earth and Hell with Malice burn,
Still thou shalt go and still return
Safe in the Lord ; his heavenly Care
Defends thy Life from every Snare.

VII.

On Thee foul Spirits have no Power ;
 And in thy last departing Hour
 Angels, that trace the airy Road,
 Shall bear Thee homeward to thy God.

See the Notes on Psalm 41.

Preservation by Day and Night.

I.

To Heaven I lift my waiting Eyes,
 'There all my Hopes are laid :
 The Lord that built the Earth and Skies
 Is my perpetual Aid.

II.

Their Feet shall never slide to fall,
 Whom he designs to keep ;
 His Ear attends the softest Call,
 His Eyes can never sleep.

III.

He will sustain our weakest Powers
 With his almighty Arm,
 And watch our most unguarded Hours
 Against surprising Harm.

IV.

Israel, rejoice and rest secure,
 Thy Keeper is the Lord ;
 His wakefull Eyes employ his Power
 For thine eternal Guard.

V.

Nor scorching Sun, nor sickly Moon
 Shall have his Leave to smite ;
 He shields thy Head from burning Noon,
 From blasting Damps at Night.

VI.

He guards thy Soul, he keeps thy Breath
Where thickest Dangers come ;
Go and return, secure from Death,
Till God commands thee home.

P S A L M CXXI. as the 148th Psalm;
God our Preserver.

I.

UPWARD I lift mine Eyes,
From God is all my Aid ;
The God that built the Skies,
And Earth and Nature made :
God is the Tow'r
To which I fly ;
His Grace is nigh
In every Hour.

II.

My Feet shall never slide
And fall in fatal Snares,
Since God my Guard and Guide
Defends me from my Fears.
Those wakefull Eyes
That never sleep
Shall Israel keep
When Dangers rise.

III.

No burning Heats by Day,
Nor blasts of Evening-Air
Shall take my Health away,
If God be with me there :
Thou art my Sun,
And thou my Shade,

To guard my Head
By Night or Noon.

VI.

Hast thou not giv'n thy Word
To save my Soul from Death?
And I can trust my Lord
To keep my mortal Breath:

I'll go and come,
Nor fear to dye,
Till from on high
'Thou call me home.

Going to Church.

I.

How did my Heart rejoice to hear
My Friends devoutly say,
" In Zion let us all appear,
" And keep the solemn Day!

II.

I love her Gates, I love the Road;
The Church adorn'd with Grace
Stands like a Palace built for God
To shew his milder Face.

III.

Up to her Courts with Joys unknown
The holy Tribes repair;
The Son of David holds his Throne,
And sits in Judgment there.

IV.

He hears our Praises and Complaints;
And while his awfull Voice
Divides the Sinners from the Saints,
We tremble and rejoice.

v.

V.

Peace be within this sacred Place,
 And Joy a constant Guest !
 With holy Gifts and heavenly Grace
 Be her Attendants blest !

VI.

My Soul shall pray for Zion still,
 While Life or Breath remains ;
 There my best Friends, my Kindred dwell,
 There God my Saviour reigns.

P S A L M CXXII. Proper Tune.

Going to Church.

I.

How pleas'd and blest was I
 To hear the People cry,
Come, let us seek our God to Day ;
 Yes, with a chearfull Zeal
 We haste to Zion's Hill,
 And there our Vows and Honours pay.

II.

Zion, thrice happy Place,
 Adorn'd with wondrous Grace,
 And Walls of Strength embrace thee round;
 In thee our Tribes appear
 To pray, and praise, and hear
 The sacred Gospel's joyfull Sound.

III.

There David's greater Son
 Has fix'd his royal Throne,
 He sits for Grace and Judgment there ;
 He bids the Saint be glad,
 He makes the Sinner sad,
 And humble Souls rejoice with Fear. iv.

IV.

May Peace attend thy Gate,
 And Joy within thee wait
 To bless the Soul of every Guest !
 The Man that seeks thy Peace,
 And wishes thine Encrease,
 A Thousand Blessings on him rest !

V.

My Tongue repeats her Vows,
Peace to this sacred House !
 For there my Friends and Kindred dwell ;
 And since my glorious God
 Makes thee his blest Abode,
 My Soul shall ever love thee well.

P S A L M CXXIII.

Pleading with Submission.

I.

O Thou whose Grace and Justice reign
 Enthron'd above the Skies,
 To Thee our Hearts would tell their Pain,
 To Thee we lift our Eyes.

II.

As Servants watch their Master's Hand,
 And fear the angry Stroke ;
 Or Maids before their Mistress stand,
 And wait a peacefull Look.

III.

So for our Sins we justly feel
 Thy Discipline, O God ;
 Yet wait the gracious Moment still,
 Till thou remove thy Rod.

IV.

Those that in Wealth and Pleasure live
 Our daily Groans deride,
 And thy Delays of Mercy give Fresh Courage to their Pride.

V.

Our Foes insult us, but our Hope
 In thy Compassion lies ;
 This Thought shall bear our Spirits up,
 That God will not despise.

P S A L M CXXIV.

A Song for the 5th of November.

I.

HAD not the Lord, may Israel say,
 Had not the Lord maintain'd our Side,
 When Men, to make our Lives a Prey,
 Rose like the Swelling of the Tide,

II.

The swelling Tide had stopt our Breath,
 So fiercely did the Waters roll,
 We had been swallow'd deep in Death ;
 Proud Waters had o'erwhelm'd our Soul.

III.

We leap for Joy, we shout and sing,
 Who just escap'd the fatal Stroke ;
 So flies the Bird with chearfull Wing,
 When once the Fowler's Snare is broke.

IV.

For ever blessed be the Lord
 Who broke the Fowler's cursed Snare,
 Who sav'd us from the murdering Sword,
 And made our Lives and Souls his Care.

V.

Our help is in Jehovah's Name,
 Who form'd the Earth and built the Skies;
 He that upholds that wondrous Frame
 Guards his own Church with watchfull Eyes.

The Saints Trial and Safety.

I.

U NSHAKEN as the sacred Hill,
 And firm as Mountains be,
 Firm as a Rock the Soul shall rest
 That leans, O Lord, on Thee.

II.

Not Walls nor Hills could guard so well
 Old Salem's happy Ground,
 As those eternal Arms of Love
 That every Saint surround.

III.

While Tyrants are a smarting Scourge
 To drive them near to God,
 Divine Compassion does allay
 The Fury of the Rod.

IV.

Deal gently, Lord, with Souls sincere,
 And lead them safely on
 To the bright Gates of Paradise
 Where Christ their Lord is gone.

V.

But if we trace those crooked Ways
 That the old Serpent drew,
 The Wrath that drove him first to Hell
 Shall smite his Followers too.

The Saints Trial & Safety ; or, moderated Afflictions.

I.

FIRM and unmov'd are they
 That rest their Souls on God ;
 Firm as the Mount where David dwelt,
 Or where the Ark abode.

II.

As Mountains stood to guard
 The City's sacred Ground,
 So God and his Almighty Love
 Embrace his Saints around.

III.

What tho' the Father's Rod
 Drop a Chastising Stroke,
 Yet lest it wound their Souls too deep
 Its Fury shall be broke.

IV.

Deal gently, Lord, with those Whose Faith and pious Fear,
 Whose Hope, and Love, and every Grace
 Proclaim their Hearts sincere.

V.

Nor shall the Tyrants Rage
 Too long oppress the Saint ;
 The God of Israel will support
 His Children lest they Faint.

VI.

But if our slavish Fear
 Will chuse the Road to Hell,
 We must expect our Portion there
 Where bolder Sinners dwell.

The Blessing of God on the Business and Comforts of Life.

I.

IF God succeed not, all the Cost
And Pains to build the House are lost.
If God the City will not keep,
The watchfull Guards as well may sleep.

II.

What if you rise before the Sun,
And work and toil when Day is done,
Carefull and sparing eat your Bread
To shun that Poverty you dread;

III.

'Tis all in vain, till God hath blest ;
He can make rich, yet give us Rest :
Children and Friends are Blessings too
If God our Sovereign make them so.

Persecutors punish'd.

I.

U^P from my Youth, may Israel say,
 Have I been nurs'd in Tears;
 My Griefs were constant as the Day,
 And tedious as the Years.

II.

Up from my Youth I bore the Rage
 Of all the Sons of Strife;
 Oft they assail'd my riper Age,
 But not destroy'd my Life.

III.

Their cruel Plow had torn my Flesh
 With Furrows long and deep,
 Hourly they vext my Wounds afresh,
 Nor let my Sorrows sleep.

IV.

The Lord grew angry on his Throne,
 And with impartial Eye
 Measur'd the Mischiefs they had done,
 Then let his Arrows fly.

V.

How was their Insolence surpriz'd
 To hear his Thunders roll!
 And all the Foes of Sion seiz'd
 With Horror to the Soul.

VI.

Thus shall the Men that hate the Saints
 Be blasted from the Sky;
 Their Glory fades, their Courage faints,
 And all their Projects dy.

The Borders of Despair,
I sent my Cries to seek thy Grace,
My Groans to move thine Ear.

II.

Great God, shou'd thy severer Eye
And thine impartial Hand
Mark and revenge Iniquity,
No mortal Flesh could stand.

III.

But there are Pardons with my God
For Crimes of high Degree;
Thy Son has bought them with his Blood
To draw us near to Thee.

IV.

[I wait for thy Salvation, Lord,
With strong Desires I wait;
My Soul invited by thy Word
Stands watching at thy Gate.]

V.

[Just as the Guards that keep the Night
Long for the Morning-Skies,
Watch the first Beams of breaking Light,
And meet them with their Eyes.]

VI.

So waits my Soul to see thy Grace,
And more intent than They
Meets the first Openings of thy Face,
And finds a brighter Day.]

VII.

[Then in the Lord let Israel trust,
Let Israel seek his Face;
The Lord is Good as well as Just,
And plenteous is his Grace.]

P S A L M CXXX. Long Metre.

Pardoning Grace.

I.

From deep Distress & troubl'd Thoughts
To Thee my God, I rais'd my Cries;
If thou severely mark our Faults,
No Flesh can stand before thine Eyes.

II.

But thou hast built thy Throne of Grace,
Free to dispense thy Pardons there,
That Sinners may approach thy Face,
And hope and love as well as fear.

III.

As the benighted Pilgrims wait,
And long, and wish for breaking Day,
So waits my Soul before thy Gate;
When will my God his Face display?

IV.

My Trust is fix'd upon thy Word,
Nor shall I trust thy Word in vain:
Let mourning Souls address the Lord,
And find Relief from all their Pain.

V.

Great is his Love, and large his Grace,
Thro' the Redemption of his Son:
He turns our Feet from sinfull Ways,
And pardons what our Hands have done.

Lord, I appeal to Thee.

II.

I charge my Thoughts, be humble still,
And all my Carriage mild,
Content, my Father, with thy Will,
And quiet as a Child.

III.

III.

The patient Soul, the lowly Mind
 Shall have a large Reward :
 Let Saints in Sorrow ly resign'd,
 And trust a faithfull Lord.

PSALM CXXXII. 5, 13—18. Long Met.
At the Settlement of a Church; or, the Ordination of a Minister.

I.

WHERE shall we go to seek and find
 An Habitation for our God,
 A Dwelling for th' Eternal Mind
 Amongst the Sons of Flesh and Blood ?

II.

The God of Jacob chose the Hill
 Of Zion for his antient Rest ;
 And Zion is his Dwelling still,
 His Church is with his Presence blest.

III.

Here will I fix my gracious Throne,
 And reign for ever, saith the Lord ;
 Here shall my Power and Love be known,
 And Blessings shall attend my Word.

IV.

Here will I meet the hungry Poor,
 And fill their Souls with living Bread ;
 Sinners that wait before my Door
 With sweet Provision shall be fed.

V.

Girded with Truth & cloth'd with Grace,
 My Priests, my Ministers shall shine ;
 Not

Not Aaron in his costly Dress
Made an Appearance so divine.

VI.

The Saints unable to contain
Their inward Joys shall shout and sing;
The Son of David here shall reign,
And Zion triumph in her King.

VII.

[Jesus shall see a numerous Seed
Born here, t'uphold his glorious Name;
His Crown shall flourish on his Head,
While all his Foes are cloth'd with Shame.]

PSALM CXXXII. 4, 5, 7, 8, 15—17. Com.
Metre.

A Church establisht.

I.

[No Sleep, nor Slumber to his Eyes
Good David would afford,
Till he had found below the Skies
A Dwelling for the Lord.

II.

The Lord in Zion plac'd his Name,
His Ark was settled there;
To Zion the whole Nation came
To worship Thrice a Year.

III.

But we have no such Lengths to go,
Nor wander far abroad;
Where e'er thy Saints assemble now,
There is a House for God.]

P A U S E.

IV.

Arise, O King of Grace, arise,
And enter to thy Rest:

Lo

Lo thy Church waits with longing Eyes
Thus to be own'd and blest.

V.

Enter with all thy glorious Train,
Thy Spirit and thy Word ;
All that the Ark did once contain
Could no such Grace afford.

VI.

Here, mighty God, accept our Vows,
Here let thy Praise be spread ;
Bless the Provisions of thy House,
And fill thy Poor with Bread.

VII.

Here let the Son of David reign,
Let God's Anointed shine ;
Justice and Truth his Court maintain,
With Love and Pow'r divine.

VIII.

Here let him hold a lasting Throne ;
And as his Kingdom grows,
Fresh Honours shall adorn his Crown,
And Shame confound his Foes.

The Settlement of the Ark in Zion is a fair Type of the Dwelling of Christ in his Churches ; and I have so copy'd this Psalm in both Metres, omitting the Verses less necessary to this Sense.

St. 2. Thrice in the Year Shall all your Male-children appear before the Lord, &c. Exod. 34. 23.

St. 3. Where Two or Three are gather'd together in my Name there am I in the Midst of them. Matt. 18. 20.
The House of God, the Church, &c. 1, Tim. 3. 15.

Brotherly Love.

I.

Lo, what an entertaining Sight
Are Brethren that agree,
Brethren whose chearfull Hearts unite
In Bands of Piety !

II.

(Spring

When Streams of Love from Christ the Descend to every Soul,
And heavenly Peace with balmy Wing
Shades and bedews the Whole :

III.

'Tis like the Oyl divinely sweet
On Aaron's reverend Head,
The trickling Drops perfum'd his Feet,
And o'er his Garments spread.

IV.

'Tis pleasant as the Morning-Dews
That fall on Sion's Hill,
Where God his mildest Glory shews,
And makes his Grace distill.

P S A L M CXXXIII. Short Metre.

Communion of Saints ; or, Love and Worship in a Family.

I.

BLEST are the Sons of Peace,
Whose Hearts and Hopes are One,
Whose kind Designs to serve and please
Thro' all their Actions run.

II.

II.

Blest is the pious House
Where Zeal and Friendship meet,
Their Songs of Praise, their mingled Vows
Make their Communion sweet.

III.

Thus when on Aaron's Head
They pour'd the rich Perfume,
The Oyl thro' all his Rayment spread,
And Pleasure fill'd the Room.

IV.

Thus on the heavenly Hills
The Saints are blest above,
Where Joy like Morning-Dew distills
And all the Air is Love.

P S A L M CXXXIII. as the 122d Psalm.
The Blessings of Friendship.

I.

How pleasant 'tis to see
Kindred and Friends agree,
Each in their proper Station move,
And each fulfill their Part
With sympathizing Heart,
In all the Cares of Life and Love!

II.

'Tis like the Ointment shed
On Aaron's sacred Head,
Divinely rich, Divinely sweet;
The Oyl thro' all the Room
Diffus'd a choice Perfume,
Ran thro' his Robes, and blest his Feet.

III.

Like fruitfull Show'rs of Rain
 That water all the Plain,
 Descending from the neighbouring Hills;
 Such Streams of Pleasure roll
 Thro' every friendly Soul,
 Where Love like Heavenly-Dew distills.

P S A L M CXXXIV.

Daily and Nightly Devotion.

I.

YE that obey th' Immortal King,
 Attend his holy Place,
 Bow to the Glories of his Power,
 And blefs his wondrous Grace.

II.

Lift up your Hands by Morning-light,
 And fend your Souls on high;
 Raife your admiring Thoughts by Night
 Above the starry Sky,

III.

The God of Zion chears our Hearts
 With Rays of quickning Grace;
 The God that spread the Heavens abroad,
 And rules the swelling Seas.

This Psalm with several others near it is call'd a Song of Degrees, i. e. to be sung on the Steps ascending to the Tabernacle or Temple, as the Learned suppose: The King and his Attendants Sung the 2 first Verses, addressing themselves to the Levites that kept the house of the Lord; and the 3d Verse is the Response of the Levites to the King. There was a necessity of changing the Form of this Psalm to suit it to our usual Christian Worship.

PSALM CXXXV. 1---4, 14, 19---21.

First Part. Long Metre.The Church is God's House and Care.

I.

PRAISE ye the Lord; exalt his Name
 While in his holy Courts ye wait,
 Ye Saints, that to his House belong,
 Or stand attending at his Gate.

II.

Praise ye the Lord; the Lord is good;
 To Praise his Name is sweet Employ:
Israel he chose of old, and still
 His Church is his peculiar Joy.

III.

The Lord himself will judge his Saints;
 He treats his Servants as his Friends;
 And when he hears their fore Complaints,
 Repents the Sorrows that he sends.

IV.

'Thro' every Age the Lord declares
 His Name, and breaks th' Oppressor's Rod;
 He gives his suffering Servants Rest,
 And will be known Th' Almighty God.

V.

Bless ye the Lord who taste his Love,
 People and Priests exalt his Name:
 Amongst his Saints he ever dwells;
 His Church is his Jerusalem.

PSALM CXXXV. v. 5---12. Second Part. Long Metre.

The Works of Creation, Providence, Redemption of Israel, and Destruction of Enemies.

I.

GREAT is the Lord, exalted high
Above all Powers and every Throne;
What e'er he please in Earth or Sea,
Or Heaven or Hell, his Hand hath done.

II.

At his Command the Vapours rise,
The Lightnings flash, the Thunders roar:
He pours the Rain, he brings the Wind,
And Tempest from his airy Store.

III.

'Twas He those dreadful Tokens sent,
O Egypt, thro' thy stubborn Land;
When all thy first-born Beasts and Men
Fell dead by his avenging Hand.

IV.

What mighty Nations, mighty Kings
He slew, and their whole Country gave
To Israel, whom his Hand redeem'd,
No more to be proud Pharaoh's Slave!

V.

His Power the same, the same his Grace,
That saves us from the Hosts of Hell;
And Heaven he gives us to possess
Whence those apostate Angels fell.

This Psalm was too long to be sung at once, yet I could not reduce it into two parts conveniently without transposing the Verses considerably, as in the Titles. The Ejection of the Canaanites and the Inheritance of their Land given to Israel

Israel is a fair Figure of the Inheritance of Heaven given to the Saints whence sinning Angels were ejected, as in the last Stanza.

P S A L M CXXXV. Common Metre.

Praise due to God, not to Idols.

I.

AWAKE, ye Saints: To praise your King
Your sweetest Passions raise,
Your pious Pleasure, while you sing,
Increasing with the Praise

II.

Great is the Lord; and Works unknown
Are his divine Employ:
But still his Saints are near his Throne,
His Treasure and his Joy.

III.

Heaven, Earth and Sea confess his Hand;
He bids the Vapors rise;
Lightning and Storm at his Command
Sweep thro' the sounding Skies,

IV.

All Power that Gods or Kings have claim'd
Is found with Him alone:
But Heathen Gods should ne'er be nam'd
Where our Jehovah's known

V.

Which of the Stocks or Stones they trust
Can give them Show'rs of Rain?
In vain they worship glittering Dust,
And pray to Gold in vain.

VI.

[Their Gods have Tongues that cannot talk
Such as their Makers gave:

Their

Their Feet were ne'er design'd to walk,
Nor Hands have Power to save.

VII.

Blind are their Eyes, their Ears are deaf,
Nor hear when Mortals pray ;
Mortals, that wait for their Relief,
Are blind and deaf as they.]

VIII.

O Britain, know thy living God,
Serve him with Faith and Fear ;
He makes thy Churches his Abode,
And claims thine Honours there.

This Psalm is much abridg'd in this Metre to reduce the most useful Parts of it to one shorter Divine Song. In the 5th Stanza I have borrow'd a Verse from Jerem. 14. 22. Are there any among the Vanities of the Gentiles that can cause Rain ?

PSALM CXXXVI. Com. Metre.

God's Wonders of Creation, Providence, Redemption of Israel and Salvation of his People.

I

GIVE Thanksto God the sovereign Lord;
His Mercies still endure.
And be the King of Kings ador'd :
His Truth is ever sure.

II.

What Wonders hath his Wisdom done !
How mighty is his Hand !
Heaven, Earth and Sea He fram'd alone :
How wide is his Command !

III.

III.

The Sun supplies the Day with Light ;
How bright his Counsels shine !

The Moon and Stars adorn the Night :
His Works are all divine.

IV.

[He struck the Sons of Egypt dead ;
How dreadfull is his Rod !

And thence with Joy his People led :
How gracious is our God !

V.

He cleft the swelling Sea in two ;
His Arm is great in Might

And gave the Tribes a Passage thro' ;
His Power and Grace unite.

VI.

But Pharoah's Army there he drown'd ;
How Glorious are his Ways !

And brought his Saints thro' desert Ground :
Eternal be his Praise.

VII.

Great Monarchs fell beneath his Hand ;
Victorious is his Sword.

While Israel took the promis'd Land :
And Faithfull is his Word !]

VIII.

He saw the Nations dead in Sin ;
He felt his Pity move.

How sad the State the World was in !
How boundless was his Love !

IX.

He sent to save us from our Woe ;
His Goodness never fails.

From

From Death and Hell and every Foe :
And still his Grace prevails.

X.

Give thanks to God the heavenly King;
His Mercies still endure.
 Let the whole Earth his Praises sing;
His Truth is ever sure.

In every Stanza of this Psalm I have endeavour'd to imitate the Chorus or Burden of the Song, For his Mercy endureth for ever; and yet to maintain a perpetual variety.

P S A L M CXXXVI. as the 148th Psalm,
 I.

GIVE Thanks to God most high,
 The universal Lord;
 The sovereign King of Kings;
 And be his Grace ador'd,
His Power and Grace
Are still the same;
And let his Name
Have endless Praise.

II.

How mighty is his Hand !
 What Wonders hath he done !
 He form'd the Earth and Seas,
 And spread the Heavens alone.
Thy Mercy, Lord,
Shall still endure ;
And ever sure
Abides thy Word.

III.

His Wisdom fram'd the Sun
 To crown the Day with Light;

The

The Moon and twinkling Stars
To cheer the darksome Night.

*His Power and Grace
Are still the same ;
And let his Name
Have endless Praise.*

IV.

[He smote the first-born Sons,
The Flower of Egypt Dead ;
And thence his chosen Tribes
With Joy and Glory led.

*Thy Mercy, Lord,
Shall still endure ;
And ever sure
Abides thy Word.*

V

His Power and lifted Rod
Cleft the Red-Sea in two :
And for his People made
A wondrous Passage thro'.

*His Power and Grace
Are still the same ;
And let his Name
Have endless Praise.*

VI.

But cruel Pharash there
With all his Host he drown'd :
And brought his Israel safe
Thro' a long desert Ground.

*Thy Mercy, Lord,
Shall still endure ;*

And

*And ever sure
Abides thy Word.*

He saw the Nations ly
All perishing in Sin,
And pity'd the sad State
The ruin'd World was in.

*Thy Mercy, Lord,
Shall still endure
And ever sure
Abides thy Word.*

IX.

He sent his only Son
To save us from our Woe,
From Satan, Sin and Death,
And every hurtfull Foe.

*His Power and Grace
Are still the same ;
And let his Name
Have endless Praise.*

X.

Give Thanks aloud to God,
To God the heavenly King:
And let the spacious Earth
His Works and Glories sing.

*Thy Mercy, Lord,
Shall still endure;
And ever sure
Abides thy Word.*

In this Metre and the next I have maintained the Chorus, for his Mercy endureth for ever, in a Double Form, to be used alternately. i. e. in every other Stanza.

P S A L M CXXXVI. abridg'd. Long Met.

I.

GIVE to our God immortal Praise;
Mercy and Truth are all his Ways:
*Wonders of Grace to God belong,
Repeat his Mercies in your Song.*

II.

Give to the Lord of Lords Renown,
The King of Kings with Glory crown:
*His Mercies ever shall endure
When Lords and Kings are known no more.*

III.

He built the Earth, he spread the Sky,
And fixt the starry Lights on high:
*Wonders of Grace to God belong,
Repeat his Mercies in your Song.*

IV.

He fills the Sun with Morning-Light,
He bids the Moon direct the Night:
*His Mercies ever shall endure
When Suns and Moons shall shine no more.*

V.

The Jews he freed from Pharaoh's Hand,
 And brought them to the promis'd Land:
Wonders of Grace to God belong,
Repeat his Mercies in your Song.

VI.

He saw the Gentiles dead in Sin,
 And felt his Pity work within:
His Mercies ever shall endure
When Death and Sin shall reign no more.

VII.

He sent his Son with Power to save
 From Guilt and Darknes and the Grave:
Wonders of Grace to God belong,
Repeat his Mercies in your Song.

Thro' this vain World he guides our Feet,
 And leads us to his heavenly Seat:
His Mercies ever shall endure
When this vain World shall be no more.

Restoring and Preserving Grace.

[WITH all my Powers of Heart & Tongue
 I'll praise my Maker in my Song:
 Angels shall hear the Notes I raise,
 Approve the Song, and join the Praise.]

II.

Angels that make thy Church their Care
 Shall witness my Devotions there,
 While holy Zeal directs my Eyes
 To thy fair Temple in the Skies.]

III.

I'll sing thy Truth and Mercy, Lord,
 I'll sing the Wonders of thy Word;
 Not all thy Works and Names below
 So much thy Power and Glory show.

IV.

To God I cry'd when Troubles rose;
 He heard me, and subdu'd my Foes,
 He did my rising Fears controul,
 And Strength diffus'd thro' all my Soul.

V.

The God of Heaven maintains his State,
 Frowns on the Proud, & scorns the Great;
 But from his Throne descends to see
 The Sons of humble Poverty.

VI.

Amidst a thousand Snares I stand
 Upheld and guarded by thy Hand;
 Thy Words my fainting Soul revive,
 And keep my dying Faith alive.

VII.

Grace will compleat what Grace begins,
 To save from Sorrows or from Sins:
 The Work that Wisdom undertakes
 Eternal Mercy ne'er forsakes.

Stan. 1 and 2. Angels or Kings are the Gods before whom the Psalmist would sing Praise to his Creator; but common Christians having so little of the Presence of Kings in their Worship, I have mention'd only the Company of Angels.

PSALM CXXXIX. First Part Long Met:
The All-seeing God.

I.

LORD, thou hast search'd & seen me thro';
 Thine Eye commands with piercing
 My rising and my resting Hours, (View
 My Heart and Flesh with all their Powers.

II.

My Thoughts, before they are my own,
 Are to my God distinctly known;
 He knows the Words I mean to speak
 E'er from my opening Lips they break.

III.

Within thy circling Power I stand;
 On every Side I find thy Hand:
 Awake, asleep, at home, abroad,
 I am surrounded still with God.

IV.

Amazing Knowledge, vast and great!
 What large Extent! what lofty Height
 My Soul with all the Powers I boast
 Is in the boundless Prospect lost.

V.

*O may these Thoughts possess my Breast,
 Where e'er I rove, where e'er I rest!
 Nor let my weaker Passions dare
 Consent to Sin, for God is there.*

P A U S E I.

VI.

Could I so false, so faithless prove,
 To quit thy Service and thy Love,

R 3

Where,

Where, Lord, could I thy Presence shun,
Or from thy dreadfull Glory run?

VII.

If up to Heaven I take my Flight,
'Tis there thou dwell'st enthron'd in Light;
Or dive to Hell, there Vengeance reigns,
And Satan groans beneath thy Chains.

VIII.

If mounted on a Morning-Ray
I fly beyond the Western Sea,
Thy swifter Hand wou'd first arrive,
And there arrest thy Fugitive.

IX.

Or should I try to shun thy Sight
Beneath the spreading Vail of Night,
One Glance of Thine, one piercing Ray
Wou'd kindle Darknes into Day.

X

*O may these Thoughts possess my Breast,
Where e'er I rove, where e'er I rest!
Nor let my weaker Passions dare
Consent to Sin, for God is there.*

P A U S E II.

XI.

The Vail of Night is no Disguise,
No Screen from thy All-searching Eyes;
Thy Hand can seize thy Foes as soon
Thro' Midnight-shades as blazing Noon.

XII.

Midnight and Noon in this agree,
Great God, they're both alike to Thee.
Not Death can hide what God will spy,
And Hell lies naked to his Eye.

XIII.

XIII.

*O may these Thoughts possess my Breast,
Where e'er I rove, where e'er I rest !*

*Nor let my weaker Passions dare
Consent to Sin, for God is there.*

PSALM CXXXIX. Second Part. Long Met.

The wonderful Formation of Man.

I.

TWAS from thy Hand, my God, I came,
A Work of such a curious Frame ;
In me thy fearfull Wonders shine,
And each proclaims thy Skill divine.

II.

Thine Eyes did all my Limbs survey,
Which yet in dark Confusion lay ;
Thou saw'st the daily Growth they took,
Form'd by the Model of thy Book.

III.

By Thee my growing Parts were nam'd,
And what thy sovereign Counsels fram'd,
(The breathing Lungs, the beating Heart)
Was copy'd with unerring Art.

IV.

At last to shew my Maker's Name,
God stamp'd his Image on my Frame,
And in some unknown Moment joyn'd
The finish'd Members to the Mind.

V.

There the young Seeds of Thought began
And all the Passions of the Man :
Great God, our Infant-Nature pays
Immortal Tribute thy Praise.

P A U S E.

VI.

Lord, since in my advancing Age
I've acted on Life's busy Stage,
Thy Thoughts of Love to me surmount
The Power of Numbers to recount.

VII.

I could survey the Ocean o'er,
And count each Sand that makes the Shore
Before my swiftest Thoughts could trace
The numerous Wonders of thy Grace.

VIII.

These on my Heart are still imprest,
With these I give my Eyes to Rest ;
And at my waking Hour I find
God and his Love possess my Mind.

PSALM CXXXIX. Third Part. Long Met.
Sincerity profess and Grace try'd ; or, The Heart-searching God.

I.

My God, what inward Grief I feel
When impious Men transgress thy
I mourn to hear their Lips profane (Will !
Take thy tremendous Name in vain.

II.

Does not my Soul detest and hate
The Sons of Malice and Deceit ?
Those that oppose thy Laws and Thee,
I count them Enemies to me.

III.

Lord, search my Soul, try every Thought ;
Tho' my own Heart accuse me not

Of walking in a false Disguise,
I beg the Trial of thine Eyes.

IV.

Doth secret Mischief lurk within?
Do I indulge some unknown Sin?
O turn my Feet when e'er I stray,
And lead me in thy perfect Way.

In this noble Psalm I have not refused the aid of my Predecessors, chiefly Mr. Tate. In some Places where I have borrowed, I hope I have improved the Verse: And in others my own Design constrained me to leave out the Words of a more Poetick sound, such as, Infernal Plains, Morning's Wings Western Main, fable Wings of Night, shapeless Embryo, Maze of Life, &c. yet I have endeavoured to maintain the Spirit of the Psalmist in plainer Language.

The Epiphonema or the Burden of the Song that I have inserted three times in the first Part, was not introduced by any means to add Beauty to the Poem, but meerly to reduce it to convenient lengths for Singing, which has too often confin'd the Qde and debas'd it.

PSALM CXXXIX. First Part. Com. Met.
God is every where.

I.

IN all my vast Concerns with Thee
In vain my Soul wou'd try
To shun thy Presence, Lord, or flee
The Notice of thine Eye.

II.

Thy all-surrounding Sight surveys
My Rising and my Rest,
My publick Walks, my private Ways,
And Secrets of my Breast.

III.

My Thoughts ly open to the Lord
Before they're form'd within;

And e'er my Lips pronounce the Word,
He knows the Sense I mean.

IV.

O wondrous Knowledge, deep and high!
Where can a Creature hide?
Within thy circling Arms I ly,
Beset on every Side.

V.

So let thy Grace surround me still,
And like a Bulwark prove,
To guard my Soul from every Ill,
Secur'd by sovereign Love.

P A U S E.

VI.

Lord, where shall guilty Souls retire
Forgotten and unknown?
In Hell they meet thy dreadfull Fire,
In Heaven thy glorious Throne.

VII.

Should I suppress my vital Breath
To 'scape the Wrath divine,
Thy Voice would break the Bars of Death,
And make the Grave resign.

VIII.

If wing'd with Beams of Morning-Light
I fly beyond the West,
Thy Hand, which must support my Flight,
Wou'd soon betray my Rest.

IX.

If o'er my Sins I think to draw
The Curtains of the Night,

Those

Those flaming Eyes that guard thy Law
Wou'd turn the Shades to Light.

X.

The Beams of Noon, the Midnight-Hour
Are both alike to Thee :
O may I ne'er provoke that Power
From which I cannot flee !

PSALM CXXXIX. Sec^d. Part. Com. Met.
The Wisdom of God in the Formation of Man.

WHEN I with pleasing Wonder stand,
And all my Frame survey,
Lord, 'tis thy Work : I own, thy Hand
Thus built my humble Clay.

Thy Hand my Heart and Reins possessest
Where unborn Nature grew,
Thy Wisdom all my Features trac'd,
And all my Members drew.

Thine Eye with nicest Care survey'd
The Growth of every Part ;
Till the whole Scheme thy Thoughts had
Was copy'd by thy Art. . (lay'd

But I review my Self, and find
Diviner Wonders still.

 Lord, to thy Works of Nature join
 Thy Miracles of Grace.

PSALM CXXXIX. 14, 17, 18. Third Part.
 Common Metre.

The Mercies of God innumerable.

An Evening Psalm.

I.

LORD, when I count thy Mercies o'er,
 They strike me with Surprize ;
 Not all the Sands that spread the Shore
 To equal Numbers rise.

II.

My Flesh with Fear and Wonder stands,
 The Product of thy Skill,
 And hourly Blessings from thy Hands
 Thy Thoughts of Love reveal.

III.

These on my Heart by Night I keep ;
 How kind, how dear to me !
 O may the Hour that ends my Sleep
 Still find my Thoughts with Thee.

PSALM CXLI. v. 2, 3, 4, 5.

Watchfulness, and Brotherly Reproof.

A Morning or Evening Psalm.

I.

MY God, accept my early Vows,
 Like Morning-Incense in thine House
 And.

And let my nightly Worship rise
Sweet as the Evening Sacrifice.

II.

Watch o'er my Lips, and guard them, Lord,
From every rash and heedless Word;
Nor let my Feet incline to tread
The guilty Path where Sinners lead.

III.

O may the Righteous, when I stray,
Smite, and reprove my wandering Way!
Their gentle Words, like Ointment shed,
Shall never bruise but cheer my Head.

IV.

When I behold them prest with Grief,
I'll cry to Heaven for their Relief;
And by my warm Petitions prove
How much I prize their faithfull Love.

P S A L M CXLII.

God is the Hope of the Helpless.

I.

To God I made my Sorrows known,
From God I sought Relief;
In long Complaints before his Throne
I pour'd out all my Grief.

II.

My Soul was overwhelm'd with Woes,
My Heart began to break;
My God who all my Burdens knows,
He knows the Way I take.

III.

III.

On every Side I cast mine Eye,
 And found my Helpers gone,
 While Friends and Strangers past me by Neglected or unknown.

IV.

Then did I raise a louder Cry,
 And call'd thy Mercy near,
 " Thou art my Portion when I dy,
 " Be thou my Refuge here.

V.

Lord, I am brought exceeding low,
 Now let thine Ear attend,
 And make my Foes who vex me know
 I've an Almighty Friend.

VI.

From my sad Prison set me free,
 Then shall I praise thy Name
 And holy Men shall join with me
 Thy Kindness to proclaim.

P S A L M CXLIII

Complaint of heavy Afflictions in Mind and Body.

I.

My righteous Judge, my gracious God,
 Hear when I spread my Hands abroad
 And cry for Succour from thy Throne,
 O make thy Truth and Mercy known.

II.

Let Judgment not against me pass ;
 Behold thy Servant pleads thy Grace :
 Should

Should Justice call us to thy Bar,
No Man alive is guiltless there.

III.

Look down in Pity, Lord, and see
The mighty Woes that burden me ;
Down to the Dust my Life is brought,
Like One long bury'd and forgot.

IV.

I dwell in Darkness and unseen,
My Heart is desolate within :
My Thoughts in musing Silence trace
The antient Wonders of thy Grace.

V.

Thence I derive a Glimpse of Hope
To bear my sinking Spirits up ;
I stretch my Hands to God again,
And thirst like parched Lands for Rain.

VI.

For Thee I thirst, I pray, I mourn ;
When will thy smiling Face return ?
Shall all my Joys on Earth remove ?
And God for ever hide his Love ?

VII.

My God, thy long Delay to save
Will sink thy Prisoner to the Grave ;
My Heart grows faint, and dim mine Eye ;
Make hast to help before I die.

VIII.

The Night is Witness to my Tears,
Distressing Pains, distressing Fears ;
O might I hear thy Morning-voice,
How would my wearied Powers rejoice !

IX.

In Thee I trust, to Thee I sigh,
And lift my heavy Soul on high;
For Thee sit waiting all the Day,
And wear the tiresome Hours away.

X.

Break off my Fetters, Lord, and show
Which is the Path my Feet shou'd go;
If Snares and Foes beset the Road,
I flee to hide me near my God.

XI.

Teach me to do thy holy Will,
And lead me to thy heavenly Hill;
Let the good Spirit of thy Love
Conduct me to thy Courts above.

XII.

Then shall my Soul no more complain,
The Tempter then shall rage in vain;
And Flesh, that was my Foe before,
Shall never vex my Spirit more.

PSALM CXLIV. First Part. v. 1, 2.
Assistance and Victory in the Spiritual Warfare.

I.

FOR ever blessed be the Lord,
My Saviour and my Shield;
He sends his Spirit with his Word
To Arm me for the Field.

II.

When Sin and Hell their Force unite,
He makes my Soul his Care,
Instructs me to the heavenly Fight,
And guards me thro' the War.

III.

A Friend and Helper so divine
 Doth my weak Courage raise ;
 He makes the glorious Victory mine,
 And his shall be the Praise.

The Sense of a great part of this Psalm is found often repeated in the Book of Psalms. I have therefore only taken three small parts of it, and form'd three distinct Hymns on very different Subjects.

PSALM CXLIV. Second Part. v. 3, 4, 5, 6.
The Vanity of Man and Condescension of God.

I.

LORD, what is Man, poor feeble Man,
 Born of the Earth at first ?
 His Life a Shadow, light and vain,
 Still hasting to the Dust.

II.

O what is feeble dying Man
 Or any of his Race,
 That God should make it his Concern
 To visit him with Grace ?

III.

That God who darts his Lightnings down,
 Who shakes the Worlds above,
 And Mountains tremble at his Frown,
 How wondrous is his Love !

PSALM CXLIV. Third Part. v. 12--15.
Grace above Riches ; or, the happy Nation.

I.

HAPPY the City, where their Sons
 Like Pillars round a Palace set,
 And Daughters bright as polish'd Stones
 Give Strength and Beauty to the State.

II.

Happy the Country, where the Sheep,
Cattle, and Corn have large Increase ;
Where Men securely work or sleep,
Nor Sons of Plunder break the Peace.

III.

Happy the Nation thus endow'd,
But more divinely blest are those
On whom the All-Sufficient God
Himself with all his Grace bestows.

PSALM CXLV. Long Metre.
The Greatness of God.

I.

My God, my King, thy various Praise
Shall fill the Remnant of thy Days ;
Thy Grace employ my humble Tongue
Till Death and Glory raise the Song.

II.

The Wings of every Hour shall bear
Some thankfull Tribute to thine Ear ;
And every setting Sun shall see
New Works of Duty done for Thee.

III.

Thy Truth and Justice I'll proclaim ;
Thy Bounty flows, an endless Stream ;
Thy Mercy swift ; thine Anger slow
But dreadful to the stubborn Foe.

IV.

Thy Works with sovereign Glory shine :
And speak thy Majesty divine ;
Let Britain round her Shores proclaim
The Sound and Honour of thy Name,

V.

Let distant Times and Nations raise
 The long Succession of thy Praise;
 And unborn Ages make my Song
 The Joy and Labour of their Tongue.

VI.

But who can speak thy wondrous Deeds?
 Thy Greatness all our Thoughts exceeds;
 Vast and unsearchable thy Ways,
 Vast and immortal be thy Praise.

*The Verses of this Psalm are here transposed in this manner;
 (viz.) 1, 2, 7, 8, 5, 6, 4, 3.*

PSALM CLXV. 1--7. 11--13. First Part.

The Greatness of God.

I.

LONG as I live I'll bless thy Name,
 My King, my God of Love;
 My Work and Joy shall be the same
 In the bright World above.

II.

Great is the Lord, his Power unknown,
 And let his Praise be great:
 I'll sing the Honours of thy Throne,
 Thy Works of Grace repeat.

III.

Thy Grace shall dwell upon my Tongue;
 And while my Lips rejoice,
 The Men that hear my sacred Song
 Shall join their chearfull Voice.

IV.

Fathers to Sons shall teach thy Name,
 And Children learn thy Ways;

Ages

Ages to come thy Truth proclaim,
And Nations sound thy Praise.

V.

Thy glorious Deeds of antient Date
Shall thro' the World be known;
Thine Arm of Power, thy heavenly State
With publick Splendor shown.

VI.

The World is manag'd by thy Hands,
Thy Saints are rul'd by Love;
And thine Eternal Kingdom stands
Tho' Rocks and Hills remove.

PSALM CXLV. Second Part.

The Goodness of God.

I.

SWEET is the Memory of thy Grace,
My God, my heavenly King;
Let Age to Age thy Righteousness
In Sounds of Glory sing.

II.

God reigns on high, but not confines
His Goodness to the Skies;
Thro' the whole Earth his Bounty shines
And every Want supplies.

III.

With longing Eyes thy Creatures wait
On Thee for daily Food,
Thy liberal Hand provides their Meat
And fills their Mouths with Good.

IV.

How kind are thy Compassions Lord!
How slow thine Anger moves!

But

But soon he sends his pardoning Word
To cheer the Souls he loves.

V.

Creatures with all their endless Race
Thy Power and Praise proclaim ;
But Saints that taste thy richer Grace
Delight to bless thy Name.

The Verses of the Psalm are here transposed thus 7, 9, 15, 16, 8, 10.

PSALM CXLV. 14, 17. &c. Third Part.
Mercy to Sufferers ; or, God hearing Prayer.

I.

LET every Tongue thy Goodness speak,
Thou sovereign Lord of all ;
Thy strengthening Hands uphold the Weak,
And raise the Poor that fall.

II.

When Sorrow bows the Spirit down,
Or Virtue lies Distrest
Beneath some proud Oppressor's Frown,
Thou giv'st the Mourners Rest.

III.

The Lord supports our tottering Days,
And guides our giddy Youth ;
Holy and just are all his Ways,
And all his Words are Truth.

IV.

He knows the Pains his Servants feel,
He hears his Children cry,
And their best Wishes to fulfill
His Grace is ever nigh.

V.

V.

His Mercy never shall remove
 From Men of Heart sincere ;
 He saves the Souls whose humble Love
 Is joyn'd with holy Fear.

VI.

[His stubborn Foes his Sword shall slay,
 And pierce their Hearts with Pain ;
 But None that serve the Lord shall say,
 " They sought his Aid in vain.]

VII.

[My Lips shall dwell upon his Praise,
 And spread his Fame abroad ;
 Let all the Sons of Adam raise
 The Honours of their God.]

The various Transpositions that I have made in several Parts of this Psalm were necessary to divide it into proper Lengths for publick worship, and to reduce the Verses of a like Sense together.

P S A L M CXLVI. Long Metre.
Praise to God for his Goodness and Truth.

I.

PRAISE ye the Lord my Heart shall join
 In Work so pleasant, so divine,
 Now while the Flesh is mine abode,
 And when my Soul ascends to God.

II.

Praise shall employ my noblest Powers
 While Immortality endures :
 My days of Praise shall ne'er be past,
 While Life and Thought and Being last.

III.

III.

Why should I make a Man my Trust ?
Princes must die and turn to Dust ;
Their Breath departs, their Pomp & Power
And Thoughts all vanish in an Hour.

IV.

Happy the Man whose Hopes rely
On Israel's God : He made the Sky,
And Earth and Seas with all their Train,
And None shall find his Promise vain.

V.

His Truth for ever stands secure :
He saves th' Opprest, he feeds the Poor;
He sends the labouring Conscience Peace,
And grants the Prisoner sweet Release.

VI.

The Lord hath Eyes to give the Blind ;
The Lord supports the sinking Mind :
He helps the Stranger in Distress,
The Widow and the Fatherless.

VII.

He loves his Saints; he knows them well,
But turns the Wicked down to Hell :
Thy God, O Zion, ever reigns ;
Praise him in everlasting Strains.

This Psalm consists so much of single Sentences that a small and easy Transposition of the Verses with a very few Lines added will afford a Metre to the Tune of the 113th Psalm, with a Repetition of the first Stanza at the End to compleat the Tune, as follows.

PSALM CXLVI. as the 113th Psalm.
Praise to God for his Goodness and Truth.

I.

I'll praise my Maker with my Breath ;
 And when my Voice is lost in Death
 Praise shall employ my nobler Powers :
 My Days of Praise shall ne'er be past
 While Life and Thought and Being last,
 Or Immortality endures.

II.

Why should I make a Man my Trust ?
 Princes must die and turn to Dust ;
 Vain is the Help of Flesh and Blood ;
 Their Breath departs, their Pomp & Power
 And Thoughts all vanish in an Hour,
 Nor can they make their Promise good

III.

Happy the Man whose Hopes rely
 On Isral's God : He made the Sky,
 And Earth and Seas with all their Train :
 His 'Truth for ever stands secure ;
 He 'saves th' Opprest, he feeds the Poor,
 And None shall find his Promise vain.

IV.

The Lord hath Eyes to give the Blind ;
 The Lord supports the sinking Mind ;
 He sends the labouring Conscience Peace :
 He helps the Stranger in Distress,
 The Widow and the Fatherless,
 And grants the Prisoner sweet Release.

V.

He loves his Saints; he knows them well,
But turns the Wicked down to Hell:

Thy God O Zion ever reigns:
Let every Tongue, let every Age
In this exalted Work engage;
Praise him in everlasting Strains.

VI.

I'll praise him while he lends me Breath,
And when my Voice is lost in Death

Praise shall employ my nobler Powers:
My Days of Praise shall ne'er be past
While Life and Thought and Being last,
Or Immortality endures.

P S A L M CXLVII. First Part.

The Divine Nature, Providence and Grace.

I.

PRAISE ye the Lord: 'Tis good to raise
Our Hearts and Voices in his Praise:
His Nature and his Works invite
To make his Duty our Delight.

II.

The Lord builds up Jerusalem,
And gathers Nations to his Name:
His Mercy melts the stubborn Soul,
And makes the broken Spirit whole.

III.

He form'd the Stars, those heavenly Flames,
He counts their Numbers, calls their Names:
His Wisdom vast, and knows no Bound,
A Deep where all our Thoughts are drown'd.

S

IV.

IV.

'Great is our Lord, and great his Might;
And all his Glories infinite :
He crowns the Meek, rewards the Just,
And treads the Wicked to the Dust.

P A U S E.

V.

Sing to the Lord, exalt him high,
Who spreads his Cloud all round the Sky;
There he prepares the fruitfull Rain,
Nor lets the Drops descend in vain.

VI.

He makes the Grass the Hills adorn,
And cloaths the smiling Fields with Corn.
The Beasts with Food his Hands supply,
And the young Ravens when they Cry.

VII.

What is the Creatures Skill or Force,
The sprightly Man, the warlike Horse,
The nimble Wit, the active Limb ?
All are too mean Delights for Him.

VIII.

But Saints are lovely in his Sight ;
He views his Children with delight :
He sees their Hope, he knows their Fear;
And looks and loves his Image there.

P S A L M CXLVII. Second Part.

Summer and Winter.

A Song for Great Britain.

O Britain, praise thy mighty God,
And make his Honours known abroad;
He

He bid the Ocean round thee flow ;
Not Bars of Brass could guard thee so.

II.

Thy Children are secure and blest ;
Thy Shores have Peace, thy Cities Rest ;
He feeds thy Sons with finest Wheat,
And adds his Blessing to their Meat.

III.

Thy changing Seasons he Ordains,
Thine early and thy later Rains :
His Flakes of Snow like Wool he sends,
And thus the springing Corn defends.

IV.

With hoary Frost he strows the Ground ;
His Hail descends with clattering Sound :
Where is the Man so vainly bold
That dares defy his dreadful Cold ?

V.

He bids the Southern Breezes blow,
The Ice dissolves, the Waters flow :
But he hath nobler Works and Ways
To call the Britons to his Praise.

VI.

To all the Isle his Laws are shown,
His Gospel thro' the Nation known ;
He hath not thus reveal'd his Word
To every Land : Praise ye the Lord.

PSALM CXL VII. 7--9. 13--18. Common Metre.

I.

The Seasons of the Year.

WITH Songs and Honours sounding loud
Address the Lord on high :

Over the Heavens he spreads his Cloud,
And Waters veil the Sky.

II.

He sends his Show'rs of Blessing down
To cheer the Plains below;
He makes the Grass the Mountains crown,
And Corn in Valleys grow.

III.

He gives the grazing Ox his Meat,
He hears the Ravens cry;
But Man who tastes his finest Wheat
Should raise his Honours high.

IV.

His steady Counsels change the Face
Of the declining Year;
He bids the Sun cut short his Race,
And wintry Days appear.

V.

His heavy Frost, his fleecy Snow
Descend and cloath the Ground;
The liquid Streams forbear to flow,
In icy Fetters bound.

VI.

When from his dreadfull Stores on high
He scurs the rattling Hail,
The Wretch that dares this God defy
Shall find his Courage fail.

VII.

He sends his Word and melts the Snow,
The Fields no longer mourn;
He calls the warmer Gales to blow,
And bids the Spring return.

VIII.

VIII.

The changing Wind, the flying Cloud
Obey his mighty Word :
With Songs and Honours sounding loud
Praise ye the sovereign Lord.

PSALM CXLVIII. Proper Metre.

Praise to God from all Creatures.

I.

YE Tribes of Adam, join
With Heaven and Earth and Seas,
And offer Notes divine
To your Creator's Praise.
Ye holy Throng
Of Angels bright
In Worlds of Light
Begin the Song.

II.

Thou Sun with dazling Rays,
And Moon that rules the Night,
Shine to your Maker's Praise,
With Stars of twinkling Light.

His Power declare,
Ye Floods on high,
And Clouds that fly
In empty Air.

III.

The shining Worlds above
In glorious Order stand,
Or in swift Courses move
By his supreme Command.

He spake the Word,
And all their Frame

From Nothing came
To praise the Lord.

IV.

He mov'd their mighty Wheels
In unknown Ages past,
And each his Word fulfills
While Time and Nature last.

In different Ways
His Works proclaim
His wondrous Name,
And speak his Praise.

P A U S E.

V.

Let all the Earth-born Race,
And Monsters of the Deep,
The Fish that cleave the Seas,
Or in their Bosom sleep,
From Sea and Shore
Their Tribute pay,
And still display
Their Maker's Power.

VI.

Ye Vapours, Hail and Snow,
Praise ye th' Almighty Lord,
And stormy Winds that blow
To execute his Word.

When Lightnings shine,
Or Thunders roar,
Let Earth adore
His Hand divine.

VII.

Ye Mountains near the Skies,
 With lofty Cedars there,
 And Trees of humbler Size
 That Fruit in plenty bear,
 Beasts wild and tame,
 Birds, Flies and Worms,
 In various Forms
 : Exalt his Name.

VIII

Ye Kings, and Judges fear
 The Lord, the sovereign King ;
 And while you rule us here
 His heavenly Honours sing :
 Nor let the Dream
 Of Power and State
 Make you forget
 His Power supreme.

IX.

Virgins and Youths, engage
 To sound his Praise divine,
 While Infancy and Age
 Their feeble Voices join ;
 Wide as he reigns
 His Name be Sung
 By every Tongue
 In endless Strains.

X.

Let all the Nations fear
 The God that rules above,
 He brings his People near,
 And makes them taste his Love :

While Earth and Sky
 Attempt his Praise
 His Saints shall raise
 His Honours high.

P S A L M CXLVIII. Paraphras'd in
 Long Metre.

Universal Praise to God.

I.

L OUD Hallelujahs to the Lord (dwell:
 From distant Worlds where Creatures
 Let Heaven begin the solemn Word,
 And sound it dreadfull down to Hell.

*Note, This Psalm may be sung to the Tune of the old 112th.
 or 127th Psalm if these two Lines be added to every Stanza (viz.)*

Each of his Works his Name displays,
 But they can ne'er fulfill the Praise.

otherwise it must be Sung to the usual Tunes of the Long Met.

II.

'The Lord! how absolute he reigns!
 Let every Angel bend the Knee;
 Sing of his Love in heavenly Strains,
 And speak how fierce his Terrours be.

III.

High on a Throne his Glories dwell,
 An awfull Throne of shining Bliss:
 Fly thro' the World, O Sun, and tell
 How dark thy Beams compared to his.

IV.

Awake ye Tempests, and his Fame
 In Sounds of dreadfull Praise declare;
 And the sweet Whisper of his Name
 Fill every gentler Breeze of Air.

V.

Let Clouds and Winds and Waves agree
To join their Praise with blazing Fire ;
While the firm Earth and rolling Sea
In this eternal Song conspire.

VI.

Ye flowry Plains, proclaim his Skill ;
Valleys ly low before his Eye ;
And let his Praise from ev'ry Hill
Rise tunefull to the Neighbouring Sky.

VII.

Ye stubborn Oaks, and stately Pines,
Bend your high Branches and adore :
Praise him, ye Beasts, in different Strains ;
The Lamb must bleat, the Lion roar.

VIII.

Birds, ye must make his Praise your Theme,
Nature demands a Song from you :
While the dumb Fish that cut the Stream
Leap up and mean his Praises too.

IX.

Mortals, can you refrain your Tongue,
When Nature all around you sings ?
O for a Shout from Old and Young,
From humble Swains, and lofty Kings !

X.

Wide as his vast Dominion lies
Make the Creator's Name be known ;
Loud as his Thunder shout his Praise,
And sound it lofty as his Throne.

XI.

XI.

Jehovah ! 'tis a glorious Word,
 O may it dwell on every Tongue !
 But Saints who best have known the Lord
 Are bound to raise the noblest Song.

XII.

Speak of the Wonders of that Love
 Which Gabriel plays on every Chord :
 From all Below and all Above,
 Loud Hallelujahs to the Lord.

P S A L M CXLVIII. Short Metre.

Universal Praise.

I.

LET every Creature join
 To praise th' eternal God ;
 Ye heavenly Hosts, the Song begin,
 And sound his Name abroad.

II.

Thou Sun with golden Beams,
 And Moon with paler Rays,
 Ye starry Lights, ye twinkling Flames,
 Shine to your Maker's Praise.

III.

He built those Worlds above,
 And fixt their wondrous Frame ;
 By his Command they stand or move,
 And ever speak his Name.

IV.

Ye Vapours, when ye rise,
 Or fall in Show'rs of Snow,
 Ye Thunders murmuring round the Skies,
 His Power and Glory show.

V.

Wind, Hail, and flashing Fire,
Agree to praise the Lord,
When ye in dreadfull Storms conspire
To execute his Word.

VI.

By all his Works above
His Honours be exprest ;
But Saints that taste his saving Love
Should sing his Praises best.

P A U S E I.

VII.

Let Earth and Ocean know
They owe their Maker Praise ;
Praise him, ye watry Worlds below,
And Monsters of the Seas.

VIII.

From Mountains near the Sky
Let his high Praise resound,
From humble Shrubs and Cedars high,
And Vales and Fields around.

IX.

Ye Lions of the Wood,
And tamer Beasts that graze,
Ye live upon his daily Food,
And he expects your Praise.

X.

Ye Birds of lofty Wing,
On high his Praises bear ;
Or sit on flowry Boughs, and sing
Your Maker's Glory there.

XI.

Ye creeping Ants and Worms,
 His various Wisdom show,
 And Flies in all your shining Swarms,
 Praise him that dress'd you so.

XII.

By all the Earth-born Race
 His Honours be exprest,
 But Saints that know his heavenly Grace
 Should learn to praise him best.

P A U S E II.

XIII.

Monarchs of wide Command,
 Praise ye th' eternal King,
 Judges, adore that sovereign Hand
 Whence all your Honours spring.

XIV.

Let vigorous Youth engage
 To sound his Praises high ;
 While growing Babes and withering Age
 Their feeble Voices try.

XV.

United Zeal be shown
 His wondrous Fame to raise ;
 God is the Lord : his Name alone
 Deserves our endless Praise.

XVI.

Let Nature join with Art,
 And all pronounce him Blest,
 But Saints that dwell so near his Heart
 Should sing his Praises best.

PSALM CXLIX.

Praise God, all his Saints ; or, The Saints judging the World.

I.

ALL ye that love the Lord rejoice,
And let your Songs be new ;
Amidst the Church with chearfull Voice
His later Wonders shew.

II.

The Jews, the People of his Grace,
Shall their Redeemer sing ;
And Gentile Nations join the Praise
While Zion owns her King.

III.

The Lord takes Pleasure in the Just,
Whom Sinners treat with Scorn :
The Meek that ly despis'd in Dust
Salvation shall adorn.

IV.

Saints should be joyfull in their King
Even on a dying Bed ;
And like the Souls in Glory sing,
For God shall raise the Dead.

V.

Then his high Praise shall fill their Tongues,
Their Hands shall wield the Sword ;
And Vengeance shall attend their Songs,
The Vengeance of the Lord.

VI.

When Christ his Judgment-seat ascends,
And bids the World appear,
Thrones

Thrones are prepar'd for all his Friends
Who humbly lov'd him here.

VII.

Then shall they Rule with Iron-Rod
Nations that dar'd rebell;
And join the Sentence of their God,
On Tyrants doom'd to Hell.

VIII.

The Royal Sinners bound in Chains
New Triumphs shall afford;
Such Honour for the Saints remains:
Praise ye, and love the Lord.

This Psalm seems to be Written to encourage the Jews in their Wars against the Heathen Princes of Canaan, who were Divinely Sentenced to Destruction. But the four last Verses of it have been too much abused in later Ages to promote Sedition and Disturbance in the State, so that I chuse to refer this Honour that is here given to all the Saints to the Day of Judgment, according to those expressions in the New Testament. Mat. 19. 28. Ye shall sit on twelve Thrones Judging the Tribes, &c. 1 Cor. 6. 3. We shall Judge Angels. Rev. 2. 27. & 3. 21. I will give him power over the Nations, he shall rule them with a Rod of Iron, &c.

PSALM CL. 1, 2, 6.

A Song of Praise.

I.

IN God's own House pronounce his Praise,
His Grace He there reveals;
To Heaven your Joy and Wonder raise,
For there his Glory dwells.

II.

Let all your sacred Passions move,
While you rehearse his Deeds;
But the great Work of saving Love
Your highest Praise exceeds.

III.

All that have Motion, Life and Breath,
Proclaim your Maker Blest ;
Yet when my Voice expires in Death,
My Soul shall praise him best.

*The greatest part of this Psalm suits not my chief Design:
I have therefore imitated only the two first Verses and the last a short Doxology or Song of Praise.*

AN INDEX,

O. R

TABLE to find a Psalm suited to particular SUBJECTS or OCCASIONS.

Note, In this Table I have not directed to the several Parts or Metres of the Psalm, lest it should breed too great a Confusion of figures. What is sought in any Psalm may easily be found by turning a Leaf or two backward or forward to the distinct Parts or Metres.

If you find not what Word you seek in this Table, seek another of the same Signification: Or, seek it under some of the more general Words, such as God, Christ, Church, Saints, Psalm, Prayer, Praise, Affliction, Grace, Deliverance, Death, &c.

ALL ye that love the Lord, rejoice
Almighty Ruler of the Skies
Amidst thy Wrath remember Love
Among the Assemblies of the Great
Among the Princes Earthly Gods
And will the God of Grace
Are all the Foes of Sion Fools
Are Sinners now so senseless grown
Arise my Gracious God
Awake, ye Saints: To praise your King
